MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

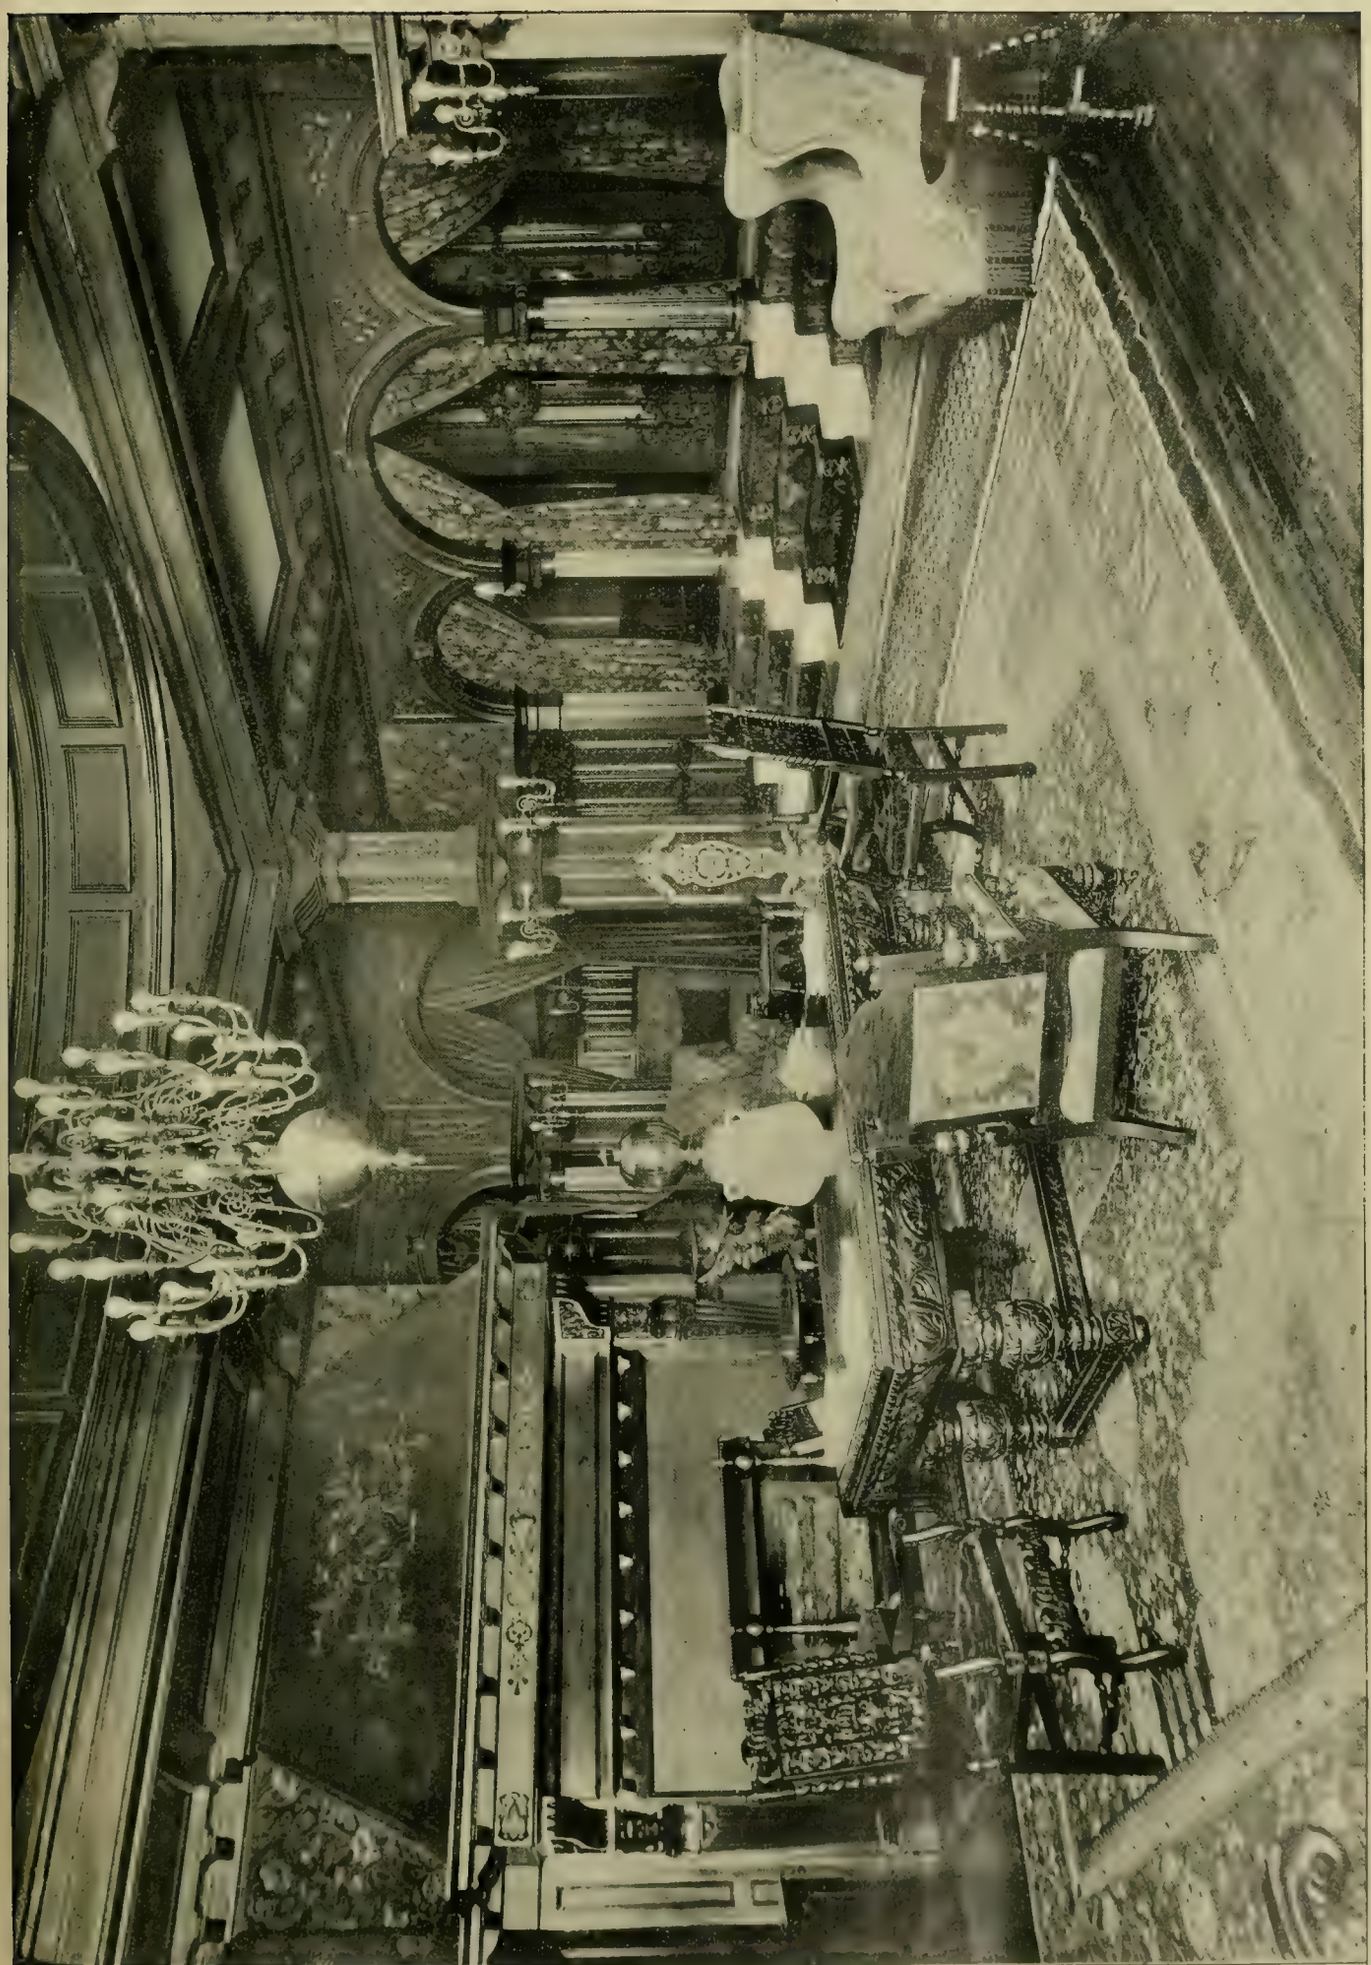
BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—During the past week there has been a very tame market; buyers have been decidely indifferent in their operations, and as supplies have been arriving freely there have been further accumulations in receivers' hands, and the general tone of the market has been easy with the quotations for specials lower 12½c. per M.—$5.12½c. For ordinary up river brick, $4@4.50 have been the prices quoted, and the better grades have sold at $4.62½@5.00. We heard some talk of a reported movement to have maufacturers hold back their shipments in consequence of the absence of tone to the market at present, but it was the general impression of the trade that it would amount to nothing and that bricks would continue to come forward as freely as ever. Good pale bricks have had a fairly good call and prices have ruled steady at $2.0); the poorer grades, however, have moved slowly and have ranged from $1.50 to $1.25 in price. A limited amount of business was transacted in the better grades of Jersey bricks at $4.00@4.25; the poorer grades have ranged from $3.50@3.87½, according to quality.

CEMENT.—The changes in the general situation of the market have been few and unimportant. Only a very moderate inquiry has been reported for Rosendale cement, but prices have held about steady. The demand for domestic Portland cement has continued fairly extensive at full quoted prices and foreign do. have also had a fair call.



GLASS.—Demand for window glass has shown if anything a slight improvement, still the amount of business transacted has been only moderate, but prices have been steadily maintained. The imports of foreign glass have been reported as large. There has been slightly more interest shown in the market for plate glass, but there is room for a further improvement in demand before an average business will be reached.

IRON AND STEEL.—No improvement can be reported as regards business; in fact demand has continued of very moderate proportions and the weakness in tone noted for some time past has finally resulted in a lowering of quotations 50c. per ton. We understand that some Southern producers have latterly been pressing pig iron for sale and offering supplies at lower prices. Northern iron, however, has not been affected seriously. We quote at $11.50@12.50 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $11.25@11.75 for No. 2 X do., and $10.75@11.25 for Gray Forge. For old material there has been a moderately active demand and prices have been maintained with some show of steadiness. We quote at $13.00@13.50 for old iron rails; $11.50@12.00 for No 1 wrought scrap; $11.00@11.50 for cast scrap; $12.25@12.50 for old car wheels, and $7.00@9.50 for borings, stove plate, etc. The market for manufactured iron and steel has been without changes of importance. Business generally has continued slow, although in one or two instances we have heard of moderate orders placed. Steel rails have been unchanged and fairly steady with $28 quoted f. o. b. mills.

LATH.—The market has been without changes of importance. There has been very little activity to the demand, but as arrivals have not been large there has been no stock pressing for sale and prices have ruled steady, selling at $1.60@1.65 on 'Change, and up to $1.70 was paid by out-of-town buyers.

LIME.—There has been a slightly easier market. Supplies arriving have been moderate, but demand has been very limited, and while no changes have been made in quotations, 65@70c. for common Thomaston and Rockland, and 75@80c. for finishing do. do. We understand that the outside quotation has been somewhat extreme.

LUMBER.—The general market has been absolutely without change. Business has continued on a decidedly small scale, as buyers have been confining their operations to their most urgent needs, taking only sufficient supplies to fill their immediate requirements; in fact there has continued a general absence of life to the market in consequence of the uneasiness shown in financial circles over the present agitation in favor of free silver, and merchants generally agree that no

WITH SUPPLEMENT.

AFTER five or six weeks of silver scare, during which gold went abroad in a threatening way and a panic was only prevented by the adoption of measures to protect the Treasury gold reserve and to check the exports of gold, and prices on the stock market crumbled under persistent selling and little or no demand, we are apparently to have a change for the better. The opening of the Republican campaign and the moderation of the views expressed by Republican leaders on the tariff question serve not only to distract people's minds from the threats of repudiation and legislative revolution involved in the Chicago and the populistic St. Louis platforms, but also encourage belief in the final triumph of the sound money candidates. There is not a bit of doubt of the success of the gold issue if it is placed before the country in a comprehensive and vigorous way and its adherents are united. The practical work of the campaign as begun by the representative of the Republican party, seems, now to have taken a satisfactory start, and the effect of this is already seen in the strengthening of prices on the stock market. It looks as if there will be a substantial recovery from the low quotations of the past week. There is, however, reason to be cautious. Confidence will not fully return until the election has taken place, and there are already in sight matters which may give the bears material for renewing their attacks on prices. The journey of the silver candidate to this city and his reception here are likely to revive the fears of the timid. But the most serious of these matters is the talk of the nomination of a third candidate by the sound money Democrats. Should this actually result in a nomination the immediate consequences to quoted prices in all the exchanges and to general business would be very serious, and if anything is calculated to secure the election of the silver nominee this is Looking at the question from the standpoint of trade purely, it is to be hoped that fair concessions on the part of the Republican managers and a careful consideration of the consequences of their opposition on the part of the Democrats will keep the field clear of dissensions among the advocates of sound money.

WHILE trade is flourishing throughout Europe finance applying that somewhat general term to all those operations that relate to bourse and banking transactions, is not quite satisfactory. From various causes a good deal of nervousness has cropped up and, if signs have their normal portent, a setback in the monetary centres is at hand, to be followed by a falling off in trade later on, as is usually the case. The inability of the Australian banks to carry out the plans of reorganization arranged three years ago cannot fail to have a bad effect in Great Britian, and especially in Scotland, where most of the credits which were converted into bank preference shares came from. London must also feel the effects of the continued decline in American securities and the poor facilities offered by our market for realizations. The fear of the Populistic-Socialist movement here, which the Eastern States have betrayed so markedly since the nomination of Mr. Bryan, will carry its infection across the Atlantic if persisted in. Berlin is beginning to groan under bourse laws, and the political conditions in the Balkan provinces are, like our currency troubles, a constant wet-blanket and hindrance to commercial progress. The intermittent and distributed rebellion in the Turkish dominions keeps alive anticipations of complications among the great powers, so that every skirmish between a Turkish patrol and a Christian band is used as a bear argument on all the markets where the securities of European governments are dealt in. The Russian loan, arranged in Berlin, and from which it was ostentatiously proclaimed that London was excluded, although Paris was to get a part, was not a significant success. The fact of the matter is that Russia has been straining her credit for years. After exhausting London she went to Paris, and that centre, becoming cold under too frequent requests, an attack was made upon Berlin's reserve, apparently with satisfactory results so far as that centre is concerned this time. Russia is a good deal like some of our railroad companies used to be, very secretive about her condition. She has piled up a great debt, and in order to obtain further help must show more confidence in her statements to the world.

OWING to the facts that they are considered merely tentative and that the public mind is almost entirely absorbed by the currency issue, the opening chapters of the draft charter for the Greater New York are not receiving either from the New York press or public the attention they deserve. These five chapters are summarized elsewhere. So far as can be judged by this preliminary sample, the underlying ideas in the minds of the Sub-Committee on Draft of the Greater New York Commission are to secure home rule for the consolidated city and to distribute the cost of maintenance so that one portion shall not be burdened with expenses that properly should be borne by another. It is doubtful, however, if the means they suggest are those which will carry out those two ideas properly. The new machinery they would create, the second chamber to the Board of Aldermen, and the borough boards, are not given sufficient scope or power, while the Mayor is rather unduly endowed with both. The retention of the departments is an obstacle to giving the new municipal council that power and dignity that should bring to its membership the best elements in the city. Until some explanation comes from the Sub-Committee on Draft, it is hard to see where the necessity for a second chamber arises, if the duties of the new municipal body are not to be much, if anything, greater than are those of the present Board of Aldermen. If New York City wants anything it is a simplification of its official system and, if possible, a reduction of the number of people, not experts, who are drawing large salaries. The principle of making the central municipal board respectable by taking away its powers has not been very successful. If we want to see seats in the municipal assembly sought for by the best elements of the people it must be trusted. If dignity does not always accompany power, it does so sufficiently often to make the one, in the ordinary practice, a highly probable precedent of the other. It is therefore worth considering whether much of the power, especially in the control of departmental work and the appointment of the proper officers, which it is proposed to give the Mayor, could not with more propriety be put upon the municipal assembly. The parts of the draft relating to these powers will assuredly undergo considerable revision in the Greater New York Commission and in the Legislature. Few will accept the theory that if Greater New York is to be endowed with a large form of home rule, all the means for this change are to be centered on the individual representative of the city to the exclusion of the collective representative.

THEN the delimitation of the borough boundaries is not satisfactory. To cut Manhattan Island up into four boroughs is merely to adopt the discarded parochial system of the old world, which has been a great obstacle to modern improvement. If this system is to be finally adopted and the borough boards are to have any powers, there should be only one borough below the Harlem. So far it does not appear to be the intention to give the borough board any authority, with the exception of selecting members to the municipal council, which the municipal assembly cannot override, and if this is always to be the case reasonable business men will wonder why they are to be created at all, unless it is to enable the borough halls to be built and borough clerks to be appointed at $2,000 a year apiece. If these boards are to have control over the paving, lighting and sanitation of their several boroughs, then the small boroughs become very objectionable indeed because of the friction that must incessantly arise between them over work that should be done simultaneously and evenly through all of them. For instance, a proposition to pave Broadway below 26th street, Bowling Green, in a certain manner, opposed by the borough north of that line, Manhattan, as it is proposed to call it, might create endless confusion. It would be better to prevent such difficulties from arising by enlarging the area of the borough than by giving the municipal assembly or the Mayor powers to intervene and determine. Another objection to the small borough is that residence within it is necessary to membership of the borough board; this would deprive at least the board having jurisdiction below 26th street of its best material. Under proper conditions the borough board system might work advantageously, but the creation of a new authority ought to enable us to dispense with some of the old, most probably through a rearrangement and redistribution of the work of the departments. If we have a charter which tries to create new machinery while retaining the old without adapting it to the new, we are going to get into the biggest muddle a municipality ever got into. One mistake of the Sub-Committee on Draft seems to be a want of confidence in elected representative bodies and another in pushing their work with so much rapidity that they have not time to think out the probable consequences of their suggestions if adopted.

IN any discussion of the subject of the disposal of the garbage of this city the crematorium will always suggest itself forcibly. It offers, most probably, the solution the city will be finally compelled to adopt. The Federal authorities are averse to immense masses of solid matter being thrown into the sea at the entrance to the port, with the likelihood of being washed back and increasing the difficulties of keeping the channels required for the passing in and out of shipping open and clear to the requisite depth. The practice is objectionable, too, in that it, owing also to the action of the tides, lessens the enjoyment of the coast resorts, which are in a large sense adjuncts of the city and agents for the preservation of the health and vigor of its inhabitants. The incineration of garbage is being successfully carried out by parochial and municipal bodies of England and by the municipal authorities of Hamburg and Berlin, and, while every case must be treated according to its own circumstances, there is probably no reason why it should not also be done here; at any rate, some experiments ought to be made to determine that point. The principle of the incinerating process of dealing with garbage is that the combustible matter it contains is sufficient to evaporate the water and to reduce the whole mass to an inorganic condition. In England it has been found that twenty-nine per cent. of the household refuse consists of half burnt coal, and this serves not only to dry and burn the garbage, but also, in some cases, to furnish surplus heat for driving electric lighting and pumping engines. In Germany the coal is much more economically used in households, but the refuse contains a proportion of paper, rags and wood chips sufficient to consume the garbage without the employment of additional fuel. In New York, with our extravagant domestic habits, it will doubtless be found that the household refuse contains much unburnt coal and other matter that would supply a heat intense enough not only to completely destroy the garbage, but also to do something more if any use can be found for it. Col. Waring's idea of turning this refuse to pecuniary advantage by selling rights to separate the valuable from the valueless portions is very commendable from his standpoint, but it is always open to the objection that the commercial view is not the wholly correct one in dealing with matter, parts of which may have come in contact with disease, and which as a whole may easily endanger health. It is the considerations involved in the last statement that makes cremation the most satisfactory solution of the difficulty. When once the garbage is deprived of its organic character there is no cause for the anxiety that will always accompany any other treatment.

The Monetary Problem.

Q.—In our last conversation you said the coinage of silver dollars, 16 to 1, full legal tender, would result in driving gold from circulation. What proof can you give of this?——A.—The universal experience of mankind. Wherever two moneys have circulated together, each full legal tender, but one intrinsically more valuable than the other, the poorer has invariably driven out the better. In making payments everyone naturally parts first with the least desirable coin.

Q.—In the history of our country have we had any experience of the poorer driving out the more valuable money?——A.—Yes, prior to 1835 the legal money of the United States was gold and silver, the latter coin at a ratio of 15 to 1. At this ratio gold was intrinsically more valuable than the silver dollar. In 1817 under these conditions gold disappeared from circulation. In 1835 more silver was put into the dollar, the ratio being 16 to 1. At this proportion the silver dollar was intrinsically more valuable than the gold, about two cents more valuable, and the result was the silver dollar disappeared from circulation, so that in 1873 a law was passed dropping the silver dollar from the list of United States coins. This is what the silverites call the crime of 1873. The silver dollar was abolished because, apparently, there was no need for it. It had gone out of use.

Q.—Has the market value of silver declined since 1873?——A.—Yes; it has fallen off about one-half.

Q.—Would not the free coinage of silver increase the market value of that metal precisely as an increase in the demand for boots raises the price of boots?——A.—You must remember that the price of your boots will not advance if there be a proportionate increase in production. The visible supply of silver is enormous, and there is little prospect that free coinage would permanently affect this value; but even if we admit that free coinage would increase the value of silver, it is impossible to conceive that the increase would be equivalent to the present value of the metal; an increase that would be necessary to make the gold and the silver dollar at 16 to 1 about equal.

Q.—What effect upon the market value of silver did the purchase of that metal have by the United States Government under the so-called Bland and Sherman acts?——A.—The price of silver declined, despite the Government's purchases of $2,000,000 worth a month under the former act and 4,500,000 ounces under the latter act.

Q.—Can the United States procure all the gold it needs?——A.—Why not? Do we not supply ourselves with the best silk the world offers, the finest wines and diamonds? All these things we are able to get, and there is no reason why we cannot obtain gold likewise. Gold is purchasable, like any other commodity, and goes, like any other commodity, to the market where it obtains the highest price. None of the great commercial nations of the world finds any difficulty in maintaining the gold standard, and we profess to be, and believe ourselves to be, the richest country in the world. With all our riches we ought to find no greater difficulty than Germany does in procuring and maintaining a sufficient supply of the yellow metal.

Work on the New Charter.

In accordance with a previously announced intention of making public parts of their work as completed from time to time, the Sub-Committee on Draft, of the Greater New York Commission, has issued the first five chapters of the charter they are preparing for submission to the Commission, when it meets next month. Both the public and the press withhold criticism of these five chapters for the reasons that, they can only be considered as suggestive or tentative, and that they in perhaps their most important feature, the creation of boroughs, disregard the opinions of the Commission as a whole, as it was understood to exist before adjournment. The principle involved in this feature is one that will certainly commend itself to the owners of New York realty, in that it proposes to throw the cost of purely local improvements on the locality benefited and removes, in part, one of their greatest objections to consolidation. There will, however, arise a doubt as to whether this proposition is not beyond the spirit and intention of the Consolidation Act of last year, and be likely, for that reason, to meet with opposition when it goes before the Legislature for approval.

The draft proposes to call the consolidated city, "The City of New York," and to divide it into nine boroughs, designated and defined as follows: Bowling Green, from the Battery to 26th street; Manhattan, 26th street to 59th street; Yorkville, 59th street to 110th street; Harlem, 110th street to Harlem River and Spuyten Duyvil Creek, including Randall's and Hart's islands; Bronx, the 23d and 24th wards. Brooklyn, 1st 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 20th, 21st, 22d, 23d, 29th, 30th and 31st wards of the city of Brooklyn; Williamsburgh, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th and 32d wards of the city of Brooklyn; Queens, that portion of Queens County included in the consolidation; Richmond, Richmond County. The new city is to take up all the duties, responsibilities, debts, etc., of the incorporated cities, towns, etc., and to acquire all their rights, properties, etc. The Legislative power of the city is to be vested in a Council and Board of Aldermen. The Council is to consist of nineteen members, including the president, who is to be elected by popular vote, and assume the duties now performed by the President of the Board of Aldermen. The remaining members are to be chosen by the Borough Boards described later on, two by each board. This would give the present New York City ten members in the Council against eight for the remainder of the territory in the consolidated city. There is also to be a Board of Aldermen, consisting of one member elected from each Assembly District and fraction of Assembly District within the consolidated city, and presided over by a president to be elected by the Board itself. Each head of an administrative department is to have a seat, but not a vote in the Board of Aldermen. The Clerk to the Council, and appointed by them, is to be the City Clerk and appoint the clerk to the Board of Aldermen. These two bodies are to be technically termed the Municipal Assembly of the City of New York, and every legislative act is to be by ordinance or resolution of each and to be approved by the Mayor. Their powers are to be generally those now possessed by the Board of Aldermen. They are also to be empowered among other things to require dealers in second-hand articles to take out a license and pay a fee therefor not exceeding $500 per annum. An important provision enables the Municipal Assembly to establish markets, make parks, build bridges, and to construct public buildings for the use of the city, but the proposition for creating debt for these purposes must first be approved by a majority vote of the electors of the city. Encroachments within the stoop lines, or the use of the streets for storing trucks during the night, can only be allowed with the consent of the owners of adjoining premises.

The Borough Boards [illegible] proposed [illegible] to consist of five members elected [illegible] the borough to be necessary [illegible] ing of office. Legislative action [illegible] ance or resolution and subject to the [illegible] whose veto is to be final. The jurisdiction [illegible] is to be confined to the borough for which [illegible] those subjects on which the cost and [illegible] be borne by the people or property, or any district or part thereof of such borough, except so far as by this act or by the Municipal Assembly, jurisdiction may be given over matters of local administration within such borough." The powers of these boards, except in the matter of electing members to the Council, seem to be subordinated to similar ones possessed by the Municipal Assembly. They are thus defined in Chapter III.:

Sec. 44. A Borough Board, subject to the restrictions hereinafter provided in the chapter on local improvements, shall have power to authorize proceedings to be taken to open, grade, pave, regrade, repave and repair the streets, avenues and public places within the borough; to flag or reflag, curb or recurb the sidewalks, and to relay crosswalks on such streets and avenues; for setting or resetting street lamps; to provide signs containing the names of the streets; to hear complaints of nuisances in such streets or avenues, or against disorderly houses, drinking saloons conducted without observance of the licenses therefor, gambling houses or any other places or congregations violative of good order or of the laws of this State, or other matters and things concerning the peace, comfort, order and good government respecting any neighborhood within the borough, and to pass such resolutions concerning the same as may be conformable to the powers of the Municipal Assembly and the respective administrative departments of the city of New York, and to aid such Municipal Assembly and departments in the discharge of their duties respecting the good government of the various sections of said borough.

All executive power is placed in the hands of the Mayor, who has power to remove at will the heads of any and every administrative department, with the exception of the Controller, who is to be elected at general elections and to be removable by the Governor. The Departments to be created are the following: Finance, Treasury, Audit, Law, Public Works, Public Charities, Corrections, Fire, Health, Public Parks, Taxes and Assessments, Street Cleaning and Education. It will be noticed that no mention is made of a Department of Buildings, which apparently is intended to be provided for in general appointive powers given the Mayor in addition to those specially provided by the charter. The powers of the Mayor are very much enlarged; he is made responsible for the good government of the city, and, therefore, all heads of departments are made responsible to him. His veto in minor matters can only be overcome by a two-thirds vote of each of the bodies comprising the Municipal Assembly, and by a five-sixth vote when the matter under consideration involves the expenditure of money or the creation of debt or the levying of a tax or assessment. He is given magisterial licensing, police and other necessary powers, and is only removable by the Governor in a certain prescribed form.

EXAMINATION OF PLANS NOT DELAYED.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

Sir:—A statement appeared in your issue of the 4th inst. to the effect that the continuation of the practice of commencing the erection of buildings before the approval of plans therefor "is defended in the trade on the ground that the plans are still often delayed in the Department beyond a reasonable time for their examination."

I beg to state positively that no such ground exists. It is true that in the beginning of last year there was some delay in approving the plans submitted to the Department. The reason therefor lay in the fact that nearly 600 plans had been filed in the Department during the last three months of the previous administration, upon which no action had been taken. Under such circumstances, it naturally took some time to bring the work up to date, and there resulted some delay in the examination of new plans. Now, however, plans are examined and pass through the routine of this Department more quickly than ever before, and no delay whatever occurs in having same approved, except through the fault of those submitting plans. The records of this Department show that in the last six months there were 500 more plans examined than were examined in the whole year of 1894, which was the last year of the previous administration.

Whenever a statement has been made to me that there is delay in the approval of plans, I have immediately made an investigation, and, with only two or three exceptions, have always found that the reason was due solely to the fact that necessary amendments, required by this Department before approval of the plans according to law could be given, had not been submitted when called for. On the submission of such amendments plans were immediately approved.

The following comparative statement will give some idea of the work done by the Department since I became Superintendent of Buildings, in March, 1895:

No. of plans examined for the year 1894	3,321
" " " " " " 1895	4,194
" " " first six months of 1896	3,845

Very respectfully,
STEVENSON CONSTABLE,
Superintendent of Buildings.

Appellate Court Decisions.

The following are recent decisions of the Court of Appeals of interest to brokers and real property owners, as summarized by "The Evening Post," of the 28th and 30th ult.:

Brokers' Commissions.—A broker employed to procure a lessee for certain real property for a period of ten years is not entitled to commissions for procuring an intending lessee to sign an instrument with the defendant which fails to specify the rent to be paid or how it was to be paid, as such an instrument is neither a lease nor an agreement for a lease. Fusco vs. Bullowa. (Opinion by Bischoff, J.)

Where defendant, a broker, engaged plaintiffs to secure a purchaser for real property placed in his hands for sale, and they effected a sale to one with whom the broker had previously negotiated, but such negotiations had terminated, held, that the plaintiffs were entitled to the agreed compensation. Weinstein vs. Golding. (Opinion by Bischoff, J.)

Plaintiff was employed as a broker to find customer for a saloon at $8,000 of which $3,500 was to be paid in cash. Plaintiff introduced one Reedy, who finally purchased the property at the price named, but on different terms. Held, that the mere fact that the owner subsequently modified his terms as to the mode of payment did not affect the broker's right to compensation; that the change put the parties in the same position in respect to the subject of the contract as if the owner had in the first instance employed the plaintiff to sell on the terms he took himself. O'Toole vs. Tucker. (Opinion by McAdam, J.)

Landlord and Tenant.—The defendant hired a dwelling which the plaintiffs agreed to put in good order. They failed to perform the agreement, and the defendant moved out. Plaintiffs sued to recover $160, balance of rent, and the Justice found for the defendant, holding that in his judgment the difference in the value of the premises with and without the repairs equalled the rent claimed. Held, error; that such difference could not be inferred, but must be established to a reasonable certainty, and not left to conjecture. Jackson et al. vs. Doherty. (Opinion by McAdam, J.)

Landlord and Tenant.—In an action to cover rent of a flat in an apartment house claimed to have become untenantable: Held, that under the statute of 1860 the tenant, in order to make the defence available, must first quit and surrender the premises and pay rent up to the time of such surrender, that it was optional with the tenant to adopt that course or claim the benefit of the term; and by treating the tenancy as subsisting, she might be held as in case of fraud to have affirmed the contract, and made herself liable for the term. Copeland vs. Luttgen. (Opinion by McAdam, J.)

Overflow of Water.—In an action by the occupant of a store to recover damages resulting from an overflow of water from the third loft of the premises. Held, that the fact that the defendant was in the exclusive possession of the loft from which the water came was sufficient prima facie to fix liability against him, in the absence of some explanation negativing want of care on his part. Greco vs. Bernheimer. (Opinion by McAdam, J.

Title Insurance.—Where a contract for title insurance is made, one condition being that a survey is to be furnished by the insured, and the survey so furnished is inaccurate and fails to show encroachments, the insurer is not bound to offer a policy containing no encroachment exceptions, but can recover upon offering a policy with such encroachments excepted as in fact exist. German-American Real Estate Title Guarantee Company vs. Coursen. (Opinion by Daly, P J.)

The facts that led up to the last decision, as given by an officer of the Title Company, are that defendant signed a contract for an examination of a title by the company, and handed them a survey. The company had an independant survey made which showed an encroachment and prepared a policy in accordance therewith. This was explained to defendant, who, however, refused to take up the policy, claiming that the contract was based on their guaranteeing the property according to the survey handed to them. The company's contention was that it was only required to guarantee as the facts presented themselves in the title. They sued for their fees and obtained judgment, which, on appeal, was confirmed, as indicated in the foregoing.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

Every time architects submit designs with a pledge that they shall not exceed a certain amount of cost, or to find a builder who will carry them out for a stated sum, they acknowledge their responsibility for cost. They are often willing to submit designs in different styles, or to alter the elevation to suit the unenlightened taste of their client. Both practices are opposed to a professional or true sense of the architect's work and lead the public to the supposition that design is an easy matter and can be altered to suit everybody's taste. Hence design has suffered and an undesirable prominence has been given to the commonplace requirements of building.

Out of 265 architects who applied for forms for sending in designs for the two principal buildings for the Paris Exposition, 59 have actually submitted drawings and plans. These are not thought to display any startling originality, though some of them are, of course, commendable.

Architecture in this country has evolved itself from the hut upward in distinction to the rule in Europe, where the evolution has been from the palace downward, and our wooden country houses show all the marks and limitations of their origin, while we cut ourselves off from a great deal of the enjoyment which our foreign cousins are able to derive from a solid, substantial, and yet picturesque and homelike brick structure. There need be nothing barren about a brick house except the emptiness of ideas on the part of the designer.

There is a condition of isolation amongst the various kinds of artists. They do not know enough of each other and of each other's methods and enough is not done to create a feeling of equality in arts. The enormous development of machinery and the differentiation of labor of all kinds has had a tendency not only to isolate artists one from another but also to specialize art. Decorations are often a failure in consequence.

The results of exhaustive tests of common mortar, made by a Hungarian expert, showed that poor limes set more quickly that fat limes, but that the strength of the latter was relatively greater when the mixtures used were poor in lime. Thus, 1: Five mixtures of fat lime had nearly the same strength, as 1 : 4 mixtures of poor lime. An American, A. S. Cooper, has also been investigating the question of mortars, turning his attention to the influence of the character of the sand upon them. He used sands of varying fineness and character of grain, and after numerous experiments arrived at the following conclusions, namely: 1. Other things being equal, a fairly coarse sand, for example, one passing through a 12-in. sieve (12 wires to the mesh), and caught on a 16-in. sieve, gives mortars of higher tensile strength than do finer sands. 2. This effect of size of grain disappears with sands fine enough to pass a 40 mesh sieve and caught in a 60 mesh sieve. Sands finer than this give similar results. 3. The character of the surface of the grains is of moment. Mere sharpness of grain is not the only point to be considered, for an extremely sharp sand may have a smooth surface on each facet, and a moderately rough surface is preferable.

A builder in a large way, speaking of his troubles with workmen, said, recently, he did not agree that the builder was bound to give way to the men under his control. In one case where he had had trouble with carpenters, he had largely dispensed with them and had had the roof of his building carried out in iron and concrete, and since he had employed fewer carpenters than he ever did. He might have a strike clause in his contract, but that did not protect the architect or the owner. The honor and credit of every building erected ought to be equally due to the builder as to the architect.

A correspondent of a contemporary suggests the following for putting new fire-pots into large brick-set furnaces. Where the chamber is sufficiently large, the radiator can be "jacked" up util it is entirely free from the fire-pit, then a sufficient quantity of the front brickwork can be taken out to permit the fire-pot being removed through the front. Or when the front is so constructed that this is difficult, the fire-pots can be taken out through a large manhole door. The radiator and upper portion of the furnace in the meantime will be suspended so as to permit the placing in position of the new fire-pot through either the front or manhole door. When the air chamber is not large enough to permit this process, one of the jack screws can be placed in the ash pit and by means of a piece of timber the radiator raised. After the radiator is raised sufficiently a man can crawl into the air chamber, and by means of boards or planks suspend the radiator so that the jack screw can be removed and the fire-pot taken out. After the new fire-pot is in place the jack screw is again brought into use and the radiator slowly brought down to its proper position.

Engineer Towle has, during his short year of office in the Bureau of Street Improvements, sent out nearly 13,000 notices for repairs to sidewalks, most of which have been made. The Bureau announces its intention of following up this matter until the sidewalks are in a condition of perfect efficiency and to keep them so when that state is attained. The Bureau is about to issue a permit to the Third Avenue Railway Co. to put up its trolley from 162d street; tracks are laid to about 232d street, and it is understood that the line will be continued out to Yonkers.

THE BRAENDER CELLAR DRAINER.

Illustrated on another page of this issue is an ingenious automatic device patented by one of the most active and successful builders in New York. It is operated by water pressure and is said to be unequalled for removing water from cellars, excavations, or any depression where water accumulates. Mr. Philip Braender, the patentee, will gladly show the cellar drainer in operation at his office, No. 263 West 118th street, and send an illustrated brochure and testimonials descriptive of the working of the Braender Cellar Drainer, which is commended by plumbers, builders, realty owners and agents, including Bryant & Crow, Chas. Stuart, Noble & Gauss, John H. Sturk & Co., Evans, Almirall & Co., Gonon & Macdonald, Morris S. Herman & Co., who have used the device with very satisfactory results. It is simple in construction, besides being strong, durable and non-corrosive. Mr. Braender's telephone call is 64 Harlem.

CHAUMONT LIME.

The makers of the Chaumont lime claim for it that it is one of the strongest and purest burned. An analysis, which they publish in their circular, given by the Solvay Process Company, of Syracuse, N. Y., shows it to be 97.95% pure. Every effort is made to secure purity. The stone is quarried from solid beds of blue-limestone and burned with wood. The working results that these facts imply will be appreciated by masons. The lime is put up in lined barrels with heads covered with heavy blue paper; in consequence it will keep for a long time, even in the hottest weather, and the package is clean to handle. Goods are shipped on the day ordered and sample barrels furnished to dealers on application. Builders and masons should furnish themselves with the descriptive circular of the Chaumont Company, which they can do by applying to them at No. 26 Pine street, New York City, or at No. 350 Fulton street, Brooklyn.

The Real Estate Market

The few sales that we are able to publish reports of this week show an aggregate investment of about $950,000. The price of the plot to be acquired as a site for a new Church of the Divine Paternity, is included in the total, as there can be but little doubt that the transaction will reach a successful termination. The market is still remarkable only on account of its dullness. But there are duller periods to come if the signs are not at fault, and they will precede any improvement.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1895 and 1896:

The usual monotonous conditions attendant on foreclosure sales of inferior property were more pronounced than ever this week. Nothing desirable being offered, the audiences daily confronting the auctioneers were made up entirely of auction-room loungers and persons directly interested in the various parcels disposed of. Two sales, conducted by James L. Wells, were of such a mysterious character that they caused some discussion even among the regular habitues of the Broadway Salesroom. One comprised 40 lots in the newly annexed district, sold on Monday, that were described by numbers only and which would have required the assistance of a walking encyclopedia of that section of the city to locate definitely. No diagrams nor descriptions were furnished, and, of course, the plaintiff's representative met with hardly a show of competition and that only from other mortgagees. Four other lots, Nos. 357, 358, 371 and 372, map of Arden, included in the list announced under foreclosure, were withdrawn from sale by the referee. The second of the mysterious offerings was made on Tuesday, by an order of Court, directing George B. Owen as executor of the will of the late David F. Beck, of Brooklyn, to sell Nos. 94 and 96 Rivington street and 135 Ludlow street, as well as a Brooklyn parcel. The attorney for the executor announced that the city property would be sold subject to a lis pendens filed in 1852 by an attorney since deceased and which has never been removed, and another lis pendens filed this year. Only that and nothing more; no reason for the filing of either being given. The natural result was a single bid on each parcel, of a sum ridiculously low compared with current values, and the purchase of all by a namesake of the executor.

On Monday Philip A. Smyth withdrew a large vacant plot with frame dwelling on the east side of Mott avenue, about 200 feet north of 138th street, and on Tuesday, Strong & Ireland did the same favor for No. 1472 Amsterdam avenue. On the same day William Kennelly announced the withdrawal from partition sale of property owned by the estate of George Chesterman, deceased. It was made in accordance with an order granted by Justice Stover, of the Supreme Court, in answer to a petition by the defendant trustees of the estate in which it was sensibly recited and shown by affidavits made by realty experts that to sell at this season of the year would be equivalent to sacrificing the property. The latter embraces No. 80 Nassau street, the northeast corner of 6th avenue and 9th street, the northwest corner of that avenue and 10th street, property on 14th and 15th streets, between 6th and 7th avenues, Park avenue, north of 116th street, 124th street, west of 2d avenue, East 9th and Stuyvesant streets and the southeast corner of 3d avenue and Stuyvesant street. It is intended to have the sale take place after the opening of the fall season. On Wednesday J. L. Wells adjourned to the 20th inst. the sale of No. 148 West 20th street.

Attention is again called to the sale at public auction by Otto Crouse, receiver of the North American Pyrogranit Co., of the land, buildings, plant, patents, etc., of the company, of which he is receiver. The land consists of about 55 acres, at South River, East Brunswick, upon which the plant is located, and where is found the clay from which the specialties of the company were made. Detailed particulars of the property to be sold, terms of sale, etc., will be found in our advertising pages, or can be had by communicating with Otto Crouse, at No. 76 Montgomery street, Jersey City, and at the New York office of the company, No. 52 West 15th street. The sale will take place on the premises on Wednesday, the 12th inst., at 2 p. m.

Wm. A. White & Sons, of No. 115 Broadway, announce that they have a new and complete modern plant for making front brick near New York, with good railway facilities, to lease for a term of years.

Gossip of the Week

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

William J. Roome has sold for the estate of the late William Moir, the five-story store, 26.9x60, on the southwest corner of 6th avenue and 23d street. The property has long been properly regarded as the most valuable in the retail dry-goods district, and many tempting offers to purchase it were refused by the late owner. The latest, we believe, was one of about $300,000, made by Ehrich Bros., adjoining owners, some three years ago. That firm is not the buyer now and the price agreed upon is said to be much more than their offer and not less than $350,000. The purchaser has bought for investment, and none but trifling improvements will be made in the present serviceable building. The late Mr. Moir paid $76,000 for the lot and an antiquated building in April, 1871, and subsequently erected the structure now standing. At $350,000 the rate per square foot would be $218, a rate exceeded only five times in considerations paid for New York real estate.

Charles H. Harrel has bought of Joseph L. Buttenweiser for improvement, No. 98 Liberty street, southeast corner of Trinity place, a lot, with old building, 26.2x54x25x53.11. The seller acquired it in the spring through a trade in which it figured at about $150,000, inclusive of mortgages amounting to $120,000. Mr. Harrell will erect an eleven-story office building on the lot, from plans by Clinton & Russell.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have bought, at about $15,000, from the New York City Church Extension and Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the four-story brick house with store, lot 25x100, No. 112 Macdougal street.

John Ward has sold, at $21,000, the five-story brick tenement with lot, 25x100.5, No. 437 West 52d street, which he bought in as plaintiff at a foreclosure sale early in June.

Wm. H. Williams has sold the five-story brick flat, No. 147 East 30th street, size 27x90x98.9, to John Siefke at $50,000, and will take improved Jersey City property in part payment.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Max Goldstein has sold for Dr. Francis Eife the two five-story double flats, lots 25x100.11 each, Nos. 14 and 16 East 114th street, at a price not far from $48,000.

Joseph E. Weed has sold to a builder for improvement, a plot, 37.6x102.2, on the south side of 83d street, 300 feet west of West End avenue.

The Frank L. Fisher Co. has sold for Mrs. Florence A. Foster, the four-story brownstone front dwelling; 22x60x100, No. 311 Riverside Drive, and for M. W. Larendon, his three-story stone front residence, 19x55x102.2, No. 157 West 79th street. The respective prices reported are about $60,000 and about $27,000.

Fitzsimons & Smith have sold for Builder William Drought the new five-story single flat, 22.6x90x102.2, No. 155 West 80th street.

The Fourth Universalist Society, which sold last May the Church of the Divine Paternity, at 5th avenue and 45th street, for $625,000, to a buyer who has yet to take title, has secured a site for a new church with an adjoining parish house. The plot selected is the southwest corner of Central Park West and 76th street, 102.2x150. William H. Scott is the seller of the corner lot and the one adjoining on the street, Charles H. Ludington of the lot south of the former, Albert E. Putnam of the 51-foot plot adjoining, and Robert C. Ferguson of the inside street lot. Owing to the latter parcel being restricted to a private dwelling, the Society, which wants all or none of the six lots, has taken an option on them expiring Aug. 15, and by that date hopes to obtain the consent of the neighboring owners to the removal of the restriction, as it is on that particular lot that the parish house will be built. Every owner thus far approached has given instantaneous consent, for the reason that a handsome church is far preferable as a neighbor to a towering apartment house, a possible improvement that they have long dreaded.

NORTH SIDE.

T. C. Lewis has sold for Frank Boyd the plot 79x120 on the west side of Bathgate avenue 320 feet south of 175th street, to Frederick G. Letsch for $8,000.

John R. Ross has sold for Clara Jones the plot, 75x100, on the west side of Creston avenue, 227 feet north of Kingsbridge road to L. S. Van Zandt for improvement.

Real Estate Notes.

Not until the announcement last week in "The Record and Guide's" list of Buildings Projected was there any intimation given that the building by the Hobart estate of a big hotel was contemplated on Broadway, at the northeast corner of 37th street. We say contemplated advisedly, as it is understood that work upon the proposed building cannot begin until the leases now running expire nine months' hence, and some doubt exists as to whether it will be commenced then. New York's supply of large first-class hotels is now greatly in excess of the demand, and the projectors of this latest one may revise their ideas by next May and defer building it until the outlook becomes more propitious from a business standpoint. Their building would not be finished until long after the Herald Square Hotel on the block south of it, and as the latter is to be conducted by a landlord who has no superior in the hotel world there would seem to be litttle chance for successful competition. The architects' estimate of $2,000,000 as the cost of the proposed Hobart hotel can, by the way, be safely regarded as a bit of harmless fiction. But whether the new hotel should be erected next year or in five years, it seems bound to come at all events and will add one more architectural attraction to that choice part of Broadway extending from 35th to 42d street. Strange to say, the east side of the thoroughfare has monopolized practically all the improvements made there for fifteen years. It is unfortunate for the speedy realization of the manifest destiny of that section of the city's main artery that the property on the west side of the street is largely held by individuals and estates that are so conservative in their views as to be a positive detriment to natural development.

The Board of Health has directed that the 20 additional rear tenements given in the appended list be vacated preparatory to their removal under the Gilder law:

Catharine st, Nos. 88 and 90.
Cannon st, Nos. 118 and 120.
Essex st, Nos. 78 and 80.
Houston st, Nos. 451 and 453 East.
James st, Nos. 55, 59, 61 and 63.
Lewis st, Nos. 105½, 107, 109 and 111.
Mott st, No. 20.
Norfolk st, No. 73.
3d st, No. 350 East.
11th st, No. 326 East.

Questions and Answers.

MORTGAGE—FORECLOSURE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If A bought a piece of property from B, and B takes back a mortgage for three years. A then sold property to C subject to the mortgage. At the expiration of three years A informs B to call in the mortgage which is then due on account of A's wanting to get off the bond. B refuses to call in mortgage. In case of a foreclosure is A responsible for any deficiency?

Answer.—If A requests B to call in the mortgage, and B fails within a reasonable time to do so, or to commence foreclosure proceedings, A will not be responsible for deficiency upon a foreclosure which is had after the expiration of such reasonable time. —Law Editor.

LIABILITY ON BOND.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

In a recent issue in reply to a question whether a property owner who gives his bond and mortgage, and conveys the property to another, is still liable on his bond, you say that he is, but you do not state whether the purchaser or grantee agreed to assume the payment of the mortgage or not. Kindly inform me in your next issue if possible, whether a mortgagor in such a case can force the assumor of the mortgage to pay the mortgage when it becomes due, or compel a foreclosure to wipe out his bond.

Answer—He cannot force the "assumor" to pay off the mortgage. He may notify the mortgagee to call in the mortgage, and if the mortgagee does not call the mortgage in or commence foreclosure proceedings within a reasonable time he will then be released from his liability on the bond.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION ON EXCHANGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I received a definite proposition in writing from a party agreeing to an exchange of properties. I take this proposition to the broker on the other side, whose principal concludes to accept. He makes out the contract; his principal signs it in due legal form. I then take the contract to my principal who refuses to sign it. He makes an appointment for next day, which he fails to keep. I have not heard from or seen him since (some three weeks ago). Am I entitled to my commission from my principal?

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

H owns and occupies a house and sells it to E and E gives a lease of the premises to T for three years (the lease has over a year yet to run). In the lease it is agreed by E that T shall have the right to underlet to any responsible party. It is further agreed between the parties hereto that the party of the second part, T, shall have the right to renew this lease for a further term of three years, or less, at the same yearly rent as herein provided for the term herein leased. T has never occupied the premises, but immediately assigned the lease to H. E has just sold the property to W, and W wishes to know if this renewal of a further term lease of three years is binding on him, or can either H or T hold possession of the property for the further term stated by paying the rent, or can W take possession when lease is up.

Answer.—The lessee or assignee of the lease has the option to retain possession of the premises, upon paying the rent, for the period of three years after the expiration of the first term mentioned in the lease.—Law Editor.

BROKERS' COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

E calls at my office to rent apartments; offered her a flat she had previously been shown by its owner, who had refused absolutely to rent it to her because of a child in the family. My clerk referred her back again to the owner as coming from my office; she declined to go; upon insisting, her companion went as coming from my office, in the interest of E, and renewed the application for the apartment, whereupon the owner rented the flat to E himself. Am I not, under the circumstances, instrumental in renting the apartment to E, and entitled to commission from the owner?

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

LIABILITY OF LANDLORD.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

When the owner of a building leases his property can he be compelled to pay for material ordered and accepted by Department of Buildings; the material supplied being ordered by the lessee who failed in business when the work was completed?

Answer.—No.—Law Editor.

CONDEMNATION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I am the lessee of extensive parts of two contiguous buildings for a term of ten years from January 1, 1895. The lessor has been compelled by condemnation procedure to sell the premises to the city, and I am informed that in 1895 the Legislature at Albany had passed a law which deprived lessees in such cases of all claims for compensation against the city. Now what do you advise me to do? Would it be advisable to test the law, if it really exists (please state chapter), by letting the city dispossess me and turn around and sue for damages. By moving more than half of my machinery will be rendered absolutely worthless, while if it could remain where it is it would unquestionably last for many years more, which loss aggregates to several thousand dollars. Must not the city allow a remuneration for such loss? Or must I grin and bear it. (2) Have I any actionable claim against the lessor? He is actually not to blame and almost loses more than I do, for the property is assessed outrageously low. I would gladly pay him $5,000 more than he is to get for it.

Answer.—We do not find any such statute passed in 1895. Furthermore we are of opinion that if such a law should be passed, upon appeal to the courts it would be declared to be unconstitutional, as depriving a man of his property without due compensation. The city can be compelled to remunerate you. (2) You have no cause of action against the lessor.—Law Editor.

INHERITANCE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I had a rich bachelor uncle, deceased, having no relatives nearer than the sisters' children. The sisters themselves died long before the decedent. One sister left one male child and the other sister left two children, male and female. How do they inherit, as no mention has been made in the will of either family, to be decided by the law of the land? Please state the law governing such matters.

Answer.—If the rich bachelor uncle died intestate, that is, leaving no will, his two nephews and his niece each take one-third of his real and personal property.—Law Editor.

LIGHT AND AIR.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

We would like to know if two houses, adjoining each other, one has an extension and on the extension there is a window that opens out into the yard. The party who owns the yard closes up the window so that no air or light comes into the extension where people live. Is there any law to prohibit this? Kindly answer this in your next issue and oblige.

Answer.—The owner of the yard has a right to put up a close fence so as to shut out the light and air from the extension.

ESTABLISHED GRADES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please let me know through your valuable paper if the grades of Fort Washington Ridge road, the French Boulevard and the Kingsbridge road, as now laid out, are the established grades, according to the resolutions adopted by the proper city boards governing such matters or whether they are likely to be changed later on, and much oblige, A SUBSCRIBER.

Answer.—They are laid on the permanent grades and there is at present no intention of making a change.—Editor "Record and Guide."

ELM STREET WIDENING.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

Kindly let me know through the columns of your paper whether there has been anything done in regard to Elm street widening?

Answer.—The Commission is still taking testimony, but hope to close early in September. Work has been begun on the benefit map. Until report of Commissioners is approved by the Supreme Court the property cannot be taken or work begun. If our correspondent will watch our "Notice to Property-owners" column he will see there announcement made whenever the Commission is ready to report.—Editor "Record and Guide."

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the Deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that is is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at the foot of this list.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—The feature of the market has been the practical collapse of the Association of brick manufacturers. We understan that this week there have been several important withdrawals from the Association, and while the Association will probably continue in name for the remainder of the season, as an actual factor in the market it is practically at an end. With the collapse of the Association has come a generally demoralized condition of the market. There are large accumulations in receivers' hands, and as supplies have continued to come forward freely and demand has shown no improvement, prices have weakened, ranging from $4 to $4.75, and for specials $4.87½@5 has been quoted, and instances up to $5.12½ has been paid, but the latter price has been quite exceptional. Pale brick has ruled fairly steady for the better grades which have had a moderate call, and $2 has been the ruling price; the poorer grades, however, have moved slowly and have been quoted at $1.50@1.75. There has been a very quiet market for Jerseys, but there has been only a very limited supply brought forward, and for the best grades prices have ruled fairly steady at $4@4.25. There have been practically no offerings of Keyports and nominal quotations have been $3.50@3.75.

CEMENT.—Little if any changes can be noted in the market. The demand for Rosendale has been of very limited proportions, but there have been no excessive offerings, and prices have held fairly steady. For Portland there has continued a fair market. The call for domestic makes has been fairly satisfactory and foreigns have also received a fair amount of attention; prices have remained as previously and steady.

LATH.—No improvement can be noted in the general situation of the market. While there has been no particular pressure of supplies on the market buyers have been quickly met and prices have eased off a trifle to $1, which quotations moderate sales have been on, and of inferior stock sales have been at $1.50.

LIME.—The easier feeling noted in our last issue has become more pronounced during the past week and a reduction of 5c. per barrel has been made in quotations, closing at 60@65c. for common, Thomaston and Rockland, and 70@75c. for finishing do. Very little State lime has found its way to this market, although we hear of a sale made recently at 50c. Sales of St. John lime were reported at 55@60c., but we are inclined to quote 50c. as an inside quotation.

LUMBER.—The general market has continued in a decidedly unsatisfactory shape, judging from sellers' point of view. While there has seemed to be a moderate amount of lumber moving, there has been absolutely no snap to business, and, as a rule, buyers have experienced comparatively little difficulty in making their own terms. However, at this season of the year there is naturally comparatively little life to trade, but owing to the general depression in financial and commercial circles the market has been in an unusually listless condition, and while no changes have been made in quoted values, when sales have been made buyers have generally succeeded in obtaining concessions of 25c. to 50c. per thousand. This has been particularly true of pines, though we have heard some talk of restricted shipments of yellow pine, but it has had no influence as yet upon prices. There have been no encouraging developments in the export trade on pine. Very few orders have been received from Hayti or the West Indies generally. The South America trade has also been limited.

Not the slightest change has been apparent in the market for Eastern spruce. Advices from the Provinces report a fair market with England a brisk buyer of deals, and there was also a moderate amount of business done to South America, consequently shipments to this market have been decidedly limited. There have been some offerings from Maine, but with the largest mills at Bangor not cutting and a report that one of the largest mills on the Kennebec is to cease operations on August 10th, owing to dissatisfaction with prices now ruling, the market has held fairly steady. The market for State spruce has shown no changes; buyers have been indifferent, but prices quoted as previously. It is reported that a fairly large number of logs have been hung up. A limited number of orders for car load lots of West Virginia spruce have been received and placed at about steady prices.

For hemlock there has continued a good steady market; in fact it has been about the only lumber on which buyers have been unable to obtain concessions. The amount of business transacted, however, has been very moderate, but there has been no pressure to sell and advices from mills have been firm.

There has been a decided absence of uniformity to the demand for hardwoods. Poplar has latterly received increased attention, and a sale has been made of 500,000 feet at fair prices. Ash has moved slowly, and while no changes have been made in values they have ruled easy. Both plain and quartered oak have been taken in limited quantities by the local trade, and some fair-sized shipments have been made to the Continent of plain oak. Other hardwoods have been slow.

The Northwestern "Lumberman" says:

The general tone of the English markets in respect to lumber is rather better than at this time a year ago, though receipts of American hardwoods have been too heavy to admit of any material advance in prices. At London quartered oak is getting to be difficult to move, plain lumber has arrived in excess of the requirement and logs are in slack demand. There is a fair market for carefully regulated supplies of whitewood lumber, and satin walnut (gum) is in regular demand, but at low prices. Walnut logs are not being imported so freely, and as a result they meet with steady sale at fair prices. Walnut lumber of medium to good quality is also in fair request, but the market is overloaded with low grade stock. American oak staves are in limited request.

At Liverpool imports last month were exceptionally heavy, but consumption was correspondingly large. Stocks in the aggregate are about normal for this season of the year. Southern yellow pine, though arriving freely, moves off readily. Owing to liberal receipts, prices for sawed timbers have ruled low. The price of hewed timbers is firmer in comparison. In oak

...e. Wire, $2.70 for car lots from dock, and
.80 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Much the same condi-
...ns have prevailed in the market, as were pre-
...ously noted. There has been a marked absence
... spirit to business, the only demand having ...been for small lots for immediate delivery, as there has been practically no disposition to anticipate wants; prices, however, have held fairly steady. A limited amount of white lead has appeared to be moving on deliveries on old contracts, but in the way of new business very little has been accomplished. The association figures on lead last announced are as follows, subject to change without notice. Pure white lead, dry or in oil, red lead, and litharge in kegs, in lots of 500 lbs. and over, 5¾c.; red lead and litharge in barrels and half barrels, ¼c. per lb. less than the price in kegs; white lead (cases), 1c. per lb.
over price in kegs; white lead in 25-lb. tin pails (packed in 100-lb. or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb.
over price in kegs; white lead, assorted in 1-lb., 2-lb., 3-lb. and 5-lb., cans (packed in 100-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs. Terms:
On lots of 500 lbs. and over, 60 days, or 2 per cent. discount for cash if paid within 15 days from date of invoice f. o. b. at New York.
Special prices for dry white lead in barrels.
Quantities: To make either of above assorted quantities and assortment of packages either or all of the above articles may be counted. The above prices and terms supersede all previous prices and terms offered by this company. For linseed oil there has continued a very quiet market, as the only call for supplies has been for small lots to supply immediate requirements.
The tone of the market, however, has been fairly steady, as crushers have shown no disposition to force sales, and furthermore a slight improvement in the price of flaxseed has given more tone to the situation. We quote at 32@
33c. for Western raw, 33@35c. for City raw and boiled from domestic seed, and 52c. from Calcutta seed. There has continued a slow but steady shrinkage in the price for spirits turpentine, though at the close, on advices from the South reporting that there were negotiations pending for the consolidation of the interest of operators for the purpose of reducing the production next year, there was more tone to the market and prices were quoted as steady at 24c.
for regulars and 24¾c. for machines. At the opening of the week canners and varnish makers succeeded in obtaining a few hundred barrels at 24½c. for machine. Subsequently, however, the price was advanced to 24¾c., but at this price trade has been quiet, as canners and varnish makers have kept their limits at 24½c. We quote at 24@25¼c. per gallon, according to time and place of delivery, quality, style of package, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—Not the slightest change has been apparent in the market for tar during the entire week. Business has been quiet and comprised almost exclusively of jobbing orders, but prices have held fairly steady, as there has been no accumulation of supplies in first hands.
Pitch has received very little attention, but prices have been quoted unchanged and steady.
We quote tar at $1.65@1.85 in pine or Wilmington barrels, $2.40@2.50 in pork barrels; and $3.25 in oil barrels. Pitch, $1.85@1.90.

OL. LVIII. AUGUST 8, 1896. No. 1,482

MIE fears, anxieties and necessities of the whole country - are made known in New York, and so find their expression the stock market, that it appears that the East is the only ace that believes in the success of the silver cause. Silverites more or less density are to be found everywhere, as are also ldites, if the term may be allowed, but, taken as a whole the ople of the Eastern States have a perfect faith in the final erthrow of the advocates of light coinage. The present dis-rbed and unsatisfactory condition of the stock market is not ought about by Eastern sentiment, but by the fact that it is, rring a few minor centres which are only available in a lim-d number of special cases, the only place in the whole coun- where people who need money and have the collateral to t up or securities to sell can obtain it. If the stock market pressed only the feeling of New York and its vicinity quota-ns would make a very different showing to what they do to-y. The oldest men in the street are puzzled. They cannot member a similar period of equal duration in which public ying was so entirely absent as it has been in the past ninety ys. It may almost be said that the market has never prop-ly recovered from the effects of the Venezuelan message last November. That event so effectually scared away the nk and file of buyers that they have never got back again, and a consequence prices have not been able to rally under good ws, while always promptly sinking under bad. So we have d a series of breaks with intervals of dullness. The support at ordinarily comes from a buoyant-minded people, and has, innumerable instances, been of so much service, nowhere ists now, and the consequence is that realizations invariably eak the market. Still, it should be borne in mind that there nothing in the political situation, however it is viewed, or in e condition of the properties represented by the security list at justifies present figures, and, although we may only be ing lured on to punishment for our temerity in presum-g to have an opinion under such circumstances as those pres-t to-day, we cannot help believing that careful buying now ill, in a reasonably short time, be rewarded by substantial ofits.

OMPANY making has been carried to such lengths in Lon-don this year that the fears of the prudent are fully oused, and this forms another reason for the belief expressed st week that the time is approaching for a financial setback oad. In the first seven months of this year the capital appli-tions were almost as much as they were in the whole of 1895, hich, by the way, was the best year for this kind of business nce 1890. In the mass of new offerings there is ample evi-nce of the impudence peculiar to promoters, and in the tak-gs no reason for believing that the investor has lost any of s traditional credulity. This means a condition that is sure to ing trouble sooner or later. In the $500,000,000 of new issues this year a large part consists of the stocks of industrial en-rprises, covering the manufacture of almost every kind of ods. Many of these, no doubt, have been incorporated sim-y to give their sponsors a chance to get something out of actically nothing, and when this fact dawns on the minds of e new owners the results will be disturbing to good and bad ke. Li Hung Chang seems to have sounded the Credit Lyon-is on the subject of a loan, and to have been astounded when found that China would have to find material security for e smallest loan, while Russia had raised large sums on its ral guarantee alone. The financial position of the German pire is decidedly favorable; the ordinary receipts in the year 95-96 exceeded the estimates by 26½ million marks; the yield import duties and tobacco tax was 34¼ million marks higher an was estimated Austria-Hungary reports a highly satis-tory harvest. The negotiations for the renewal of the States' eaty between the two countries are progressing much more satisfactorily than the case has been hitherto, though t tion of their respective portions of the common expenses Empire is one that still presents many difficulties. news comes from Brazil of the financial condition of th public. Revenue, it is said, is totally inadequate to meet t ordinary expenditures; the last foreign loan was a failure, a domestic one is not possible; both individual states and tional government are to their wit's end for means to ra money, and the one is trenching on the peculiar tax maki privileges of the other.

HOLDERS of gold mortgages will be gratified to learn that in the very remote contingency and coincidence of Wm. J. Bryan being seated in the presidential chair, and there being a House of Representatives and a Senate who will pass an act providing for the free coinage of silver; gold contracts made prior thereto are to be respected. For three or four weeks the impression has been allowed to endure that nothing—law cus-tom, precedent, or common morality—was to stand in the way of the sacred cause of enabling a mortgagor to tender a fifty-three cent dollar in repayment of the one-hundred cent dollar he received. The Chicago platform and the majority of the speeches made in the convention supported this impression, though most of the opinions of the courts on the legality of special contract provisions for payments in gold did not sustain it. In view of the threat contained in the platform against the integrity of the judicial system these opinions lost some of their reassuring value. But the chief anxiety respecting gold contracts came from the reported defeat of Senator Hill's amendment to the free-silver plank of the platform, which was intended to protect existing gold contracts as its language shows: "But it should be carefully provided by law at the same time that any change in the monetary standard should not apply to existing contracts." It appears that this amendment was not lost after all, and that the hundreds of newspaper men and other hundreds of spectators present when the vote was taken and who heard the decision of the presiding officer upon the result, were mistaken; perhaps the presiding officer was also mistaken. At any rate it is understood that the amendment is to go into the platform as issued with official sanction. While there are suspicious circumstances about this business and indications of tergiversation that must keep up some amount of disquiet, it may carry some comfort to the minds of holders of gold mortgages of the reasonable security of their contracts.

WITH remarkable industry bordering on haste, the Committee on Draft of the Greater New York Commission is pushing its work towards completion. In addition to the five chapters of their suggested charter for the new consolidated city, issued last week, they have made public the titles of Chapter VI. and the text of Chapter VII., the contents of which are outlined in another column. It may be said that this merely opens the work of the Commission, yet already it shows how impossible it will be for them to make their report to the Legislature by February 1st next, if the work is properly done. The seven chapters of the draft charter contain quite a number of novelties, each one of which will require careful consideration by the Commission as a body; and, as many as are embodied in the charter submitted to them, should also have equally careful consideration from the Legislature. There is first the municipal assembly; then the borough system, with its local boards; the enlargement of the powers of the Mayor; the location of branch offices in the control of deputy collectors for certain great divisions of the consolidated city, and the powers to create a permanent debt. These are the most prominent changes suggested, and the only one likely to receive prompt approval is that which will make the payment of taxes and communication with the municipal departments through deputies easier than they would be if the system now employed for New York City were maintained for the consolidated city. It is to be hoped even if, through a merciful interposition of Providence, this whole scheme of consolidation should be killed, that this idea will not be lost sight of. The northern line of the city is distant nearly fifteen miles from the City Hall, and owing to inadequate communications a journey from points east and west of the central line and return occupies practically a whole day. To compel a citizen to spend this time in order to transact business with the city is unjust, and the only way the injustice can be removed is by the establishment of branch offices endowed with the powers, except in very important matters, of the central office. The dangers that might have arisen in such a divided system years ago are not possible in these days of telephones. The few steps that have been taken to relieve the inconvenience involved in the practice of to-day fall very far short of what is required, and so long as it is necessary to make the long journey down-taxes, get water permits, licenses for vaults, etc., il it form a matter of complaint. But to return to the er, there seems to be a disposition on the part of the e on Draft to throw in every conceivable idea for city ent that they can catch hold of, and to leave to the Com- the hard task of freeing the good from the bad. This f properly done, could very easily employ them for two e years. What we fear most, and this fear is supported e rapidity with which the Committee on Draft is issuing ters of the tentative charter, is that we will be railroaded actual consolidation as the Legislature was railroaded into approval of theoretical consolidation.

ANY ONE who does not believe that the municipal authorities are susceptible of advice and capable of improvement, does not know what has been done on the Boulevard. A year ago we pointed out the disgraceful condition of this thoroughfare more as a matter of duty than in the hope and expectation of seeing anything done to change it. At that time the fountain, the junction of the Boulevard with Columbus avenue, was ry, and its basin the depository of any rubbish the children rom the tenement districts in the neighborhood chose to place here. Within sight of the fountain a half-dozen or more dead trees lifted their gaunt limbs to the sky in prayer for removal. Along the Boulevard itself were many more dead trees—equally prayerful; the grass plots were weedy and often the storing place for broken granite to be used on adjacent roadways; the sidewalks in many instances were obstructed by objectionable looking goods, among them the varied, interesting but unsightly stock of a junk-dealer, and in general the thoroughfare had an unkempt and disreputable appearance. But in the course of the year this has been modified somewhat. Water has been turned on at the fountain and its basin cleared out; otherwise the year has lapsed without any further improvement in the general condition of the Boulevard. The dead trees stand; weeds grow where grass should be; car horses are watered at one point and the junkman's privileges have not been curtailed. But the Boulevarder must be thankful for small mercies and not underweigh the fact that the water continues to run from the fountain unceasingly during business hours. We understand that there has all along existed some doubt as to whether it is the duty of the Park Department or the Department of Public Works to remove the dead trees and retrim the grass plots, and we all know how much two contending city departments can inconvenience the public and blight the appearance of the streets when once they get into a dispute. Bearing this in mind, there is much reason to be thankful that the condition of the Boulevard is what it is, we cannot say, as good as it is.

Work on the Chart

The Committee on Draft of the Greater New York Commission has made public the heads of Chapter VI., which deals solely with the Department of Finance, and the text of Chapter VII., pertaining to the Law Department.

Avoiding technical details, it may be said that both these chapters are founded on a commendable desire to make the communications between the public and the authorities easier and the transaction of business between them more convenient. Chapter VI., as now outlined, contains two great innovations on the present methods of administering the financial part of the city's business, one of which will be promptly received with favor everywhere, and the second of which will require very careful consideration before being adopted. The first consists of placing a deputy tax collector, auditor and treasurer in the Municipal Building in the borough of Brooklyn for the transaction of the business of their respective departments pertaining to the boroughs of Williamsburg and Brooklyn, now constituting the city of Brooklyn; and, in lesser force, seating officers of the same departments in the borough of Queens and in the borough of Richmond.

The second of these innovations makes a radical change in the character of the city's debt by providing for the eventual funding of the city debt in interminable bonds, or bonds for the payment of which, except as to the payment of interest, no definite period is fixed. Mr. De Witt, of the Committee on Draft, claims for this provision that it would relieve the city, if adopted, of the imperative necessity of raising from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 annually, by taxation, to swell its sinking funds. It is particularly applicable to municipal debts in this State because of the section of the Constitution of the State, which renders it impossible for any city to create a debt in amount exceeding 10 per cent. of the assessed valuation of its real estate. The taxpayer pays off an outstanding obligation to the end merely that another obligation shall take its place. It may be, therefore, much wiser to permit the city voluntarily to raise annually only so much toward the payment of its debt as may be in keeping with the financial condition of the time or needful to an economical conduct of its finances. The longer a bond has to run the higher is the price it would bring, and these bonds will run forever. The city could only redeem them by purchase in the market.

Chapter VII. gives to the Corporation Counsel, in the main, the same duties as he now has. It is, however, provided that he shall have an office in the Borough of Brooklyn, and in his discretion or by authority of the Municipal Assembly, offices in the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond. This chapter also provides for a bureau in the Law Department for the recovery of penalties for the violation of any law or municipal ordinance, and actions shall be brought in the name of the City of New York, and not in that of any department. Another bureau is to be for the collection of arrears of personal taxes.

The Tax Rate

The Board of Aldermen has postponed action on the tax rate until the last Tuesday of the current month. The report of the Finance Committee of the Board on this matter, which will probably be adopted by them, recommends a general tax rate of 2.14, and 1.8276 as the rate upon corporations exempt by law from local taxation for State purposes, and shows that the total assessment of real and personal property for 1896 is $2,106,484,905, an increase over last year of $89,537,243. The total city budget as fixed last December is $46,496,571.31, of which $2,500,000 will be paid from the general fund, leaving the net budget $43,996,571.31. An additional sum of $903,758.97 is allowed for contingencies, making the net amount to be raised by taxation $44,900,330.28. Of this sum $6,402,009.92 is for State taxes, $2,989,901.60 for the redemption of city bonds and stocks falling due in 1896, and $5,566,597.88 for interest on the city debt, leaving $29,941,820.88 for the ordinary expenditures of the city government. The assessment against corporations exempt from taxation for State purposes is fixed at $57,121,217, so that the total levy stands as follows:

$2,049,363,688	at	2.14	$43,856,382.92
57,121,217	at	1.8276	1,043,947.36
Total			$44,900,330.28

In the Courts.

Luke A. Lockwood, as guardian of Josephine F. Egan, secured from Justice Stover, in the Supreme Court, an order temporarily restraining the Health Board from interfering with the tenants of, or the tenement itself, No. 55 James street. Later the Court vacated the injunction for the reason that proper notice had not been given to the Health Board.

Edward Nicholson, owner of lot No. 224 West 116th street, has brought suit in the Supreme Court against Eugene Clifford Potter, owner of the apartment house at No. 222, of the same street, to obtain restoration of 2¾ inches of land on which the apartment house is said to encroach, and for $1,000 damages for the use of the same.

Bond and Mortgage Guarantee Co.

A quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. has been declared by the Board of Directors of the Bond and Mortgage Guarantee Co., whose offices are at No. 26 Court street, Brooklyn. This is excellent evidence of the good business done and the success of this company. Notice of closing and opening of the books for this dividend will be found in our advertising columns.

Rapid Transit.

The Rapid Transit Railroad Commission finds that it cannot approve the proposition of the Manhattan Elevated Railroad Co. for an extension of its lines. They have adopted the following resolutions:

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

The Department of Public Works has jumped the charge for permission to construct vaults under the sidewalk, from 75 cents to $2 per square foot of space occupied. As may be imagined, this has caused no end of dissatisfaction among owners and builders. The Department rests its right to increase this charge on Chapter 6, Article 10, Section 184 of the Revised Ordinances of 1880, which authorizes the Commissioner of Public Works to charge for the privilege of constructing vaults a rate of not less than thirty cents or more than $2 per square foot.

There are so many failures to furnish certificates of measurement of vaults when completed that the Department of Public Works proposes to proceed to recover penalties. Much of this neglect, probably, is due to ignorance of the ordinances. It may be stated, therefore, that the Revised Ordinances of 1880 state that it shall be the duty of every person, for whom any vault or cistern that may be constructed under the public way to procure the same to be measured by one of the city surveyors and to deliver to the Commissioner of Public Works a certificate of the said measurement, signed by such surveyor, before the arching of such vault or cistern shall be commenced, under penalty of $100. It may be stated, too, that it is not the custom of the Department to insist on this certificate being presented before the vault or cistern is completed, but after that they require it to be done.

One of the Very Best Helps.

I received the last bound volume of the "Record and Guide" to-day. I want to thank you for the new index. It is one of the very best "helps" to a broker ever given, and I'm beginning to think the "exchanges and information bureaus" will soon have to go out of business if you keep on with your improvements. Without the "Record" one would really be lost as far as keeping up with the realty market is concerned. S. H. STONE.

Note.

The price of the new improved index to the "Record and Guide" is $1 per volume, or $2 per year. You can't do without it. Send an order to the offices of publication, "Record and Guide," 14-16 Vesey street.

Real Estate Market.

The brokers have succeeded this week in rolling up a total of about $1,200,000 representative of the investment made by private contract. A trade or two have contributed materially to the aggregate. Had there been any prospect of an improvement in the market, the exceedingly hot weather experienced since Monday would have effectually negatived it. As it is, the total business reported cannot be considered otherwise than satisfactory for this season of the year, especially in view of the untoward conditions prevailing.

Legal sales, one-half of which went over to future dates or were adjourned sine die, were all that a limited number of midsummer speculators had to engage their attention in the auction rooms this week. That they were not particularly interested in any of them is evident from the frequency with which the respective plaintiffs are named as buyers. The property withdrawn from foreclosure sale comprised No. 164 Division street, Nos. 60 and 62 Lispenard street, and a plot of four lots on the northwest corner of Bradhurst avenue and 148th street. The adjournments beyond the 17th inst., which date is included in our list of announcements printed in another column, were: Sales of No. 12 5th avenue and No. 45 East 76th street, by D. P. Ingraham & Co., and Peter F. Meyer & Co., respectively, to the 18th inst.,

and another of No. 569 West End avenue, by Philip A. Smyth, to Sept. 2.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

E. A. Cruikshank & Co. have sold for Mrs. James P. Kernochan at about $350,000, the "Madison," a high-class apartment hotel, on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and 25th street. It consists of two connected buildings, one of four stories, occupying the corner lot, 49.4x100, and another of five stories, covering the adjoining street lot, 25x98.9. The seller acquired the property in 1876 for $112,500, but the difference between that sum and the present contract price is not all profit by any means. It can be said that the present hotel is practically a new building, when the amount spent since 1876 on additions and alterations is taken into consideration. Not over six weeks ago plans were filed for Mrs. Kernochan calling for alterations in the corner building, to cost $25,000, and they are now under way. A restaurant has long been a feature of the house. No information has been obtained regarding the identity of the buyer.

Geo. R. Read has sold for John H. Waydell to David S. Brown the plot, 200.10x about 225, comprising the block front on the east side of 12th avenue, between 51st and 52d streets, with adjoining lots. The presumption is that the purchase has been made to secure a site for a manufactory.

T. H. Ellson has sold for Melissa R. Holmes the five-story stone front dwelling with lot, 25x98.9, No. 440 West 23d street, to Theodore Wilson, who will give in exchange the dwelling No. 167 Taylor street, Brooklyn, which it is said has been accepted at a valuation of $10,000. Mrs. Holmes, as plaintiff, bought in the 23d street house at foreclosure sale on July 20 for $22,000, and is reported to have disposed of it by means of the trade at a satisfactory advance.

The St. James Company has been incorporated, with a capital stock of $500,000 for the purpose of erecting the new sixteen-story building recently referred to as projected on the St. James' Hotel site at Broadway and 26th street. The incorporators are Charles M. Rosecrantz and John L. Martin, of this city; Albert S. Ridley, J. N. Stout and J. E. Pennock.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Lawrence Buckley has bought for immediate improvement, three lots on the south side of 104th street, 460 feet west of Columbus avenue. Three modern five-story flats will be erected on the plot.

Henry M. Denton has bought of Richard Croker the plot 62.6x100.11, Nos. 34 to 38 West 125th street, with Nos. 31 and 33 West 124th street, 42.6x100.11, adjoining in the rear, the easterly line of both being continuous. The 125th street property was acquired by the seller in 1889 for an expressed consideration of $65,000, a small sum as values were quoted then, but as the transfer was from one of Mr. Croker's henchmen to another, each acting as his representative, the consideration can hardly be accepted as reliable. The 124th street parcels were subsequently purchased for a total of $31,000. On April 7 the property was offered at auction by Peter F. Meyer, and bought in at $110,000. Among the auditors on that occasion was Russell Sage who it was whispered about in the salesroom previous to the property being offered desired to buy it "cheap" for the Standard Gas Light Company, of which he is president. Uncle "Russ" did not, however, join personally in the bidding. The price agreed to by Mr. Denton, we are reliably informed, is less than the April auction price, but not below $100,000, and the very latest regarding the transaction is that the incentive to the purchase was an agreement by Mr. Sage, representing the gas company, to lease for a long term a brick and iron store and office building toward the erection of which the buyer has already taken the necessary preliminary steps.

Dilger & Osten have sold for Mrs. Buderus the lot 25x102.2, No. 111 East 83d street, to Jacob Pizer for improvement by the erection of a flat.

Builder William C. Turner has sold from the plans to George Heeseman the four five-story flats with stores, plot 100.11x100, that are now rising from the foundations on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 113th street.

John P. Kirwan has negotiated a trade between Builder Samuel W. B. Smith and ex-Dock Commissioner James J. Phelan, by the terms of which the former will sell at about $200,000 the four new five-story brick flats with stores, plot 100.8x100, on the southeast corner of Amsterdam avenue and 89th street, and take in exchange at about $52,000, from Mr. Phelan, the two three-story brick dwellings, 18x54x100.8 each, Nos. 28 and 42 West 91st street. The disposal of Mr. Smith's row of flats has for some time been a source of friendly contention between Columbus avenue brokers, who have been suggesting trades on all sorts of terms and for every grade of property.

Henry Hubener has sold the four-story stone front tenement with lot, 25x100.11, No. 114 East 107th street, which he acquired in January, 1890, for a consideration of $14,750.

James Dunne has bought of H. Lange at about $24,000, the three-story stone front dwelling, with lot, 17.11x80, No. 692 West End avenue, between 98th and 99th streets.

The four-and-a-half-story dwelling, 15x62x100, No. 153 West End avenue, between 71st and 72d streets, has been sold by Mrs. Jessie W. Kirkland to Mrs. Mary G. E. Aldrich for $30,000.

Builder Furman V. Gaines has sold the five-story brick flat on the west side of Columbus avenue, 75 feet south of 109th street. It is one of a new row of six nearly finished.

Jesse C. Bennett has sold for Flora Douglass the four-story stone front dwelling, No. 264 West 77th street, to a Mr. Shirley for about $31,000.

NORTH SIDE.

Charles M. Kaeppel has sold for Charles Gerding a plot of six lots on the southeast corner of Bathgate avenue and 179th street, to J. J. O'Brien, who purposes erecting three-family flats thereon. The price reported is about $15,000. The same broker has sold for a Mrs. Kirkham the lot and modern cottage on the southeast corner of Vanderbilt avenue and 174th street, for something less than $5,500.

Obituary.

DE WITT CLINTON WEEKS.

It is with extreme regret that we read in the mortuary record of last Monday the name of De Witt Clinton Weeks, a name that has been prominently and honorably associated with the building interests of this city for more than half a century. At the time of his death D. C. Weeks was the senior member of the contracting firm of D. C. Weeks & Son, although he had, for about two years, on account of his age and decreasing health, retired from active participation in the affairs of the firm, which, during that time were, and are now, exclusively directed by his son Francis M. Weeks. At the time of his death D. C. Weeks was 76 years old, and it may be said that he passed his whole life in the building trade, being the son of a builder and having early in life accepted his father's occupation as his own. The work with which his name is identified is equally great in quality as in quantity. It embraces a large number of domestic and commercial buildings and charitable institutions on the islands in the East River, belonging to the city. What stamps Mr. Weeks' name and work with the highest commendation is that he was associated with the late Richard M. Hunt in carrying out those ideas on which rest that great architect's fame. The most notable achievement in this line was the building of "Biltmore," the North Carolina seat of George W. Vanderbilt, for which D. C. Weeks & Son had the masonry and plastering contract and to which the firm devoted themselves exclusively during the period of construction. At one time they had 350 men at work on this important contract and the senior partner spent much of the time in the saddle overlooking the receipt and placing of materials, quarrying stone for foundations and other work that required long distances to be rapidly got over, where established communications were none. It was while engaged on this work that D. C. Weeks found it necessary to retire from business. The trade regrets the loss of a man who not only in his business dealings was all that an honorable, upright man should be, but one who was a representative figure before the world of what the building interests can achieve, not only in architectural development, but in the promotion of the highest good of the trade, and in the relief of its unfortunate members through the organizations identified with the social and charitable sides of the industry. The funeral took place on Thursday, last, from the late residence of the departed, Mott avenue and 163d street.

Concerning Real Estate Agents and Brokers.

Stephen McCormick, of Madison avenue and 129th street, is one of the most active and successful brokers and agents in that part of the city. Our "Gossip" column frequently contains mention of transactions negotiated by him and an increasing clientele bears testimony to his success as an agent and manager of estates. Mr. McCormick's references are first-class, and he pays strict attention to all business intrusted to him. His telephone call is 341 Harlem.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Five years ago the first step was made of an innovation as important to the building and allied trades as was the introduction of the mercantile credit reporting system, represented by Bradstreet's and Dun's, to merchants and manufacturers at large.

We refer to the Daily Verified Building-News Report System, which has become, with a great number of the larger material houses of New York and New England, one of the most important of the means they use for the sale of their goods. With them these Reports are a necessary part of the every-day machinery of trade.

Since the system was originally introduced several concerns have attempted to supply the public with an adequate service—prompt, reliable, efficient—but all have failed, from one defect or another, to establish themselves, except three concerns—F. W. Dodge & Co., Guild & Lord and The United States Building News Company. These companies to-day cover a large part of the United States with services which are essentially satisfactory; for these organizations possess long experience, abundant capital and extensive plants for the collection of news. They have been the educators of the Public to the use of building reports, and they have occupied the field thoroughly and progressively.

There prevails to-day, however, an increasing demand for a service of much wider scope than exists at present. Large firms are cultivating more distant markets, and concerns representing many trades which have hitherto made no use of a report service are calling for news that necessitates extensive additions to existing facilities. To meet these and other demands, an arrangement has been made whereby the interests of the United States Building News Co., Guild & Lord and F. W. Dodge & Co. will henceforth be consolidated and managed from a central office in New York City, with branches in Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia. The New Corporation Includes a Majority of Those Who Were Interested in the Older Concerns, and the Future Conduct of the Business Will Remain in the Same Hands as Heretofore. Clients, therefore, will retain unchanged the guarantees of the past for excellence of service, progressive policy and fair dealing. The larger capital employed will produce much more extended and greatly improved facilities.

The new corporation takes over entirely the report business (the report business only) hitherto carried on by F. W. Dodge & Co., of New York and Boston; Guild & Lord, of Boston and Philadelphia; United States Building News Co, of New York City. It has also acquired the rights and interests of the New York Building Material Exhibition in the Cammeyer Building, 310 6th avenue, southeast corner of 20th street, New York City. The new concern will be known as "The F. W. Dodge Co." (Incorporated), and subscribers are hereby informed that contracts in force between the first named concerns, their subscribers and others (so far only as the report services and the Exhibition are concerned) have been assumed by "The F. W. Dodge Co." (Incorporated), to which have also been assigned all the accounts therefor due the aforesaid concerns. Checks in settlement of such accounts should henceforth be made payable to "The F. W. Dodge Co."

All communications should be addressed either to the Headquarters of the new company, Cammeyer Building, 310 6th avenue, New York City, or to the Boston Office, No. 146 Franklin street, Boston, Mass.

Rates and other information can be obtained upon application. The service of the new company will cover practically the whole of the United States.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the Deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that is is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at the foot of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—There has been no improvement in the general situation of the market; in fact, the tone has continued weak and in some instances we understand that sellers have accepted rather low prices to do business. Accumulation in receivers' hands have continued large, as arrivals from up the river have been fairly free while demand has been only moderate not having been sufficient to absorb the offerings. Prices have ranged from $4.00@4.75 for ordinary to good brick, and for specials $4.87½@5.00 has been quoted. Haverstraw bricks have sold within a range of $4.37½@4.75, according to quality. The report that the association of brick manufacturers was in a weakened position was positively denied by the treasurer of the company. Pale brick was in fairly good request for the best grades, and they sold readily at $2.00. The poorer grades, however, were not wanted, and were quoted nominally at $1.50@1.75. A fairly steady market was reported for the best grades of Jersey brick, of which only a limited supply has been brought forward, and they have sold at prices ranging from $4.00@4.25, although we have heard some talk of sales at $3.75. Keyport brick has had very little call and have been quoted nominally at about $3.50.

IRON AND STEEL.—Only a very moderate amount of business has been transacted in the market for pig iron, and while no changes have been made in quoted values there has been a general absence of tone to the situation. We quote at $11.50@12.50 per ton for No. 1 X foundry, $11.25@11.75 for No. 2 X do., and $10.75@11.25 for Gray Forge. The demand for old material has been rather slow, but prices have been fairly well maintained. We quote at $13.00@13.50 for old iron rails; $12@12.25 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $11.00@11.50 for cast scrap; $12.25@12.50 for old car wheels, and $7.00@9.50 for borings, stove plate, etc. There has been no interesting developments in the market for manufactured iron and steel. Business has been decidedly unsatisfactory and the tendency of prices has been toward a lower basis, but no changes of importance have been made in quotations. New steel rails have been quoted unchanged at $28 f. o. b.

LATH.—At the prices now ruling the market has shown a fair amount of tone. There has been no snap to demand, but buyers have appeared ready to take supplies when offered and the receipts the past week, which have amounted to more than 5,000,000, have all been placed at prices ranging from $1.55@$1.65.

LIME.—There was a fairly steady tone to the market for lime. The stock of Rockland appear to be concentrated in the hands of one concern and as supplies arriving have been somewhat limited the price has been fairly well held. Thomaston has shown no changes. We quote 60@65c for common Thomaston and Rockland, and 70@75c. for finishing do. Of State and St. John lime there has been practically none on the market, and quotations have been largely nominal.

LUMBER.—As regards the general market, nothing of an encouraging nature has transpired during the week under review. Buyers have continued very indifferent in their operations, confining their purchases, with very few exceptions, to small orders, about sufficient to fill their immediate needs showing no disposition to anticipate wants. Consequently, there has been a general absence of stability to prices, although no changes have been made in quotations but for both white and yellow pine buyers have continued to experience very little difficulty in obtaining concessions. Perhaps the most pronounced weakness has been for the coarse grades of white pine for which there has been practically no demand, and when a buyer does appear in the market for this grade of lumber he can practically make his own terms. North Carolina pine has moved very slowly, and prices have ruled in buyers' favor.

The bright spot in the market has been Eastern spruce. For this there has been a moderate inuiry latterly, and during the past week or ten days we understand that orders for about 5,000,000 feet, more particularly heavy timber, have been placed at full market rates. Another development that has given additional encouragement to this particular market has been a report received from Bangor, Me., stating that an order for about 2,000,000 feet English deals had just been closed at 10c. This is the first transaction of its kind at that market in several years. West Virginia spruce has moved rather slowly, a few car load lots have been sold with prices unchanged, and about steady. State spruce has received very little attention.

For cypress there has been a gradual falling off in the demand latterly, and at present business is slow. The offerings, however, have continued fairly liberal and buyers we understand have been able to obtain supplies at concessions. A report that Southern manufacturers were contemplating doing business direct with this market has been a topic of some interest to commission merchants.

No changes have occurred in the market for hemlock. Only a very moderate amount of business has been transacted, but as there has been only limited offerings, and advices from the mills have been firm, buyers have found it necessary to pay full market prices to do business.

The market for hardwoods has shown no important changes. A limited amount of poplar has appeared to be moving, but the prices, so it is reported, have been rather low. The call for oak was limited to a few small orders, but buyers laid particular stress upon the fact that they wanted immediate deliveries; in fact, it has been quite the rule with their orders for all styles of hardwoods; prices have shown no changes ruling fairly steady; ash has been quiet and easy; other woods have shown no changes.

The midsummer dullness and the quiet spring trade that led up to it is causing a great many white pine operators to plan to shut down sawing much earlier than usual the coming fall, says the "Mississippi Valley Lumberman." It is reported that Mr. Weyerhaeuser will probably close down the greater part of the companies in which he is interested early in September, if conditions do not change.

The July circular entitled "Facts and Figures," issued by the Southern Lumber Manufacturers' Association, under the direct supervision of Geo. K. Smith, secretary, says the "Northwestern Lumberman," reports stocks on hand at the yellow pine mills in Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, Indian Territory, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina and Virginia. Requests to the number of 985 were sent out, and replies from 249 were received. The inquiries were sent to the larger mills, and Secretary Smith thinks that they probably cover a large per cent of the stocks on hand. A summary of the replies indicates that there is on hand 452,966,877 feet of lumber at the mills reporting. About the same number of mills, and largely the same mills, have sent in reports for 1895, showing a total of 1,842,000,000 feet cut in that year. 1,877,172,000 feet shipped, and 508,131,000 feet on hand Jan. 1, 1896. This would indicate a shrinkage of more than 50,000,000 feet in stocks on hand since Jan. 1, 1896. The Secretary adds: "If it were not for the fact that producing and drying capacity had been increased since January this decrease in visible supply would be a most encouraging feature." The number of reports is the largest ever resulting from a single request, and thus strengthens the belief, in the opinion of the Secretary, that before long every manufacturer of yellow pine will answer a request for statistics as promptly as a letter asking quotations on stock which he is anxious to sell. Replies from numerous mill concerns in several States indicate dull trade, though some say that demand is fair, but prices low and unsatisfactory. There is also much complaint of the scalpers and middle men, who seem to have the market under their feet, as is usual when trade is dull. There is a variety of reports about the kinds of stock in short or ample supply. The call for car sills and strips is considerable in the Gulf States, and in some localities there is a comparative shortage of 2x4 in certain lengths, clear finishing lumber, 12-inch boards, quarter-sawed flooring, etc. Generally speaking, however, stocks and assortments are full.

METALS.—There has been a further reduction in values for ingot copper. Business has continued slow as the export trade appears to be satisfied, at least for the present, and from the home trade very little inquiry has been reported. At the close, however, there was some buying of small lots, and at this writing the market for Lake Superior was steady at 11@11.15c.; other descriptions were quoted at 10⅝@11c. For manufactured copper there has been only a limited inquiry; prices have been unchanged. We quote: For sheets, 32x72 ins. and 36x96 ins., 16@25c. as to weight; 30x longer than 96 ins., 16@19c; do. 36x72 ins., 16@26c.; 36x96 ins., 25c.; 36x100 ins., 16@19c.; 36x longer than 120 ins., 16@18c.; 48x72 ins., 16@26c.; 48x96 ins., 16@24c.; 48x120 ins., 16@24c.; 48x longer than 120 ins., 16@22c.; 60x72 ins., 16@27c.; 60x96 ins., 16@25c.; 60x120 ins., 16@22c.; 60x longer than 120 ins., 16@24c.; 72x96 ins., 16@24c.; 72x144 ins., 16@26c.; 72x longer than 144 ins., 17@24c.; 108x120 ins., 17@25c.; 108x longer than 128 ins., 19@20c.; wider than 108x144 ins., 20x22c.; wider than 108 and longer than 144 ins., 21@24c. Bolt copper, ⅜-in. diameter and over, 16c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 ins. diameter and less, 3c. above prices of sheets of same thickness; circles 60 to 90 do. do., 4c. do.; circles 96 do. and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. All polished copper 1c. per lb. advance over cold rolled copper, when 20 ins. wide and under, and 2c. advance when more than 20 ins. wide. Copper bottoms, 20@26c. per lb.

There has been a decidedly tame market for pig lead. Business has been at a very low ebb, as buyers have been quite indifferent in their operations,and prices have been further reduced to 2.85@3c. The manufactures of lead are quoted at 5¼c. for pipe, 6¼c. for sheet, 12½c. for tin-lined pipe, and 25c. for block tin pipe. Spelter has sold slowly and prices have declined to 3.90@3.95c. There has been no improvement developed in the market for Straits tin; fluctuations in prices have been narrow, and although there has been very little activity to business, prices have held steadily on foreign advices. We quote $13.45@13.50 f. o. b. for regular lots, and $13.55@13.60 for jobbing parcels. For tin-plate there has been a very slow market, and prices have been lowered slightly. We quote as follows: I. C. charcoal, Melyn grade, $4.62½@4.65; Allaway grade, $3.90@3.95; Allaway grade, I. X., $4.70@4.75; charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, $5.80@6.00; M. F. grade, 20x28, $11.60@11.70; Worcester, 14@20, $4.10@4.15; Worcester, 20x28, $8.00@8.05; American coke tin, 14x20, $3.25@3.60; American charcoal terne, 14x20, $3.60@3.75, and 20x28, $7.25@7.50; I. C. coke, Bessemer steel, heavy, $3.50@3.75; Bessemer steel, light, 14x20, $3.25@3.35.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—There have been no changes in the general situation of the market. The amount of business transacted has been very moderate as buyers have continued to limit their purchases to the actual wants, showing no disposition to anticipate wants. There was no pressure to sell, however, and prices were fairly well maintained. A moderate amount of white lead was moving on old contracts, but in the way of new business very little was accomplished. The Association figures on lead last announced are as follows, subject to change without notice. Pure white lead, dry or in oil, red lead, and litharge in kegs, in lots of 500 lbs. and over, 5¼c.; red lead and litharge in barrels and half barrels, ¼c. per lb. less than the price in kegs; white lead (cases), 1c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead in 25-lb. tin pails (packed in 100-lb. or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead, assorted in 1-lb., 2-lb., 3-lb. and 5-lb. cans (packed in 100 or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs. Terms: On lots of 500 lbs. and over, 60 days, or 2 per cent discount for cash, if paid within 15 days from date of invoice f. o. b. at New York. Special prices for dry white lead in barrels. Quantities: To make either of above assorted quantities and assortment of packages either or all of the articles may be counted. The above prices and terms supersese all previous prices and terms offered by this company. The market for linseed oil has been weaker. Western crushers have been offering supplies rather freely at reduced prices, and city crushers have lowered their prices, as a consequence. Business, however, has shown no improvement. The call for deliveries on contracts has been very moderate and in the way of new transactions practically nothing has been done. At this writing American was quoted at 31c. for 5-barrel lots or over, and 32c. for less than 5-barrel lots; do. boiled was at 33@34c.; Calcutta was at 50c. Western crushed oil was quoted at 30@31c. There has been considerable improvement in the tone of the market for spirits turpentine, and many of the trade appear to be of the impression that bottom prices have been touched. Demand latterly has shown a decided improvement, business having been on a fairly extensive scale, and for future deliveries higher prices have been asked. For September delivery 25c. is bid and refused for machine barrels, and for October delivery 25¾c. is bid and refused for do. Spot prices are 24c. for regulars and 24¾c. for machines. We quote at 24@25¼c. per gallon, according to time and place of delivery, quantity, style of package, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—Very little interest has been shown in the market for tar, and, while no changes have been made in quotations, there has been a generally easier tone in consequence of easier advices from Southern markets. The call for pitch has been limited to a few small jobbing orders; prices quoted unchanged. We quote tar at $1.65@1.85 in pine or Wilmington barrels $2.40@2.50 in pork barrels; and $3.25 in oil barrels. Pitch, $1.85@1.90.

BUT for the fact that we are in the dog days we would expect to see business that has been set back by political conditions start up again; but the weather, whether wet or dry, is not conducive to exertion and consequently we will have to wait for a revival that in a more temperate season would be certainly immediate. After the holidays there will surely be spirits bold enough to take hold of work for late fall and winter season, without waiting for a count of the votes next November. Of course we have not seen all the effects of the scare that followed Mr. Bryan's nomination, but that event scares no longer. Of the stock market we can repeat with more confidence the prophesy we ventured to make last week, that securities are a purchase not only because prices have been depressed beyond any warrant to be found in the properties on which they are based, but also because the week has so changed the appearance of the political situation. There will come again a time when prices will fall off again, and at the same time the silver standard will appear to be more in the ascendant—when, for instance, Mr. Bryan gets off his platitudes in the South and West and arouses enthusiasm among people who hear what they want to hear and are willing to accept statement without supporting facts or arguments, or sophistries because they are of the same color as the work of their own minds. But even in these times prices will not go off because they are threatened by anything that Mr. Bryan or his friends can do, but because they will have meantime advanced and the speculation will have become so general that a decline will be naturally in order.

"ALL things come to him who waits" is a saying that has particular application to John Bull. Less than a year ago, after publicly threatening the Turk with dismemberment, he had to confess his inability to extend his hand to aid the Armenians, owing to the opposition of the other Great Powers; he was as good as threatened with war from this side of the Atlantic in the Venezuelan dispute, the precise nature of which we had to appoint a special commission to discover, and which has not yet discovered it. "Dr. Jim" drew trouble and ridicule on his own nation by his absurd plunge into the Transvaal; the German Kaiser had to increase the mischief by his impudent message to President Kruger, and Russia was having everything her own way in Corea and China. So, on the whole, things looked bad all around for John Bull. To-day he, by refusing to join in the blockade of Crete to cut off supplies from the unfortunate people in revolt against the cruelty and exactions of their Turkish rulers, while allowing the oppressors free ingress and exit from the ports of the island, has turned the tables upon the European diplomats and earned the approval of all decent thinking men; the Venezuelan incident has resolved itself into a negotiation for permanent arbitration between the two great English speaking peoples; "Dr. Jim" is at last in jail, and the conditions in South Africa are more favorable to peace than they have been for some years, now that the Boers have shown a disposition to make concessions to the Uitlanders, and last, but most significant of all, Li Hung Chang, the most prominent of Chinese, makes an open appeal to John Bull for aid to shake off the Muscovite yoke, which his country already finds to be galling. While these changes in political conditions have been coming about, business in Great Britain has been most active and profitable. This makes a most remarkable record, and shows the value of a political system which can work without friction. The failure of the Conservative ministry to carry the measures to which it was pledged, may call for a rearrangement of their forces, but has no greater importance. German politicians have adopted one of the practices of their American brethern, i. e., using Great Britain to draw away the attention of the people, when they become too pressing in a particular direction. Just now to quiet the Agrarian and other noisy elements they throw out promises of sounding the British government on the question of the advisability of calling another silver conference. The last thing in the world that the responsible rulers of Germany desire to see is the so-called rehabitlitation of silver. They make their promises confident that Great Britain will reject their proposals, and in this way they escape whatever odium arises from insisting upon the gold standard. This is not very honorable or honest and may one day fail them. British politicians may agree to a conference knowing that nothing can come of it and the German government will appear as foolish as our own did at Brussels, when it had nothing to propose in a conference called at its particular request.

PERHAPS the business community will now take heart and give more attention to the good features of the commercial situation. Free silver is yet to be beaten, but to-day its defeat is more palpably sure than it has been since it was made the rallying cry of the crowd that usurped the functions of the Democratic party at Chicago last month. It is to be sincerely hoped that the efforts to meet the financial heresies of the agricultural and other unthinking classes, will be in no measure relaxed, and especially that the conversion of those who think they must vote for Mr. Bryan because he is in some sort the Democratic nominee from the error of their ways will be pushed unceasingly. Victory is sure to the sound money forces, but what is wanted, in order to prevent the recurrence of a period of frequent scares and interruptions to business, such as we have had since the passage of the Sherman Silver bill, is victory so sweeping and convincing that it will prepare the way for such legislation as will put the Treasury and the national currency beyond the influence of popular or political movements. One thing that will help this object is more cheerfulness in business circles, and this cheerfulness will be best induced by promises of better things. The Treasury report of our export trade for July, for instance, is one that ought to give encouragement. It shows that in that month the shipments of breadstuffs, cotton, mineral, oils and provisions were valued at $35,402,685, which set in comparison with $29,444,337, the value of the same articles exported in July of last year, is very satisfactory, favoring as it does last month by nearly $6,000,000. The export returns of these classes of goods for the seven months of the fiscal year ended on the 31st ultimo, are also good, inasmuch as their value was more than $16,000,000 greater than similar returns for the like portion of the previous fiscal year. This result is brought about by including eleven months' cotton exports in last year's figures, so that the comparison really favors this year more than the figures show.

WHATEVER may be the effects elsewhere, the real estate world of this city has apparently little difficulty in obtaining money, the political conditions notwithstanding. Rates have, however, shown a tendency to rise and it is a little more difficult than it was a couple of months ago to raise large loans; but small borrowers apparently find little difficulty in supplying their wants if they are willing to pay the increased rates. These conclusions are based upon an examination of our weekly comparative tables of mortgages, which have recently shown a falling off in the number and value of the loans made at the rates below five per cent and some increase in both those made at five per cent and those at higher rates. Taking the tables from July 4th until that published in our last issue of the 8th inst., which may be taken to fairly represent the conditions created by the Bryan nomination, we find that in six weeks the mortgages recorded in New York City at less than five per cent numbered 232 and were for a total sum of $7,288,444; while for the corresponding six weeks of 1895, the number was 254 and the amount $8,300,300, a difference in number of 22 and of money of $1,011,856. These differences are not by any means startling, and may be explained by several causes besides the one to which all business changes and depressions are now attributed. Coming to the loans at five per cent, we find that in the six weeks 954 mortgages were made for a total of $14,546,630, 37 more than were made in the same period of 1895, and representing $3,825,915 more in money. There were 24 more at over five per cent with an increased consideration of $1,131,800, the figures being 868 and $6,647,190, and 844 and $5,515,390, respectively. Taking it another way we find that the average amount of loan at less than five per cent for the six weeks last year was about $32,700, while for the same time this year it was only about $31,400; the average of the five per cent mortgage for this year is about $15,200, while it was only $11,700 for last year, and the average for those above five per cent was about $7,700, as compared with $6,500, as the average for those made at the same rate and in the same period in 1895. We are informed that no such rates are demanded now as were asked in 1893, but still the figures we have given show the upward working of the market which will be accelerated should distrust continue to grow.

THE present presidential campaign reduces to palpable absurdity the ancient idiotic campaign talk about England's interest in our affairs. We now have McKinley telling the voters of the country that Democratic Free Trade is an alien policy stimulated by British gold in order to secure our markets for the rascally nation of shopkeepers, and we have Bryan assuring our people that the Republicans are sold out body and soul to British bankers and gold-bugs. Assuming that both parties are speaking the truth and telling only what they positively know we are forced to the conclusion that the entire nation is purposely and venially engaged in playing into the hands of the foreigner. The humor of the situation must strike the dullest. The outsider has only to take our own statements for the fact that there isn't an honest patriot in the country unless we except the Populists who haven't yet been charged with criminal intercourse with the English. But no doubt the Britisher will be after them as soon as they are worth purchasing, and he ought to be able to get them for a song compared with the sum that the Cobden Club must have paid to secure the Democratic party for Free Trade or the Lombard street gold-bugs have handed over to make the Republican party the enemies of American silver.

THE constant appeal to national prejudice is a disgrace to our "politics" and an affront to the good common sense of the American people. We make ourselves out a lot of tricksters and babies when we talk as Bryan did in his Madison Square Garden speech about "servitude to foreign countries." If faith in the gold standard, based upon the experience of other nations as well as upon our own experience, be "servitude," then likewise our doctors, our lawyers, our chemists, our physicists, our engineers, architects, mechanicians, astronomers, writers are serfs—all are serfs—to the despicable European, for none does and none can isolate himself from knowledge acquired abroad by co-workers in his particular field of activity. The experience, large as it may be, which any one country possesses in any matter is only a fragment of the greater wisdom which the entire human race has hammered out of life. And in monetary science as in all other sciences the nation that is perversely local and is prejudiced against knowledge from an alien source as certainly dwarfs itself as the individual does who refuses to learn from the teachings of others. The appeal to prejudice which Bryan and the Silverites are perpetually sounding belittles their cause. The United States should not stick to the gold standard merely because the greater nations of Europe have adopted it; neither should it rush to silver because Europe has discarded the white metal. Such considerations have nothing to do with the question. If gold is European, then silver may be called Asiatic, and both characterizations are really foreign to the dispute. Let us take the best and the widest experience possible for our guide, and accept wisdom wherever it is to be found.

HAVING referred last week to the reports that Senator Hill's amendment—protecting prior gold contracts—to the free coinage of silver plank of the Chicago platform was to after all be made part of the plank, it becomes necessary to say that the reports are different now. The momentary understanding is that the official version of the platform is not to contain the amendment, and gold contracts have to take their chances with retroactive legislation should any be attempted. Whether this latest change in the official version of the platform is due to the failure of the Arkansas Senator to draw Senator Hill into alliance with the Bryan forces is a matter that will interest those people known as practical politicians. The business man is more interested in knowing whether, if he makes a contract now, he will be able to enforce it under any and all circumstances. If he is able to do so it, apparently, will not be with the consent of the free silver party. So long as the judicial system of the country is left untouched, a contract whether for gold, silver or lead is safe, but the silver party do not regard the Courts as inviolable and expressly threaten to mould them to their will. Happily, however, the chances point away from their obtaining a position from which they can execute their threats, and any discussion of what will be the result to a gold contract should they come into power is wasted energy, and by the same reasoning, the gold clause itself is of very problematic value. But this incident shows the baby-like unscrupulousness of the Bryan party, who could, in the face of the most positive evidence to the contrary, declare an amendment to their chief plank adopted, and turn face only a few days after.

The Contemporary City Dwelling.

Over in the region of West End avenue, in the eighties, there are a good many new houses springing up in rows, some up to the second tier, some roofed in, some in process of plastering; few yet far enough advanced, having been begun, naturally, but a few months ago, for intelligent examination or criticism. The general character of the exteriors shows how rapidly novelties of design, first made familiar in more important buildings, are seized upon and used by the builder of houses for the general market. The brickwork that was formerly speckled or brown is now red, simulating rough brick, and laid with half-inch white mortar joints, so far have we left behind the Baltimore front with rodcut putty joints of yore. Or if not a red, a shade of dark brown or drab, or as nearly white as possible, trimmed with light colored stone, which we have found better looking and almost as cheap as terra cotta besides far more to be depended upon when it is wanted.

There is a group of such houses in outward appearance as these last described on 85th and 86th streets, close to West End avenue and east of it, five or six on each street, the lots adjoining at the rear.

The cellars are unusually light and attractive, made so partly by a device that we have not before seen, although it is rash to say that any such thing is quite new. At least it may be said to be quite out of the common.

The cellar stair is studded up underneath, plastered inside and out and provided with a neat panelled, not battened door, making altogether a spacious light closet, useful for a wine room, perhaps, or a preserve closet, and doing away with the dark nook under the cellar stairs where spiders love to swing their trapezes.

As wine-drinking at table, instead of at bars, becomes more and more the custom of the country, it may be desirable to fit up the cellars of city houses with some provisions for bottles, in the form of suitable shelving, possibly vitrified clay pigeonholes and slatted enclosures.

In the kitchens of these houses the range breasts are, as usual, built with white glazed brick. Behind the sinks and boilers up to the ceiling, the plaster has been lined off into a semblance of 6-inch tiles and painted white, giving a very close imitation to glazed brick. The lining off is done by a slightly sunken line, not a painted one. When not too costly, a kitchen or laundry looks well with all the walls done in that way, as may be seen in a good many of the speculative houses of something under the best class.

As for the more ornamental rooms, at the very entrance of the houses with round bays, a novelty discovers itself. Although the houses are of the American basement type, the designer has thought it well to separate the entrance hall into a reception-room and passage, much as is done in narrow high stoop houses. Moreover, these particular reception rooms are made very attractive in appearance by the rounding of the rear ends to match the front bays, giving an oblong plan with two semi-circular ends, a very graceful arrangement, not quite equal to an elliptical plan, but more convenient in practice, as it gives a flat side for a doorway and another for a mantel, and is, moreover, easier and cheaper to lay out correctly.

The main story front windows go down to the floor, while outside a pretty stone balustrade runs across, giving safety and adornment at once. The woodwork of these front rooms, at least of some of them, is prima vera, picked out with gold, not unprecedented, indeed, but appearing novel among the multitude of white and gold parlors that are done nowadays.

In some other American basement houses there is a tendency to overdo the central staircase hall on the first, that is the principal story, by putting into it mantels disproportionately large, much larger than those of either the parlors or dining-rooms adjoining. More than once we have noted such extending from floor to ceiling, and reaching out at both sides, by shelves, or mirrors, or cupboards, so as to cover the whole side opposite the stairs.

In the second stories, instead of two basins in the passage between front and rear rooms, a single basin only is provided, and even this is placed nearest to the rear room, which in these 85th street houses, is also connected with an extension bath-room.

The intention seems to be that the front room shall be used for a sitting-room rather than a bedroom; besides this there must be a good deal of piping saved.

There is an entire relinquishment in all private house work of the corner block architraves that for a time prevailed. When these were first given up the habit of mitering the whole architrave sprang up. This can be done so as to stand only with great care and first rate material and workmanship, otherwise the mitre is sure to open afterwards. This defect has caused a return to the old method of making the flat part of the architrave with butt joints and mitering the mouldings upon it. We shall soon have, perhaps, a full return to backbands and mouldings, or the slightly different arrangement called backband mouldings in ancient specifications, or even to undercut ovolas.

One other detail, by no means new, but not so frequent as to have become commonplace, is the 7-foot high dining-room wainscot that some houses show with a continuous shelf on top, very imposing, but very costly for ordinary houses.

The most notable thing about recent houses as a whole is the general drift toward better architectural designs and ideas than was ever reached in the days of the machine-designed houses of the past.

Rear Tenements.

Max S. Meyer, having applied to Justice Stover in the Supreme Court for an injunction to restrain the Board of Health from interfering with certain rear tenements at No. 82 Columbia street, the Court said:

This is an action to restrain the Board of Health from interfering with the premises of the plaintiff under the provisions of chapter 567 of the Laws of 1895, being an amendment of the Consolidation act. The Board of Health have taken all the requisite steps under the statute, and contemplate the condemnation of the property and for the vacation of the premises for sanitary reasons, and the time allowed for the compliance with the order has expired. Upon the argument of the motion it is conceded that the act is a constitutional one, but the Court is asked to interfere for the reason that the premises are not in an unsanitary condition, nor are they dangerous to life. And in support of this the affidavits of numerous parties, experts and otherwise, are submitted. I think the motion for a preliminary injunction must be denied. Under the statute the Board of Health is constituted the authority to pass upon the condition of the property and to determine the questions with regard to the sanitary condition. In doing this, they are performing a judicial act, and that act ought not to be interfered with by the injunction of this Court, unless it clearly appears that they are without jurisdiction. An examination of the papers in this case shows a condition calling for a fair exercise of judgment, and it does not appear that the conclusion and determination of the Health Department was not one fairly deducible from the evidence. This statute is one to be enforced under the police powers of the State, and while some of its features appear to be arbitrary, and the proceeding summary, yet with the provision for compensation, and with the rights of the property owners so well guarded, no lasting or irreparable detriment can come to the property owner; and the public health demands that the provisions of the law should in cases where once determined they apply be summarily and rigidly enforced. If, however, an appeal to the Court is to be taken in each instance, and a hearing to be had as to whether or not the premises are in a condition to justify the action of the board, the Court becomes the arbiter of the question, and the object of the statute is defeated. It was the intention of the statute to place all responsibility of the inspection and adjudication as to the condition of the premises with the Board of Health; and, so long as they have facts sufficient to give them jurisdiction, the Court will not interfere, even although upon the same state of facts, if it were the proper judge of the circumstances, it might come to a different conclusion from that arrived at by the Board of Health. For the above reasons the motion for the injunction must be denied.

Obituary.

John J. Tindale, who twenty-odd years ago, when the original Department of Buildings was located in 4th avenue, near Astor place, was appointed plan clerk, died on Thursday, July 29. Mr. Tindale was about 60 years of age, and had held the position of plan clerk despite the changes of the department to a bureau, and back again, until a short time ago when a severe stroke of paralysis compelled his retirement. The funeral services were conducted by the B. P. O. of Elks, of which Mr. Tindale was a Past Grand Exalted Ruler. He was also a member of the Association of Exempt Firemen, of Amity Masonic Lodge and the Association of Masonic Veterans, all of which were represented at Elks' Hall, Broadway and 27th street, on the 2d inst., when the last tribute of respect was paid to the memory of their departed comrade.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

Among the most ancient appliances used for ventilating rooms were the shafts which connected the apartments with the roofs of the houses of the ancient Egyptians, and it may be said that all subsequent methods of ventilation consist of modifications, carried out to a greater or less extent, of this process. For successfully ventilating a room three things may be said to be necessary. In the first place there must be proper inlets for admitting the fresh air; in the second place, outlets for the vitiated air, and, thirdly, the means for promoting air-currents so as to permit of the removal of the foul air and the ingress of fresh air. Now, simple as these requiremnts seem to be, the difficulty of successfully meeting them by a process of ventilation which will not be open to the objection of causing discomfort to the occupants of a room or a house would seem to be very great, if, indeed, not well nigh insuperable—that is, if we judge by the history of ventilation in the past. Since a man inhales on an average 16 to 18 cubic feet of air in an hour, and the air he exhales contains 180 times as much carbonic acid as fresh air, it will require 120 times as much fresh air to dilute it sufficiently in order to render it suitable for respiration. Each individual will require, therefore, about 2,000 cubic feet of fresh air per hour. In practice it is generally found that a larger quantity is desirable, and this is usually stated at 3,000 cubic feet. Since the air of a room, it may be said, is not changed more than three or four times an hour, it is desirable that if each individual is to be provided with 3,000 cubic feet of fresh air per hour, he should have an air-space of from 750 to 1,000 cubic feet. It has been found that where a current of air enters a room at a greater rate than 2 feet per second a draught is caused. The art of ventilation, therefore, may be described as the art of supplying a public building or dwelling with air at this rate and in quantities sufficient to prevent the possibility of the carbonic acid increasing beyond the limits of purity.

The disinfection of rooms, even by sanitary authorities, is, for the most part, illusory, the degree of success achieved being due to the soap and water rather than to the sulphurous fumes which could not gain access to chinks and the interior of furniture. There are, in the view of a leading authority, but three wholly trustworthy disinfectants—corrosive sublimate, limewash and heat. Every part of the walls, floors, etc., that cannot be washed with fresh burnt lime should be sprayed or mopped with a solution of sublimate, 1 in 1,000, and when dry with soap and water. All linen that could be boiled should be plunged for 10 to 20 minutes in boiling water, and all bedding, etc., sent to a disinfecting oven. Dry heat penetrated very slowly and was destructive, but with steam under slight pressure we have it in our power to raise the interior of a mattress to the temperature of boiling water within half an hour and without damage.

The English Courts are taking the views recently laid down in this State regarding the liability of employers for injury done to workmen on their jobs. In a recent case for damages for the death of a husband heard in the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice, the Court stated that the question for the jury was whether the defendants were guilty of negligence by representatives on the works not having done anything to ensure the safety of the men, who were working in an exceedingly dangerous place, when the traffic was in full swing. The jury found in answer to questions left to them by the Court: (1) That the engineer to the defendants carrying out the work in question took reasonable precautions, and that the accident was caused by neglect of those orders. (2) That deceased was bound to conform to the orders of the foreman of the gang, and the workmen were bound to obey his orders; that the foreman ought to have had another laborer back before starting work, and that he ordered the deceased to commence work while there was no one on the lookout. The jury could not agree as to the third question left to them by his Lordship as to whether the deceased, by the exercise of reasonable care, could have avoided the accident. Upon these findings the Court directed that judgment should be entered for the defendants, as he said that to make the employer liable there must be some one who had authority to give orders, who had a mandate from the employer, and the workman must be a man who, by the terms of his contract, was bound to obey the man put over him. There was no evidence that the foreman had a mandate to give such an order as the one that caused the man's death, or that the latter was bound to obey. Further, there was no evidence that the foreman did order the deceased to do his work in that particular way.

An account of some interesting researches on the value of paints for iron work, made by Prof. J. Spennrath, has recently been published in the "Deutsche Bauzeitung." As one result of these, Professor Spennrath concludes that none of the metallic oxides commonly used combine chemically with linseed oil. The drying process depends exclusively on an absorption of oxygen by the oil, which is facilitated by the presence of the pigment in a purely mechanical way. The value of the different pigments used varies. Thus, zinc white, when used for outside work, rapidly swells to double its previous volume, owing to the absorption of carbonic acid gas and water. Sulphureted hydrogen will cause red or white lead to act in a similar way, but, when pure, Professor Spennrath considers these two latter pigments satisfactory. Carbon paints are very stable, as is heavy spar, but the covering power of the latter is small. In order to test the relative durability of various paints, sheets of zinc were coated with a number of different kinds. The zinc was then dissolved away by acid, leaving a film of paint. All these films, it was found, could be destroyed by the action of dilute nitric or hydrochloric acids, while the vapors of sulphuric and acetic acids acted similarly. Alkaline fluids and gases also destroyed the paints rapidly. Pure water was found to be more injurious than salt water, hence the destructive action of sea water is to be attributed mainly to the mechanical effects of wash. Hot water was found to act more rapidly than cold. The most important discovery made was, however, the great influence of temperature. Films similar to those already described completely lost their elasticity and became brittle when exposed to a temperature of 203 dgrees F. There was at the same time a large contraction. Similar effects are produced by a prolonged exposure to considerably lower temperatures. Blistering, he finds to be due to the inner coat of paint being so thick that it has not hardened thoroughly before the second coat is applied.

The young architect seldom has a specialty. He does not yet know what chances he may get, or what kind of work will come to him. This, at least, in the early part of his career, will depend very much on who his friends are, and next to this, on what sort of a building it is at which he first makes some modest success. Not knowing this beforehand, he naturally tries to qualify himself all round. He cannot do it; no man can do it; but commissions to a young man are so rare that he cannot afford to let any escape him. He is less to blame than older and more prosperous men who could afford this, but rarely allow it.

"I would like," said a prominent builder lately, "to see the blue-print entirely abolished and the yellow paper, with different colorings for the different class of work substituted instead. In many a blue-print I would defy any one to tell where stone or brick are intended, or where many other differences exist. This often necessitates a reference to the architect and other delays more costly than the difference in the cost of the two sets of plans, one of blue-print and the other on yellow paper with colorings."

George E. Waring, Jr., Commissioner of Street Cleaning, notifies persons having bulkheads to fill, in the vicinity of New York Bay, that they can procure material for that purpose—ashes, street sweepings, etc., such as is collected by the Department of Street Cleaning—free of charge, by applying to him in the Criminal Court Building.

Superintendent Constable has written a letter to a morning contemporary explaining how the Board of Examiners can be approached in various cases. Applications for exemptions from Section 491 of the Consolidation Act, relating to iron shutters, must be made to the Board direct. Wherever there are practical difficulties in the way of carrying out the strict letter of the building laws, applications for leave to vary or modify should be made to the Superintendent, who, if he approve them, will present them to the Board. In cases where it is claimed that the laws do not apply and that an equally good or better form of construction can be obtained in other ways, petition should be presented to the Board through the Superintendent.

The Free Employment Bureau that was opened in Cooper Union a few weeks ago in accordance with an act passed by the last Legislature is said by its advocates to be already a success. In the first week after this bureau was opened the applications for employment averaged 400 a day. More than 80 per cent. of the applicants stated that they had been without steady employment for three years, and their general excuse for it was "dulness of trade." Among the applicants have been machinists, tailors, carpenters, plumbers, lithograpners, compositors, stenographers, salesmen, nurses, housekeepers, cooks and watchmen.

The arrest and punishment by fine last week of a walking delegate who arbitrarily stopped varnishers from working on the job of Michael Burgart at West End avenue and 94th street, ought to encourage bosses to resist similar tyrannical acts, and on the other hand, to discourage walking delegates from being so altogether too fresh, as they have been hitherto. This sudden stoppage of work, involving often very large pecuniary interests, with practically no sort of notice, is nothing short of an outrage, and one that only needs to be resisted to be stopped.

Recent contracts for cleaning embrace such structures as the New Syndicate building for Builder John J. Brown; new Y. M. C. A. building on 56th and 57th streets, near 8th avenue, for Builder James Edgar; new Fruit Exchange on Jay street, for Chesebro & Whitman; Hebrew Orphan Asylum, Amsterdam avenue and 138th street, for Builders Sloane & Moller, and the Post Graduate Hospital, 20th street and 2d avenue. Garner, proprietor of the Metropolitan House Cleaning Bureau, has had a long experience in this line of work, and the best of facilities, including a staff of expert workmen, enable him to execute all orders in a satisfactory manner and with dispatch. Mr. Garner gives special attention to out-of-town work.

The Real Estate Market

The business reported accomplished stamps the week just ended as one of the dullest that has passed since the panicky years that immediately preceded 1880. The aggregate investment amounts to less than $350,000, and nearly one-half of that sum is due to trades in which small cash payments will figure. The 5th avenue and Brooklyn transaction referred to below is excluded from consideration, as it should have formed part of the previous week's estimate. The prolonged hot spell is undoubtedly responsible for the poor showing made by the brokers.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1895 and 1896:

This week's auctions were all of foreclosed parcels and included not a single property in which the public manifested any interest. The plaintiffs in the several actions met, therefore, with little or no competition in the bidding. One adjournment beyond next week was announced. It involves the sale of the southwest corner of Suburban street and Briggs avenue, and a plot on Bainbridge avenue, 100 feet west of Suburban street, postponed by William Kennelly, on Tuesday, to the 25th inst.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Charles H. Easton has sold for Ottinger & Korn the old five-story brick store and loft building, with lot, 25.4x100.3, No. 542 Pearl street, between Broadway and Elm street.

T. Scott & Son have sold for a Mr. Levy to Mrs. E. K. Ritzer the three-story stone front dwelling, 20x50x100.5, No. 231 East 57th street.

Ogden & Clark have sold for Mrs. Eliza A. Hawes the former four-story brick dwelling with lot, 25x92, No. 18 East 17th street, to Heilner & Wolf, for about $55,000. The lower part of the house is now occupied as a store.

George A. Bowman has negotiated a trade involving the exchange of the "Guaranty Storage Warehouses," a six-story building, 40x98.9, Nos. 311 and 313 West 41st street, owned by John Parr, for other city property of which no particulars have been obtained.

Sidley & Ryan have sold for John Rollmann to M. L. Conway, the five-story brick tenement and store, with lot 19.2x70, No. 602 11th avenue, between 44th and 45th streets.

A trade was concluded a week ago yesterday between the executrix of the will of the late Charles B. Hart of this city, and Eliphalet W. Bliss, of Brooklyn, by the terms of which the former agrees to transfer Nos. 463 to 469 5th avenue, four four-story stone front dwellings, with a plot, 66x95, between 40th and 41st streets, and take in part payment the Arlington apartment house, 50x100, on the south side of Montague street, between Montague place and Hicks street, Brooklyn. The latter was resold for the Hart estate on the same day to Isidor Straus, of L. Straus & Sons, this city. The prices given out by one of the parties in interest, and reported in the daily papers, are so ridiculously high that we refrain from mentioning them. The 5th avenue property was last heard of in October last, when it was offered at auction by Geo. R. Read in the Real Estate Exchange, and bought in by the attorney of the Hart estate for $295,000. There was very little outside bidding despite the liberal offer to let 70 per cent. of the purchase price remain on bond and mortgage at 4½ per cent. for a term of years. The houses had then long been and are still untenanted, and though the proportion of speculative buyers in the market was in October twenty times greater than now the property was ignored by them for the reason that the block front of which it forms part, was in a transition state, and none were brave enough to risk an investment that might possibly require several years to become a profitable one and only moderately profitable at that. Mr. Read, however, announced from the stand before withdrawing the property that he had as broker offered $325,000 for it a few months previously. His erstwhile customer had in the meantime evidently changed his opinion of its value as he was not in evidence at the attempted sale by auction.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Hagan & Campbell have sold for Builder John Bannen the two five-story double flats, with plot 50x100, Nos. 1404 and 1406 Park avenue, and the similar flat with lot, 25x100.11, No. 78 East 105th street, to Mrs. Katharine P. Hooks, for $60,000; the latter to give in exchange, at a valuation of $40,000, a plot of ten lots at Railroad avenue and 146th street.

The Frank L. Fisher Co. has sold for Builder James B. Gillie to a Mr. Alexander the three-story stone front dwelling, 17x55x100.11, No. 309 West 104th street.

Watkins Bros. have sold to Mrs. Ella N. Weed the three-story stone front house with lot, 20x112.6, No. 451 West 162d street.

The four-story brick tenement with lot, 25x95, No. 1367 1st avenue, between 73d and 74th streets, has been sold by Mrs. Babeta Bram to Mrs. Mary A. Frost for $18,000.

Correspondence.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Concerning Real Estate Agents and Brokers.

Jacob Katz, of the firm of Katz & Co., of No. 102 East Broadway, who manage and are agents for very many tenements and shops on the lower East Side, is very favorably spoken of as the right man for Commissioner of Appraisal in the matters now before the Courts for acquiring lands for parks and schools and the condemnation of rear tenements.

Questions and Answers.

TRANSFER TAX.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please let me know through your esteemed paper if the following is a taxable transfer estate: A received as legatee to a deceased sister $4,000; as next of kin to same, $2,000. As I understand the law, only an inheritance to children, sisters, brothers, etc., is taxable at the rate of 1 per centum, when more than $10,000?

Answer.—Under the law as amended in 1896, a transfer from a testator, by will, or by inheritance from an intestate to a brother, is not taxable unless it amounts to $10,000 or more. What A received is not taxable.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION FOR RENTING.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

I rented a private house for three years at $1,300 per year (as broker), and sent bill to owner, charging 2½ per cent. for first year and 1 per cent. for other two years. Owner claims that legal rate is 1 per cent. Kindly give me your opinion. Can I collect amount I claim?

Answer.—The rules and regulations of the Real Estate Exchange state, in reference to commissions to be charged: "Leasing for a term of three years and upwards, on gross rental, except by special agreement, 1%."—Editor "Record and Guide."

COMMISSION EARNED.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A client made an application for $10,500 loan. I got it accepted, went to him and told him so; also told him it would cost 3 per cent. to cover all charges for lawyer, disbursements and my commission. He was willing and signed an application to pay 3 per cent. to cover. Lawyer started in and searched; the day was set for closing and borrower notified. About ten days later he called and said he did not think he could get releases of mortgages that were on property, although parties who held them had, when made, told him they would release at any time. They decline to do so now and he can't take the loan. Can I collect the full 3 per cent. or only 1 per cent. for myself and lawyer charges, or what can I get?

Answer.—You are entitled to the full 3 per cent.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION ON LOAN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A broker received a letter from a client, asking him to call. He called, and she informed him that she wanted to raise $5,000 more on her property (she already had $4,000 on it held by a bank), and asked if he could get it in fifteen days, as she wanted it sure, to take up her son-in-law's mortgage, which was called in. He told her, yes, he could get it, and would try and let her know. Nothing was said about charges. He at once sent an application for $9,000 to the bank that held the $4,000, and a couple of days later saw the President and explained it to him, and he said he would let him know about it. In the meantime he made an application to a lawyer and in a day or two had it accepted by the lawyer. As soon as accepted, not having heard from the bank, he sent them a letter not to bother with it as he had placed it. The same day he had it accepted; six days after she spoke to him about it he went and saw her and told her he had $9,000 accepted, and she asked him the cost and he told her 1 per cent. and disbursements to lawyer and 1 per cent. to me. She said it was too much, she would have to see her son-in-law. She asked him if he would not go to the bank and see if he could get it cheaper from them, and he told her he had been to the bank, but as he had got her what she wanted elsewhere, what more did she want? The next day he received a letter from her not to go on until he heard from her. She then went to the same bank and later he noticed that she got $8,000 from them. He sent her a bill for $90, and she wrote to him to call; he did so, and she said she would not pay $90, and offered him $15 for his trouble, and she also said she did not want $9,000, and only asked him to get $5,000, as the property is in the 23d Ward, New York, and a second could not be got, and if so, the cost would be too much. Is he entitled to the $90 for the $9,000 loan he had accepted, or $80 for the $8,000 the bank loaned, or can he get anything? Answer in next issue, if possible.

Answer.—He is entitled to $40. The bank gave an additional loan of $4,000. If he had procured $8,000 from an outside party and the $4,000 bank loan had been paid off, he would have been entitled to $80.—Law Editor.

PAVING OF FIRST AVENUE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

Several weeks ago there was some talk regarding the asphalting of 1st avenue, from 20th street to 109th street. But to all appearances it seems as though the idea has been abandoned. Kindly inform me whether or not such is the case. Also if property-owners along said avenue would be directly taxed if such repaving were to be done?

Answer.—We do not know if the project is abandoned, but no action has been taken to do the work this year. The cost would be charged to the general fund and not assessed on abutting property-owners if the avenue were repaved.—Editor "Record and Guide."

DIVISION FENCES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

I desire to know the rights of adjoining owners of fences dividing yards of city houses? I have assumed that there is an equal interest when the fence is on the dividing line? If so, is there an equal liability for repairs of wear and tear and of damage by the elements? If the liability is not assumed by the adjoining owner is it a legal claim that can be enforced by law?

Answer.—The owners on each side of a division fence are liable equally for the expense of repairs. If one shirks his share the other can by legal proceedings compel him to pay.—Law Editor.

MECHANIC'S LIEN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly advise me how to protect oneself against payment to a contractor so that liens cannot be placed upon a building by parties supplying labor or material? (1) How can one protect himself? (2) How can he ascertain that all material and labor has been paid? (3) Can liens be levied after the final payment on completion of house has been made?

Answer.—(1) He cannot. Any claimant may file a lien. After the lien is filed the owner may obtain its discharge in various ways. (2) By inquiry of the materialmen, laborers and contractors. (3) They may be filed by any claimant.—Law Editor.

COMMISSIONS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please answer in your next issue the following questions: (1) What rate of commission can be legally collected for selling property in this city; also for renting? (2) What rate can be collected for selling or renting outside this city? (3) What rate for exchanging property? (4) Is it necessary to have a written contract specifying the rate of commission in order to collect the same? (5) If a customer is taken to the owner by an agent, who has not had the property placed with him, and the customer rents or buys the property, can the agent collect his commission?

Answer.—If by "legal" you mean established by an Act of the Legislature, the answer is that there is no legal rate. A broker may make an agreement with his customer for any rate whatever. Until the last session of the Legislature a broker was forbidden by law to charge for obtaining a loan a commission larger than one-half of 1 per cent., but now, as in selling, renting or exchanging, he may collect whatever rate has been agreed upon. When the loan is made upon real estate security, where there has been no agreement, the rate of commission is determined by the "custom of the trade." We are informed by leading brokers that the rate of commission in the different cases submitted by you are as follows: (1) For selling, 1 per cent.; for renting for a term of one year and under three years, 2½ per cent. on the first year's rental; for renting and collecting, 5 per cent; (2) 2½ per cent. except for Western and Southern lands, when the rate of commission is 5 per cent.; (3) the same as for selling; (4) not unless the broker wishes to get more than the customary rate; (5) not unless the owner has employed him, or has agreed to pay him a commission. —Law Editor.

ROAD WIDENING.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A town on Long Island accepted certain roads of a corporation four years ago. The roads are 40 feet wide. It is claimed now that no roads can be accepted by the town less than 49 feet 6 inches (3 rods). Since then a warranty deed has been given by one of the abutters on the road, deeding the measurements of the land as he received it, not allowing for widening the road, as he knew nothing of such requirements. The papers were drawn by the town counsel and said nothing of the roads having to be made wider. (1) Can the town which has accepted and has been working these roads since the time of their acceptance compel the fences to be moved back; and (2) is the party who gave the warranty deed compelled to make good the extra 4¾ feet which they exact? In other words, (3) if the town accepted the roads at the time at 40 feet can they make him liable under his warranty to the party to whom he has sold and can they move back the fence without fresh condemnation proceedings, which would free him from liability under his warranty?

Answer.—The fact that the town counsel drew the papers has nothing to do with the case. (1) No. (2) No. (3) No.—Law Editor.

CONTRACTS PAYABLE IN GOLD.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

By answering the following you will greatly oblige: A piece of property is leased, and the specification is made in the lease that the rent shall be payable in gold. Some time later the tenant refuses to pay in gold, alleging inability; ejectment proceedings are commenced, and notice is served on the tenant. The tenant then goes to the Sheriff and offers to satisfy the judgment in silver. Now can the Sheriff accept the silver; and if so, will the lease be legally fulfilled? A contends that the Sheriff, acting as the agent of the owner, must demand gold in fulfilment of the contract, while B, on the contrary says that the Sheriff must merely insist upon the satisfaction of the judgment, and therefore can accept silver. (2) Also, if free coinage of silver would triumph would it then be legal to put a gold clause in a lease or any other contract, and, if so, could its payment be enforced (as in the first case above)?

Answer.—If the tenant fails to pay his rent he may be dispossessed. After judgment that he be dispossessed and at any time before a warrant to dispossess has been issued the tenant may pay his rent (according to the contract) and the costs, and the judgment is satisfied and no warrant will issue. You do not present a case where a money judgment for the rent has been rendered against the tenant. Where the lease calls for the payment of the rent in gold, after proceedings have been commenced to dispossess him, the tenant may not pay the rent, in silver, into court and thereby put an end to the proceedings. (2) Yes; to both questions. It is possible, however, that, in the event of the triumph of free silver a law may be passed that a contract payable in gold may be discharged by legal tender.—Law Editor.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the Deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded. Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that is is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent. Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at the foot of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—There has continued a dull and drooping market. Arrivals, it is true, have decreased somewhat during the week but demand has been slow and there has been no reduction in the supplies held here by receivers and as there has been something of a pressure to sell prices have weakened, ranging from $4 to $4.50 for up-river, though for specials $4.75 to $5 have been paid. The demand for Jersey brick has been slow, and while the offerings have not been large sellers have weakened slightly, the top price this week having been $4.12½, and from this they have ranged down to $3.25 for the inferior grades. The good grades of pale brick have continued to meet with a moderate call and prices have ruled steady at $2.00. The poorer grades have been quiet at $1.50@$1.75.

It appears that we have been misinformed as regards the report that there have been important withdrawals from the Association of Brick Manufacturers. It seems that some members of the association, who have been especially anxious to make sales have done business latterly through commission merchants, but they are, we understand, by no means out of the association, which continues the principal receivers of bricks in this market.

LATH.—Nothing of special interest has transpired in the market during the week. The offerings have been somewhat limited, as arrivals have not been large, but there has been no snap to demand and prices have been unchanged and steady, with $1.55@1.65 quoted.

LIME.—There has been little if any change in the general situation of the market. Only a very limited amount of business has been transacted, but as arrivals have been small there has been no pressure to sell and prices have ruled steady at 60c. for common Thomaston and Rockland, and 76c. for finishing do. There has been very little State or St. John lime offered and prices quoted have been more or less nominal.

LUMBER.—There has been almost a complete stagnation of business during the past week. The tightening of money rates and the extreme conservatism of bankers, together with the exceptionally hot weather experienced latterly having had a decidedly unfavorable influence upon trade. Reports received from the West latterly stating that it is the intention of the mills to shut down about the 15th inst. for the purpose of curtailing the production of white pine has been commented upon with some interest by the trade.

The demand for Eastern spruce, as noted in our last, has entirely disappeared but there appeared to be a fair amount of tone to the market at ruling prices. Offerings have been very moderate as very few cargoes are coming to this market; advices from the provinces report free shipments to England, and also that the demand for English deals continues fairly brisk. The trade with South America was also reported as fairly extensive. Reports from Maine do not advise further purchases of English deals, but there were some inquiries in the market. State and West Virginia spruce have sold slowly but no changes have been made in values.

No noteworthy changes have occurred in the market for pines. Export business has been very limited and the local trade has been flat. The demand for yellow and North Carolina pines has been at a minimum and prices have continued to rule in buyer's favor. There was a fair amount of steadiness to the market for the better grades of white pine, of which there are only moderate holdings, but for the coarse grades there was hardly a market. Demand has been practically nil and prices weak, and what few buyers there have been have experienced little or no difficulty in making their own terms.

The market for cypress has shown no changes of importance. There has continued an absence of snap to business; in fact, trade latterly has been steadily falling off, reflecting the general depression in the lumber market and prices have been maintained with difficulty, as offerings have been moderate and buyers report that they have obtained concessions in many instances.

Recent developments in the market for hardwoods have had a generally depressing influence, although for oak there has continued a fairly steady market, owing to limited supplies. Advices from the Western mills, reporting inability to obtain financial accommodations, have resulted in a somewhat greater pressure to do business and prices consequently have ruled easy.

The Northwestern Lumberman has the following on the hardwood situation:

It is evident from reports received in this office that the hardwood lumber trade of the country is beginning to feel the effects of a presidential election year depression more seriously than since the panic. It has been a singular feature of the general lumber trade since that disturbing event in 1893 that the demand for the hardwoods was fairly well maintained up to within a few months. This was particularly true of oak, basswood, cottonwood in the west, maple flooring and specialties employed in the manufacture of agricultural implements, wagons and railway cars. A large amount of timber and heavy planking, street railway ties and other heavy stuff, was also in demand. The supply of these more desirable kinds and sorts of lumber did not accumulate so as to be a burden on the market. This can partly be attributed to the fact that production was abated to some degree in 1894 and 1895. The mill operators who were weakly capitalized were unable to secure advances on lumber to be cut, and many consequently were obliged to shut down their mills. The dealers in the great centres had restricted their purchases to lumber that had been put on stick. They forced the mill men to carry product. Of course there were exceptions to this rule, but it is unquestionable that much restriction of output was caused by the inability of small or moneyless mill operators to keep the saws running. Production was dependent on the larger concerns which were well capitalized or had good credit. With an output somewhat limited, the demand, up to about March, of this year, was equal to absorbing all the output of the mills. This was especially true of red oak in the north and south, that of Wisconsin being all the time sold up close to the limit of the dry supply, while green stock was always under contract. A like condition pertained to quarter-sawed white oak, though not so much to quarter-sawed red oak. Basswood moved into distribution as fast as it was sufficiently dry. Poplar, except in the upper grades, has dragged for a longer time than oak. Cottonwood has, within two or three years past, been pushed with much vigor under the influence of new concerns which have had the enthusiasm of their recently acquired vocation to energize them, and the result has been a greatly enlarged movement of cottonwood. It has been promoted as a competitor with poplar and low grade pine in box making and for other purposes. It has competed with poplar in buggy body making, for wagon boxes, and house trim and siding.

Long continued depression has at last brought the various industries to such a low rate of production that the hardwood lumber trade is feeling the resulting lack of demand. Within a few months past, and especially since the silver agitation has become such a powerful factor in the presidential contest, the industries have become more than ever depressed, except in a few instances, one of which is the agricultural implement business. There has been great stagnation in furniture manufacture this season, and a measure of decline in building. These causes cut off the demand for lumber. Within recent weeks manufacturers and dealers have become especially disinclined to stock up with anything in advance of immediate requirement. There is a pause in anything like liberal buying, and this attitude is likely to continue until after the presidential election. Yet their continues to be a fair condition in respect to the red oak and quarter-sawed oak trade. Besides foreign demand for hardwood lumber is a growing feature, and is absorbing a good deal of American output. This is affording some operators a good deal of business, and helping them to tide over the dull domestic period.

It is probable that there will be no recovery from present somewhat reactionary conditions until after the national contest on the silver question shall have been settled. What is to be after that is still an unknown quantity. We can only hope for the best.

NAILS.—Nothing of a new or interesting nature has transpired latterly. At the opening of the month the association decided to continue quoted prices during August and to guarantee August purchases against a decline in September. As regards business there has been a very tame market, as buyers have continued to pursue a very conservative policy, taking only sufficient supplies to fill immediate wants. We quote at $2.30¼@2.40 per keg for car lots at mill, $2.55 per keg for small parcels from dock, and $2.57 from store. Wire, $2.70 for car lots from dock, and $2.80 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Not the slightest change was to be noted in the general situation of the market. Business has continued extremely slow; in fact, the recent severe weather has had a tendency to intensify the dullness of trade. Despite the recent break in the price of pig lead, no changes have been made in the market for white lead, which has been moving in a limited way on old contracts, but no new business has been transacted. The Association figures on lead last announced are as follows, subject to change without notice. Pure white lead, dry or in oil, red lead, and litharge in kegs, in lots of 500 lbs. and over, 5¼c.; red lead and litharge in barrels and half barrels, ¼c. per lb. less than the price in kegs; white lead (cases), 1c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead in 25-lb. tin pails (packed in 100-lb. or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead, assorted in 1-lb., 2-lb., 3-lb. and 5-lb. cans (packed in 100 or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs. Terms: On lots of 500 lbs. and over, 60 days, or 2 per cent discount for cash, if paid within 15 days from date of invoice f. o. b. at New York. Special prices for dry white lead in barrels. Quantities: To make either of above assorted quantities and assortment of packages either or all of the articles may be counted. The above prices and terms supersese all previous prices and terms offered by this company. There has been a very quiet market for linseed oil. The call for deliveries on contracts has been very moderate and in the way of new business only small jobbing orders have been received. Prices, however, have held steady, as the offerings by out-of-town crushers have been small. American is quoted at 31c. for 5-barrel lots or over, and 32c. for less than 5-barrel lots; do boiled was at 33@34c.; Calcutta was at 50c. Western crushed oil was quoted at 30@31c. Nothing of special moment has transpired in the market for spirits turpentine. The extreme weather has had a tendency to hold business in check; still, the consuming trade has been a moderate buyer, but canners and varnishmakers have been quiet. Prices have been without important changes and steady, with Old Dominions at 23¾c.; regulars at 24c., and machines at 24¾c. Southern advices have reported fairly active market, and at Savannah the price has made a slight advance. We quote at 23¾@25¼c. per gallon, according to time and place of delivery, quantity, style of package, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—The market for tar has attracted very little attention, but the stock on hand has been only moderate, and as advices from the south have been steady, local values have been without changes. Only a very small business has been transacted in pitch but prices have been quoted unchanged. We quote tar at $1.65@1.85 in pine or Wilmington barrels, $2.40¼@2.50 in pork barrels; and $3.25 in oil parrels. Pitch, $1.85@1.90.

THE Stock Market having, by a fairly substantial advance, discounted the effect of the notification meeting, fluctuations in quotations depend upon the movements of a few active traders. These have lately taken to thinking that the circumstances of the moment favor operations on the short side, for the small profits they usually angle for. There is really no change in the trading or commercial situation; operations that were stopped or curtailed have not been renewed, nor were they expected to be for some time to come. Of course this makes what is called bad business; money does not circulate, and people in difficulties find the situation fatal to them. There have been as a consequence a number of prominent failures, but, with perhaps an exception or two, the statements presented in connection therewith show that they were inevitable, and might have occurred at any time. Probably the only effect of the peculiar conditions of the day is to bunch the bankruptcies that would otherwise be spread over a considerable period. The frankly gloomy opinions, which the financial writers of the London journals are kind enough to express on the money situation here, are having a considerable effect on the principle that distance sometimes gives a clearer view than nearness. There is no doubt that the anxiety of merchants and others to provide a long way ahead for their requirements is making a high money rate, but we do not anticipate that the situation will become one that the banks cannot cope with without much difficulty. Nervousness will from time to time cause setbacks, particularly until the holiday period is over, and we are experiencing one of these now.

HOW the price of French rentes is kept up is illustrated by an amusing story told in "Les Finances," a work by the late M. Leon Say, which has just appeared, and which condemns the policy of the French government in supporting the market when its securities are weak. When the author of this work was Minister of Finance an operator on the bourse came to him and complained that, although he had been a bull for fifteen years, the cross of the Legion of Honor had not been bestowed upon him. This, probably, explains why so many people in Parisian financial circles sport the red ribbon. The summer dullness is upon the whole civilized world, and the reports that come from commercial and banking centres are prefunctory, and smack off the universal idleness. The season has been throughout Europe an exceptionably hot one, and this fact has no little to do with the decreased energy. For want of something better to discuss, the newspapers are thrashing over and over again the everlasting Eastern question, the rising in Crete and the discontent in Macedonia forming the text. The Sultan's dominions have for the thousandth time been repartitioned among the Great Powers, but that astute gentleman remains in power at Constantinople all the same, comforted by the thought that any peaceful agreement among the other nations for his articulation is an impossibility, and more worried by the condition of his exchequer than by fear of loss of territory. We know that it will come one day, but that day cannot yet be in any wise fixed. It is evident that Great Britain would be glad to see the end of Turkish autonomy, and Russia shows an inclination to come to an understanding with her, but there is no evidence that either Germany, Austria, France or Italy have any desire but to keep things as they are now. Meantime all the outlying dependencies of Turkey are in a state of rebellion, more or less, and are gradually producing a condition of affairs that will compel action by the Great Powers. Turkey in Europe is a matter of the duration of this process of fermentation.

THE steady decline in the price of silver, notwithstanding that quotations have for some time been comparatively very low, may be taken as a sign of the change of feeling that is coming over the country on the question of the free coinage of that metal. Cynical Wall Street observers say they do not need to be told the news, because they always see it in the quotations. If a company is in pecuniary difficulties the quotations for its securities always show it long before the formal announcement of bankruptcy is made, and the public is only allowed to wake up to the fact when it is too late to profit by it. The repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act was preceded by a heavy decline in the price of silver, and, if we are right in our opinion of the condition of the public mind, the producers see the last artificial support to prices—the sentiment in favor of free coinage—failing them and their product in danger of having to face a harsh and critical world on its merits alone. Senator Stewart says the price declines because the silver men are too poor to buy. Why should they buy? What they want to do is to sell, and we are likely to see soon what this want will lead them to and how cheaply silver really can become. Many owners of silver have, doubtless, hitherto been restrained from putting their holdings on the market by the hope that legislation would open our mint to its free coinage at a ratio to gold more favorable to them than the commercial one. Mines have not been worked to their full capacity for a similar reason. If the holder and producer of silver both become convinced, as they apparently are becoming, that this hope is baseless, we may look to see the price of silver very much below present quotations. Mine-owners, by combining together, to limit production, may do something to check the decline after a while, but it will continue in any case until the market has absorbed the unsold stocks for which its powers at the moment seem to be comparatively small. Of course the silverites will howl that this is a part of the Wall Street conspiracy to defame their favorite metal, but that will not alter the facts, and the fact in this particular case can only be that the price of silver declines because the men behind the free coinage movement foresee its defeat and—suave qui peut.

BY refusing to accept any of the bids made for the city bonds offered for sale this week the Board of Estimate and Apportionment did the proper thing. If a merchant wants to destroy his credit let him accept the buyers' prices for his goods. Likewise if the city wants to impair its excellent standing with investors, let it take whatever is offered for its bonds. If the present condition of doubt and suspicion were going to be a long-lived one, it would probably be better to take such terms as the market affords rather than delay indefinitely much needed improvements, especially the enlargement of our school accommodations. But there is no danger that the hesitation now shown to buy one of the best securities in the world will extend beyond the vacations, and the city can, meantime, bridge over its necessities with revenue bonds. Had these bids been accepted, those made for the next offer of bonds would, in all probability, be lower still, and the difficult task of raising a debased credit would have had then to be undertaken. As it is, when the bonds in question are offered again, bidders will be more generous, and the credit of the city will remain unimpaired. That the bonds are not such bad things is shown by the protesting clamor the action of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has raised among the bidders, who have been encouraged to think they had everything their own way by the city's having, first, formally made its bonds payable in gold, and, second, raised the interest rate from 3 per cent to 3½ per cent. It was time to call a halt, and the effect cannot be otherwise than wholesome. Indirectly this may entail some expense upon the city in the shape of interests on judgments, but that will be small compared with what would be entailed should the investment public get an idea that the city has no recourse but to accept whatever is offered for its bonds.

COMMENTS upon the suspension of the Murray Hill Bank have all or nearly all dwelt upon one point, namely, the undesirability of real estate mortgages as assets of a bank of deposit, for the alleged reason that it is difficult to realize upon such security. In all this talk there is apparent the usual thoughtlessness of the generalizer. In condemning mortgages on real estate for the reason given, it is assumed that a bank can so dispose of its capital and the money entrusted to it in the form of deposits, that it can call the whole of both in in a short space of time, say, twenty-four hours. Such a thing is an utter impossibility. It takes time, and considerable time, to realize on any form of assets that is placed on the market in considerable bulk; this is true, whether they are notes secured by merchandise, stocks or bonds, or by mortgage on real estate. There are, to-day, very many millions of securities that cannot be sold at all in times of depression that are all in all other respects good for what they represent themselves to be, and it is reasonably certain that the banks hold a good many as security for loans. The securities for which there is a ready market would not begin to occupy the resources of the banks, and consequently they must take some that they are obliged to carry in the event of the loan made upon them not being met at maturity. The secret of successful banking is to keep sufficient funds in a free state to meet the highest average of demand at any time, and this requires great care in the making of loans to clients. Indiscriminate loans, whether in one or more classes or mixed, will inevitably bring a bank down. It is all a matter of good judgment, and that will allow advances to be made on real estate with as much safety as upon any other class of collateral, and which can be as quickly realized upon as any, but a few special forms of security, such as government bonds, etc., for which there is always a more or less wide market. If the Murray Hill Bank had made its advances upon New York City realty with care and prudence it would have had no difficulty in realizing on them in its hour of need, either through sale direct to some one of the many people who are always on the lookout for such investments, or by securing accommodation from the other banks. It is a matter of notoriety in the real estate world that the bank was not prudent in making its advances on real estate which left no margin of safety for it to rely on in emergencies. Had its rule been the same as a bank's ordinarily is, even in the case of securities listed on the Stock Exchange, to leave a large margin for safety, its real estate interests would have been no embarrassment to it. In general, it may be confidentially asserted, that mortgages secured on real property in this city offer a profitable field for the employment of bank funds and help to give that variety to the resources of banks in which there is safety. The old-time objection to this form of security was the delay entailed in examining the property and title, but modern machinery has so reduced this that the objection to-day fails altogether in force.

Wanted: a Unit of Brain Power.

A RECENT and somewhat helpful writer on monetary science, after floundering in a bog of statistics and being nearly swallowed by the quicksands of theory, conceives himself to be on more solid ground when he says that a just standard of deferred payments would enable the creditor to obtain, when paid, the same command over human effort that had been conferred upon the debtor when the loan was made. According to this writer the intertwining of human efforts is the origin not only of exchange but of civilization, to promote it money was invented and improved. Neither silver money nor gold money is perfect judged by the ideal standard, and we will eventually advance beyond both of them to a system of scientifically adjusted credit; when "equality of effort" between payor and payee will be more accurately measured by credit money than it has ever been by commodity money. The quantity of money in existence will no longer be the football of geology, industry and politics, but will be automatically regulated on scientific principles.

Speed the day! It is pleasant to be assured that such a time is coming, though it will hardly get here soon enough to afford relief during the present campaign. If any way can be found to estimate accurately the value of given quantities of human efforts it will straighten out many tangles besides the monetary tangle. One of the earliest of the philosophical anarchists made proposals for a "labor-time money," which he thought would be so manifestly just that everybody would adopt it without constraint. The value of annual product was to be divided by the gross number of hours that all individuals had worked, and each one was then to receive labor-time money in proportion to the number of hours he had put in.

The trouble is that while we can estimate the amount of effort by the clock, and sometimes by applying the principles of mechanics, the quality of effort is elusive. A man sawing wood or sawing boards who is so much of a bungler that he uses a dull or ill-set saw makes tremendous efforts but accomplishes very little. His muscles expand a great many foot-pounds of energy, but his work is worth less than that of another man who works less hours and with greater ease, but has more skill.

In an increasing number of occupations the efforts put forth by the laborers have hardly any mechanical results at all. The bank official who decides what persons shall have loans and what persons shall not, performs work of the greatest social and industrial importance. As he and his kind do it well or ill business will move forward to prosperity or to loss and panic. The same is true of the managers of manufacturing enterprises. As they plan wisely as to amount and kind of product, or select with judgment and direct with skill their subordinates, so will their respective enterprises prosper and through them industry in general. Now, the quality of such work is one of the hardest things to estimate. It may be worth a thousand dollars an hour or it may be worth nothing, or even less. We have no unit of brain power which can be used like the foot-pound of the physicist to measure the amount and effectiveness of exertion.

A failure to estimate truly the value of mental labor is the most persistent mistake of manual laborers. When they organize a co-operative enterprise they nearly always underpay the manager of it, and are jealous of him into the bargain. A man promoted from the ranks of manual labor to that of superintendence is often surprised to the point of disgust at finding that head work is hard work. Many a farm boy who has gone away to school or to business in town has been bitterly disappointed to find that his new work tired him, and perhaps wore him out even faster than the old. It is a failure to estimate correctly the differing qualities of efforts that makes the ordinary citizen so indifferent or so unwise in choosing men to fill public positions. The common impression that one man is as good as another in public office results from total blindness to differences in power of achievement, and from a failure to see that there is anything in particular for a public official to achieve. Anybody can sit in an office and draw a salary.

If we had a mechanical means of measuring brain power as we have of measuring steam power it would give us a clue to the proper rewards for inventors which are now a good deal a matter of chance, the man who does the last bit of work getting pay for the whole of it. It would enable us to readjust the salaries of high and low officials in great corporations, as well as in the state. The endless disputes and heart-burnings between the business offices and the editorial offices of our newspapers would cease. We could put international wage statistics on a scientific basis, and finally we could have a just standard of deferred payments.

But for the present and for practical purposes we fear that the new Arrarat discovered by the writer mentioned above is only another quick-sand. Of the four or five different standards of deferred payments which the theorists have brought to light—or rather into that shadowy realm of speculative fog which with them passes for light—there is none more unusable than this of equality of effort. Not only does the effectiveness of given efforts change with changing conditions, but the very quality and nature of industrial efforts change also, and they can be measured and averaged neither at one end nor at the other of a given time. A unit of brain power would be a wonderfully convenient thing if we had it, but we have it not.

High Prices Silver and Prosperity.

Q. THERE are one or two things about this silver problem which I wish I could settle in my own mind. Let me ask you; Isn't there some sort of relationship between high prices and prosperity, and high prices and the amount of money in circulation? A. I see you are concerned with the silverite statement that the free coinage of silver, by making money plentiful, will enhance prices and produce prosperity. Well! Suppose we admit for a moment that an addition to the volume of currency such as the silver party would effect will actually raise prices. What of it? How would it benefit anybody?

Q. Surely if people were making more money they would be better off? A. Think a little further. We allow for argument's sake that the addition to the currency of a large volume of silver will raise prices. The prices of what? Of all commodities. Now it is utterly impossible for any one to show how people will be better off when they get twice as much for what they sell if at the same time they have to pay twice as much for what they buy. Would the farmer be any richer to-morrow were he to get a dollar a bushel for his wheat if at the same time the price of all other commodities advanced proportionately? The whole silver business is a fallacy. A people is not rich according to the price of its commodities, but according to the quantity of them. "Famine" prices are the highest of all prices; and prices are always lowest when everything is to be had in abundance and there is plenty for everybody. The worship of "high" prices is an absurdity.

Q. Would not the free coinage of silver raise wages? A. Let us see. The most that the free coinage plan could do would be to raise wages just as much as it raised everything else. The result, as we have seen, would not be to the benefit of anybody. Although the workingman would receive twice as many coins on Saturday night he would have to pay out twice as many for everything he purchased and would therefore be no richer. As a matter of fact, however, nobody knows better than the laborer that, as a rule, one of the very last things to rise is wages, and, if any elevating process followed the adoption of free coinage, the price of commodities would respond to it very much more quickly than his income. Of course, by agitation and strikes, the workingman might in the end become one of the beneficiaries of silver. That is, he would receive two dollars for one, and pay out two dollars for one, but in the "getting there" his road would be a very hard and costly one. Until he succeeded he would get only the same number of dollars as of old, while the expenses of living would be much greater.

Work on the Charter.

Chapter IX. of the proposed Greater New York charter has been issued by the Committee on Draft of the Greater New York Commission. It relates to the duties of the Commissioner of Public Works, and proposes to create a central office located in the borough of Bowling Green, with branches in charge of deputies in each of the other boroughs, with the exception of Richmond, which is not provided for in this chapter at all. It abolishes the office of Commissioner of the 23d and 24th Wards. The powers of the Commissioner of Public Works are the same as under the present consolidation act, and the system and method of the present Department of Public Works are extended to the new territory treated by this chapter. It is provided that the Department shall have control of:

1. All structures and property connected with the supply and distribution of Croton water.
2. The collection of the revenues arising from the sale or use of the Croton water.
3. Opening, altering, regulating, grading, flagging, curbing, guttering, and lighting streets, roads, places, and avenues.
4. Repairing and construction of public roads.
5. The care of public buildings including the buildings known as the County Court House Buildings of the Counties of New York and Richmond.
6. The filling of sunken lots.
7. Public sewers and drainage.
8. Street vaults and openings in sidewalks.
9. Paving, repairing and repaving streets, and keeping the same clear of obstructions, and of the relaying of pavement removed for any cause.
10. Digging and constructing wells.
11. The care, management and maintenance of the public baths.
12. The location, erection, establishment and maintenance of public urinals.

Bureaus are established as follows, and each is to have a branch located in the Borough of Brooklyn:

1. Laying water pipes and the construction and repair of sewers, wells and hydrants, for grading, paving, flagging, curbing, guttering and repairing streets, the chief officer of which shall be called "Superintendent of Water and Street Improvements."
2. The collection of revenue derived from the sale and use of water; the chief officers of which shall be called "Water Registrars."
3. Having care of all structures and property connected with the supply and distribution of water, the chief officer of which shall be called "Chief Engineer of Aqueducts," with power to appoint and remove at pleasure, and detail a staff of assistant engineers. He and they must be civil engineers of at least ten years' experience.
4. Of lamps, gas, and electricity, the chief officer of which shall be called "Superintendent of Lighting."
5. Of streets and roads, the chief officer of which shall be called "Superintendent of Streets."
6. Of repairs and supplies, which shall have cognizance of all supplies and repairs to public buildings, works, lands, and places, and all other necessary repairs and supplies not provided for in other departments, the chief officer of which shall be called "Superintendent of Repairs and Supplies," and shall be a practical builder.
7. The removal of incumbrances on the streets or sidewalks or public grounds not inclosed in any park, the chief officer of which shall be called the "Superintendent of Incumbrances," to whom all complaints shall be made, and by whom such incumbrances shall be removed.

And such other bureaus as the Commissioner of Public Works shall from time to time deem necessary to the proper discharge of the duties of his department.

The provisions of the present law governing the Department of Public Works in regard to street paving, laying water mains, the construction, repair and cleaning of sewers, plans for sewerage and drainage, the regulation of water rents and the placing of water meters, and the acquisition of land for water supply, and the proceedings under which real estate is to be acquired for city purposes, and the appointment of Commissioners under such proceedings are continued as they now exist, and are made to cover the entire territory included in the Greater New York.

The Building Law for Greater New York.

There are many people no doubt anxious to know what has become of the work of revising the Buiding Laws, of which so much was heard last winter and spring, especially in view of the drafting of the charter for Greater New York and the necessity that arises for recognizing the Department of Buildings and the laws governing the same, and the construction of buildings in the enlarged city. It will be remembered that last April the Committee on Digest of the Conference on Revision of the Building Laws turned the reports made by the sub-committees, after revision by them, over to their attorneys, with instructions to put them in form for presentation to the Legislature. The idea was, of course, that this work when completed would be submitted to the Conference in the coming fall and winter for approval, before being sent to Albany. The attorneys have not yet presented their report.

The passage of the Greater New York Act and the appointment of a Commission to draft a charter and laws for the government of the consolidated city, changed the condition of affairs very much, and the work that is being done on the charter and laws made it imperative that some action should be taken, if the work of the conference and sub-committees was to have fruit and their views find expression in the new laws which the Commission will submit to the Legislature. Accordingly a meeting of the Committee on Digest was called recently, and under a resolution passed by it the following committee was appointed to obtain a hearing before the Greater New York Commission, with the view of having that Commission embody the ideas of the Committee of Digest in any law they may report for the regulation of building within Greater New York; Messrs. Stevenson Constable, Superintendent Department of Buildings, New York City; Wesley C. Bush, Commissioner of Buildings, City of Brooklyn; Wm. J. Freyer, Samuel McMillan, Cornelius O'Reilly, Geo. B. Post and Ex-Mayor Edward Cooper. It is understood that the Greater New York Commission will be advised by this committee to create a Building Department headed by three or more Commissioners, with several district superintendents, to look after details of work, the boundaries of the districts to be arranged hereafter; that the law should be prepared to meet the requirements of the several kinds of territory to be found within the limits of Greater New York as well as in other important particulars, and that the work of drafting this law should be confided to the Committee on Digest.

The committee has been promised an opportunity to address the Commission. Meantime the Committee on Draft of the Greater New York Commission have repaired the omission noticed in the earlier chapters of its proposed charter which made no mention of the Department of Buildings, and has devoted Chapter XII. to that department.' This chapter proposes that there should be a single head for the Department of Buildings and that the laws governing it and building should be practically those now in force for New York City. It is unnecessary to repeat that the work of the Committee on Draft is to be submitted to the Commission and the final results to the Legislature.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

A new sort of fireproof floor constructure is described in the "Deutsche Bauzeitung." After a floor has been laid with iron beams, which may be spaced 2 feet from centres, or even more, if the floor between them is given a curved intrados, parallel slips of sheet-iron, on edge, are laid on them, 4 or 5 inches apart. The intervals between the slips are then filled with similar slips, bent to a zig-zag shape, so that the angles will just touch the longitudinal slips on each side, and the points of contract are secured together by wire rings. This skeleton is then filled in with concrete; and the floor so made is found to have great resistance, so that, as the patentees claim, it will support safely a load of one thousand to twelve hundred pounds per square foot.

A correspondent suggests a way of getting good solder, a matter made somewhat difficult by the indefiniteness of the term half- and-half, which is applied to so many grades, this is to use only solder having the maker's name cast plainly on each bar, so that in case an inferior quality is met with it can be avoided in the future. If consumers generally accept this suggestion the manufacturer will soon catch on and good solder will be the rule and not the exception.

"There is nothing more dangerous than to dry the walls (that is by occupation) of a new French house," says London "Truth." "The gypsum of which plaster of Paris is made, gives out poisonous emanations long after it has been used in house building. One can always rent a new French flat at a rent considerably less than what will be asked for it some years later. The reason is that the tenant dries the plaster to his personal detriment."

Terra cotta possesses one great advantage over stone for its use in cities, and that is a surface which, after its baptism of fire, is capable of successfully resisting the strongest gases and acids that the foulest city air contains, and one which every shower of rain restores to its pristine freshness, washing off the tender overtones which smoke and soot so delicately spread.

The first essential of good plastering is a good preparation to receive it, says a writer in the "Canadian Architect." For plastering on brick or terra cotta, have your work straight and true, the joints rough. Don't use dry press brick, nor terra cotta with smooth face. If your walls are not straight don't expect to get a straight wall in two-coat work—lime mortar cannot be made that is equally good when used ½ an inch thick and 2 inches thick in the same wall. Don't plaster with cement made from gypsum or similar compounds, such as acme, royal, agitite, etc., on Columbian fireproofing, or on Portland cement, unless you have them dry enough to prevent sweating or condensation. Portland or native cement, or even lime mortar is preferable in such work. Don't allow mortar to go on thicker than ¾ of an inch at one time, and have your brick or cement free from dust or dirt. Don't plaster on smoked brick or old brick from chimneys; they will stain badly. In preparing for lathing have your joisting, trimmers, etc., heavy enough to prevent vibration, and strap all large ceilings, using 2x2 strapping on 16-inch centres. If you don't strap, at least have all joisting and studding sized; very much crooked work would be avoided by enforcing this rule. Have all angles made solid. See to it yourself and don't rely on lathers who work by the piece to inform you of the carpenter's defects, and have trouble with him in consequence. Use white pine lath, seasoned, but not too dry, 1⅝x⅜ lath are light enough; 1x⅜ lath are only fit for use on joisting or studding at 12-inch centres. Eighteen-inch breaks are frequent enough, but don't allow lath to break at door posts; the slamming of a door or even the nailing of trim will cause a crack here. Don't blame the plaster for this when you have allowed the carpenter to center his work so as to cause waste of time and lath to avoid it. Don't be unreasonable. Contractors are working at close figures for a living. Blame the right party. When you see a crack at an internal angle just above the base, you did not have that angle made solid, and nailing the base caused it to crack. Lath stains cannot be avoided in two-coat work, and are even more liable to appear when patent plasters are used, as the first coat is put on much thinner to save cost. Two-coat work is also liable to have every lath and joist show through when work gets old—you can count them through the plaster.

"Terra cotta possesses several distinctive properties which call for their own treatment and place it in a different class and under different regulations from those guiding the use of stone," says George M. R. Twose, in "The Engineering Magazine." "Although the fundamental architectural forms are little capable of change, the difference in broad general treatment which the material demands will, if we faithfully adapt our design to its idiosyncrasies, give to terra cotta an architecture as distinctive in character as that based upon wood or brick or stone. It is in a consideration of the ethical character of terra cotta that one encounters the greatest objections that are to be urged against its use, and, paradoxically, its greatest virtues are its greatest vices. Terra cotta, being plastic to a degree, may be said to leap forward to the modeler and meeting him almost half-way, realizes at once the grandest and broadest conceptions with an ease equalled in no other material. Unless the nature actuating it be one of dignity and great restraint, capable of severity and self-denial, terra cotta in its easily-attained prettiness and its temptation to overload with ornament and indulge in sensuous display, may be regarded almost as an immoral material, and one whose unrestrained use is likely to militate in the worst way against the high and pure laws of true architecture."

John H. Mills, in his book, "Heat for the Warming and Ventilation of Buildings," has given the following formula: In estimating for size of radiator for a room allow 1 square foot of radiating surface for each 2 feet of glass, 1 for each 20 square feet of wall exposed, and 1 for each 200 cubic feet of space to be warmed. The only extra figuring necessitated by the use of this rule is to estimate the amounts of window and wall exposure, which calculation, it would seem, would be well paid for by the extra element of certainty which such calculations would impart to the final estimate of radiation needed. Perhaps the best way to work the rule, at least for those who are more accustomed to the ratio method, is to use the two together, first estimating on a ratio basis, and then by the 2-20-200 rule. If the two results approximate it is fair to assume a considerable confidence in the correctness of both; if the results vary a little an average of the two may make a safe determination, while if they are considerably at variance it would look as if it were well to reconsider one or both of the estimates. This rule does not apply when the heating of any room under consideration involves any feature of ventilation, but it is intended to cover only such cases as come under the ordinary requirements of direct heating from direct radiators.

Trade Notes.

A QUICK CLEANING PROCESS.

Lloyd Fresco Cleaning Company undertake to clean smoky ceilings, wall papers, frescos, etc., thoroughly, quickly and cheaply. Theirs is a new process, applied by carefully instructed men, and they claim for it that it removes every particle of dust or dirt, leaving the wall paper and ceilings with all the bright and cheerful appearance of newness. They have just cleaned the frescos of the Seaman's Bank for Savings, and it is admitted to be a remarkably successful job, the painter who did the original work, twelve years ago, having himself borne testimony to this fact. They have a number of testimonials from proprietors of prominent hotels in this city approving their work, one of whom says: "I was like a great many others, could not believe they could do what they said they could, but on giving them a trial I was more than pleased with their work." The company is anxious to give anyone a trial of what they can do, and those who contemplate improving the interior of buildings will do well to first apply to W. J. Lloyd, manager, at No. 59 West 42d street, telephone 1629 38th street, to see what assistance he can render them before completing their plans.

Real Estate Market.

The sales have been more numerous this week than last, but involve nothing of importance. The total represented by the appended reports indicates a total investment of about $450,000. The inquiry for every class of property is practically dormant, as had been anticipated, and it is doubtful if any activity will be shown for several more weeks at least.

The fall house renting season cannot be said to have opened auspiciously as the great majority of the uptown agents complain of the same sluggish conditions that prevailed a year ago. Some residences are being leased, of course, as they always are at all times of the year. In the business sections there is more being done in spots than there was last fall, but nothing exists uptown or down to warrant any expectation of a more active demand for accommodations of any description.

The following are the comparative tables for the New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1895 and 1896.

The holders of the mortgages foreclosed were apparently the only persons interested in this week's auctions, every one of which took place pursuant to a court order. The sales adjourned beyond next week were those of No. 3097 3d avenue, southwest corner of 158th street, and No. 148 West 120th street, both until Sept. 3; No. 483 Manhattan avenue to Sept. 9, and No. 12 5th avenue, to Sept. 15.

Philip A. Smyth announces an important sale of lots for Saturday next, the 29th inst., at 1.30, on the premises, rain or shine. The lots in question, 155 in number, are situated right in the business heart of Westchester, on Westchester avenue and other streets. They can be reached by Third avenue trolley, which runs past them, and New York & New Haven Railroad. Titles will be guaranteed by Lawyers' Title Co. MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—There was a dull, weak and featureless market. The receipts of Hudson River brick have continued liberal, while demand has been poor, consequently supplies in receivers' hands have been steadily increasing so that at present they are carrying over about 50 barges daily. As a result there has been a general absence of tone to values. The range for the general run of brick has been from $3.87½ to $4.50, although for specials up to $5 has been obtained. The desirable grades of pale trade have continued to receive a moderate share of attention, and they have held steady at $2, but the poorer grades have not been wanted, and have dragged along at $1.50@1.75. The demand for Jersey brick has been very moderate, but as the supply shipped to this market has been limited prices have held steady; the best grades have sold at $4@4.12½, and the poorer stock have brought from $3.50@3.75, according to quality.

IRON AND STEEL.—There has been a tame and uninteresting market for pig iron. Business has been decidedly unsatisfactory, and although no changes have been made in quoted values the general tone has been easy. We quote at $11.50 @12.50 per ton for No. 1 X foundry, $11.25@ 11.75 for No. 2 X do., and $10.75@10.75 for Gray Forge. No changes of importance have been apparent on the market for old material. The amount of business transacted has been very moderate and prices have weakened slightly. We quote at $12.50@13.00 for old iron rails; $12@12.25 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $11@11.50 for cast scrap: $12.25@12.50 for old car wheels, and $7@9.50 for borings, stove plate, etc. The feature of the market for steel was a sale made recently of 9,000 tons of 60-lb. steel rails for shipment to Japan at a concession from the combine price, which is usual whenever there is competition with foreign interest. The combine price has been quoted unchanged at $28 f. o. b. mill. Manufactured iron has sold slowly, and values have been easy.

LATH.—The market for lath has shown no new features of importance. There has been no spirit to the trading; still a moderate amount of business has been transacted as arrivals have been fairly well absorbed and prices have been unchanged and steady at $1.55@1.60.

LIME.—The more favorable weather has given a trifle more tone to the market. Demand has also shown some improvement, and as arrivals have been rather limited and supplies in receivers' hands have not been large, prices have shown some steadiness, closing at 60c. for common Rockland, and 70c. for finishing do. A cargo of St. John was reported on the market, and for a round lot 50c. was quoted, with jobbing parcels at 55@60c. There has been no state lime offering, and quotations are nominal.

LUMBER.—General existing conditions have undergone very little change during the week under review. There has continued, with few exceptions, an almost entire absence of snap to business and values have shown an absence of tone, but no radical changes have occurred in quotations. A greater degree of confidence has been shown latterly in the success of the sound-money party at the coming Presidential election, due to what has been considered generally the poor showing made by the Presidential nominee in his speech of acceptance. It has not, however, had an appreciable influence upon business, and as a rule dealers do not anticipate a material improvement in business until the outcome of the present monetary agitation is definitely known. The extreme difficulty in making collections also naturally has a tendency to keep business at a minimum.

Nothing of special interest has transpired in the market for pines. A limited amount of North Carolina pine has been placed for export at, we understand, fairly satisfactory prices, but the home trade has been a slow buyer and would only operate at concessions. Yellow pine has moved slowly and prices have continued to favor buyers. The better grades of white pine have received some attention, and as a rule have commanded fairly steady prices, but the coarse grades have been difficult to move and have sold at low figures.

Some attention has been given to the market for Eastern spruce. A limited number of orders have been placed and the few random cargoes that have offered have found buyers at about quotations. Advices from the provinces continue to report the demand for English deals as fairly brisk and that prices have been advanced 25c. per M. A moderate export business has been transacted with South America at fair prices.

The market for hemlock has shown a good steady tone. Demand has been well up to the production and prices have been well maintained.

There has been a moderate call for plain and quartered oak, and prices have ruled steady, but for most styles of hardwoods there has been a flat market, and as there has been something of a pressure to sell prices have shown a general absence of tone.

The "Mississippi Valley Lumberman" has the following on the white pine situation:

"Northern pine mills are confronted with a rather peculiar set of circumstances for the month of August. But hardly more than half of the sawing season has been passed, yet shutting down is being contemplated by a great many of the largest operators. The decision to curtail the output this season was a wise one, yet the twenty-five per cent originally agreed upon is being found to be too small a reduction in the output of the mills to correspond with the condition of the trade during the past two or three months. Trade during February opened up well, and hopes were raised that 1896 would prove a better year for the lumber trade than its predecessor. But those who thought so were doomed to disappointment. The demand fell off in March, and continued to be less than for the corresponding months of the previous year, up to the present time. Prices also naturally weakened some, and the shrinkage in sales has forced many operators to decide between going ahead and piling up stock that will not be needed before sawing begins next season, and on which taxes and insurance will have to be paid, as well as probably capital will have to be borrowed to pay for its sawing, or closing down and throwing many laboring men out of employment.

"Throughout the farming regions the situation is such that ordinarily there would be every prospect of a good fall trade. Crops have been large and of good quality in all of the agricultural States of the Middle and West, with exceptions only in certain localities of not large area. Corn is looking fine in the corn States, and even at prevailing low prices farmers will realize a great deal on the grain and stock before the next crop season. The financial agitation that is crippling industry and hindering internal commerce of all kinds is the great detriment to the development of business. A fairly good fall trade seems likely despite the fact that this is a year of a Presidential election.

"White pine mills are beginning to close down and by the 1st of September there will be very few mills of importance, outside of those in this city, in operation. The Minneapolis mills, naturally, owing to their not starting until June 1st, must saw later in the fall, in order to recoup their stocks that were badly broken before new lumber was put in pile. We believe that it is a wise step, under the circumstances, to reduce the output of the white pine territory by a general closing down as early as possible. The effect on the market cannot be other than stimulating. With a dull demand, a reduction of stocks must stiffen values and tend to restore confidence in lumber which seems to have been [illegible] months. Northern lumbermen should not be discouraged, for brighter days are near. The lumber requirements of the region [illegible] and Kansas north to the Canadian boundary and west to the Rocky Mountains, has not shrunk. It is merely the ability to purchase that has, apparently, through lack of confidence and other causes, decreased, but lumber is and will be needed just the same."

The "Northwestern Lumberman" says of the position of cypress:

"Cypress came in as a competitor in northern markets long after pine, oak and poplar had become established as leading finishing woods. It was a little behind yellow pine in getting a start in the northwest. It had been used for two centuries, perhaps, to a degree, in the seaboard cities of the east, but more in the colonial days than in the present century. Within the past ten or twelve years extraordinary effort has been made to extend the use and sale of it north of the Ohio River and in the middle and New England States. Simultaneously manufacture has been considerably enlarged, especially in Louisiana and other Gulf States, as well as in the South Atlantic region.

"There are two peculiar manifestations in the general lumber trade which should not be lost sight of. There are commanding leaders among the woods, and there are others not so commanding, but fillers in, as specials, substitutes and varieties. A wood to command a position in the market must acquire a general use in manufacture and building. Such a position has for many years been occupied by white pine, norway pine in the northern States; by hemlock in Pennsylvania and the east; by spruce in New England and New York; by poplar in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. Within recent years yellow pine has moved to a position of command, and has succeeded in occupying vantage ground over nearly the entire country, as well as in foreign parts. Oak has a command of its own, and holds it against all the mutations of time. Ash has had a time of command, but has lost it in the furniture trade, and much of it in the line of machine and wagon dimension stock, but holds a fair position. The latest brigadiers among the woods in this country are cottonwood, birch and basswood. Pacific coast woods hold important positions on their native heath and in foreign countries, but they have only made forays east of the mountains, yet have entrenched themselves in strong positions and are thus prepared to hold their ground and make sallies for new conquests. The latest and most brilliant aggressive movement made by mill product is that by Washington cedar shingles. They have reached a commanding position in the Missouri Valley, and have occupied a good deal of ground in the country eastward, though their position is more precarious east of the Mississippi than west of that stream.

"The kind of lumber is a success which attains a wide and copious market, becomes a staple dependence, and holds its position for many years, or until its supply is well-nigh exhausted. Cypress has charged forth within recent years, and has gained a good foothold. But has it been promoted on such lines as to give it that commanding position which it deserves? Has it not been pushed too much as a specialty, as merely a lumber for a variety in house trim, with an incidental application to tank work and greenhouse building, and other specialties? Has cypress been sufficiently urged on the market as an all around wood, capable of any use to which the pines or any other woods are available?

"So far as this market is concerned, and, it is believed, the northwest generally, cypress has been promoted almost entirely as an interior finish and a tank lumber. Undoubtedly it has special adaptability to such purposes, but is it not confined to them too specially? In promoting the sale of cypress, is it not done too much as a specialty, to be tried for variety's sake? Should it not be thrust forward as a wood better than any, or at least equal in merit to any, for all building and manufacturing purposes?

"If it can be shown that in the northwest there is need of a more vigorous pushing of cypress to a commanding position among the woods, how can that best be done? This is an important question. It is possible that there may be some defect in the method of marketing cypress in the northwest. The "Lumberman" is not prepared to say that this is the case, but is aware that in localities cypress lacks the vigorous promotion which it needs to secure the attention it deserves. The condition of the cypress trade north of the Ohio River should be a matter of deep interest to the mill operators in the Gulf States, for there is a wide field in this region for the distribution of lumber, in which cypress should take a leading part.

"If times were normally prosperous it is probable that cypress manufacturers would have no trouble in disposing of their output without special effort. It is also probable that the measure of accumulation now visible would not trouble operators should there be some revival of demand during the fall and winter. In that case operators would not be over-anxious to cultivate the northwestern trade, especially if they had to modify their grading and prices to do it. Yet it seems natural that cypress should be largely disposed of in territory directly north of the producing locality, where a variety of demand can be furnished by direct car load shipments."

METALS.—While the quotations for ingot copper show a further decline from the prices named in our last report, the market during the past week has shown some steadiness, and there has been a slight recovery from the lowest prices reached. At this writing Lake Superior was steady at 10⅞@11c.; other descriptions were quoted at 10⅛@10¾c. The demand for manufactured copper has been quiet, but prices have ruled steady. We quote: For sheets, 32x72 ins. and 36x96 ins., 16@25c. as to weight; 30x longer than 96 ins., 16@19c.; do. 36x72 ins., 16@26c.; 36x96 ins., 16@25c.; 36x120 ins., 16@22c.; 36x longer than 120 ins., 16@18c.; 48x72 ins., 16@26c.; 48x96 ins., 16@24c.; 48x120 ins., 16@24c.; 48x longer than 120 ins., 16@22c.; 60x72 ins., 16@27c.; 60x96 ins., 16@25c.; 60x120 ins., 16@22c.; 60x longer than 120 ins., 16@24c.; 72x96 ins., 16@24c.; 72x144 ins., 16@26c.; 72x longer than 144 ins., 17@24c.; 108x120 ins., 17@25c.; 108x longer than 128 ins., 19@20c.; wider than 108x144 ins., 20x22c.; wider than 108 and longer than 144 ins., 21@24c. Bolt copper, ⅜-in. diameter and over, 16c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 ins. diameter and less, 3c. above prices of sheets of same thickness; circles 60 to 90 do. do., 4c. do.; circles 96 do. and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. All polished copper 1c. per lb. advance over cold rolled copper, when 20 ins. wide and under, and 2c. advance when more than 20 ins. wide. Copper bottoms, 20@26c. per lb.

There has been a dull and drooping market for pig lead. Business has been slow, and as advices both from the West and London have been unfavorable, prices have declined. At this writing the market was flat, with domestic quoted at $2.70. The manufactures of lead are quoted at 5¼c. for pipe, 6¼c. for sheet, 12½c. for tin-lined pipe, and 25c. for block tin pipe. The demand for spelter has been of very moderate proportions and the tendency of prices has been downward; domestic is quoted at $3.75@3.80. There has been no exception in the market for pig tin to the general dullness of business. Demand has been decidedly limited, and as stocks have been large and foreign advices have been weaker prices have declined, and at this writing $13.25@13.30 was quoted for regular lots, and $13.35@13.40 for jobbing parcels f. o. b. The call for tin plate has continued very moderate, but offerings have been small and prices have been well held. We quote as follows: I. C. charcoal, Melyn grade, $4.62½@4.65; Allaway grade, $3.90@3.95; Allaway grade, I. X., $4.70@4.75; charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, $5.80@6.00; M. F. grade, 20x28, $11.60@11.70; Worcester grade, 14x20, $4.10@4.15; Worcester, 20x28, $8.00@8.05; American coke tin, 14x20, $3.30@3.65; American charcoal terne, 14x20, $3.60@3.75, and 20x28, $7.25@7.50; I. C. coke, Bessemer steel, heavy, $3.50@3.75; Bessemer steel, light, 14x20, $3.30@3.40.

NAILS.—The market has been without changes or new features of importance. Business has been slow as buyers have limited their purchases to their most urgent wants. The Association prices have shown no changes, but independent manufacturers, we understand, have been shading quotations. We quote at $2.30@2.40 per keg for car lots at mill, $2.55 per keg for small parcels from dock, and $2.57 from store. Wire, $2.70 for car lots from dock, and $2.80 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—There has continued a generally quiet and uninteresting market. Business has been limited to small hand-to-mouth purchases as buyers have shown no disposition to anticipate wants, but no changes have been made in quotations, although on white lead there has been rumors in circulation that independent producers have been making concessions from quoted prices, but nothing of a positive nature could be learned. The Association figures on lead last announced are as follows, subject to change without notice. Pure white lead, dry or in oil, red lead, and litharge in kegs, in lots of 500 lbs. and over, 5¼c.; red lead and litharge in barrels and half barrels, ¼c. per lb. less than the price in kegs; white lead (cases), 1c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead in 25-lb. tin pails (packed in 100-lb. or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead, assorted in 1-lb., 2-lb., 3-lb. and 5-lb. cans (packed in 100 or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs. Terms: On lots of 500 lbs. and over, 60 days, or 2 per cent discount for cash, if paid within 15 days from date of invoice f. o. b. at New York. Special prices for dry white lead in barrels. Quantities: To make either of above assorted quantities and assortment of packages either or all of the articles may be counted. The above prices and terms supersede all previous prices and terms offered by this company. Nothing of interest has transpired in the market for linseed oil. The amount of new business transacted has been very moderate, but as the offerings by Western crushers have been limited, prices have held fairly steady, although there has been a further shrinkage in the prices of seed at the West. The distributing movement is very moderate. American is quoted at 31c. for 5-barrel lots or over, and 32c. for less than 5-barrel lots; do. boiled was at 33@34c.; Calcutta was at 50c. Western crushed oil was quoted at 30@31c. There has been only a limited amount of activity to the trading in the market for spirits of turpentine, but the price for machine-made barrels has made a fractional advance in response to a further improvement in the market at the South, and at the higher prices the tone has been fairly firm. The close was steady, with regulars at 24c. and machines at 25c. We quote at 24@25½c. per gallon, according to time and place of delivery, quantity, style of package, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—No improvement has been reported to the demand for tar, only a small jobbing business has been transacted, but as offerings have been limited and advices from the South have continued firm, prices have held steady. Pitch has sold slowly at unchanged quotations. We quote tar at $1.65@1.85 in pine or Wilmington barrels, $2.40½@2.50 in pork barrels, and $3.25 in oil barrels. Pitch, $1.85@1.90.

VOL. LVIII. AUGUST 29, 1896, No. 1,485

THERE can be no question that the past week has brought out a good deal of bad news, principally in the form of failures and the suspension of active operations by solvent concerns. The failures do not differ from those which have, as a rule, marked this period of business distress, and rather, because of their obvious inevitability at some near day, relieve than embarrass the situation, except as they assist to draw attention to other and more serious matters. The closing of mills and manufactories throughout the country is the worst feature and cannot be overlooked, because it so directly interferes with the circulation of money. Still, for all this, there is a little better feeling than there was a week ago, and this improvement promises to endure for some time. The movement of gold this way under a natural operation of exchange is quite a cheerful sign, helping as it does to remove the fear for the integrity of the Treasury gold surplus and proving that our commercial operations with Europe are in a more healthful and hopeful state than they have been for three years. The sense and vigor with which the Republican campaign is being opened cannot but please party adherents at least, and the opponent who can say that the babble and diatribe of Mr. Bryan are more convincing than the measured sensible statements contained in Major McKinley's letter of acceptance and in the speeches of Messrs, Cockran, Sherman, Reed, Harrison and others must have a peculiar mental endowment, and one that is not to be coveted. The stock market has stood up bravely under the bad news, and, judging from that, it should advance under the good. In this connection it must not be forgotten that generally prices are low in view of the circumstances and conditions of the properties represented by the bonds and stocks traded in. The stringency of the money market has sent them down and has kept them down, and by the same ruling any relief ought to send them up again.

LI HUNG CHANG will doubtless go back to China confirmed by his travels in his national belief that outside of the Celestial Empire all are barbarians. His journey was begun to represent his nation at the coronation of the Russian Czar, and was continued for State reasons and to gratify a natural curiosity as to what existed in the so-called open and civilized countries. Everywhere his reception has been of the bargain-counter order, and every great officer of State—President, Emperor, King, Prime Minister—has played the drummer. How coarse and brutal this must seem to this distinguished traveler from China, where the intercourse of visitors and hosts is so peculiarly a matter of delicate attentions and courtesies. No doubt he had his confidential message on affairs of State to convey, but what these were no one knows but himself and the people through and to whom they were conveyed. What we are told of this part of his mission is pure conjecture, or half truth only at the most; but we do know that his reception has almost invariably been that accorded by merchants to a possibly large buyer and the picture is not an agreeable one. However, he is now with the last nation of shop keepers on his way home and in a few days will cease, for a time at least, to be an object of prominent interest. Both banks and railroads in great Britain are making larger distributions to their stockholders as a result of the improved business of the past year, and their annual showings are in every way gratifying. The Rand seems to have fully recovered from its troubles of last winter, having last July beaten its own monthly record for output of gold. The yield was 203,873 ounces, valued at something over $4,000,000. The production of Westralia is disappointing inasmuch as it shows no improvement over that of last year, although the capital it represents has been very largely increased. The French and other European railroads are also doing a good business and thereby indicating a flourishing condition of affairs in the countries they minister to. Latest advices indicate that the German public did not subscribe over-eagerly to the last Russian loan; its success was due to its reception by the bankers and dealers, which is a very qualified success after all. The exchanges and bourses are everywhere languid and dull, awaiting apparently for the close of the holiday period and the appearance of an incentive to activity on one side or the other. The proposal to give Crete autonomy subject to payment of tribute to the Porte is on its face a good plan for settling the troubles in that island. It may, also, inaugurate a policy for dealing with other rebellious provinces of Turkey and so bring about the dismemberment of that empire by gentler means than it was hitherto thought possible to obtain.

NOT enough insistence is put upon the fact that the defeat of Bryan and the silverites must be complete and overwhelming if this country is to have financial peace and enjoy the benefits of its plenty. A narrow success will not establish our monetary position, and it is hardly too much to say that even a victory for silver will not be worse than a long period of doubt and agitation with the gold standard in jeopardy perpetually. Bryan's election would mean revolution, of course—a general upset; but his defeat by a small majority would insure years of commercial dry-rot, for confidence would not be restored until a positive verdict at the polls determines whether we are to work on a gold or on a silver basis. The most pressing business which every man—Banker, Merchant, Farmer, Laborer—has before him to-day is the defeat of the silver lunacy. It is the affair of the hour and takes precedence of the ordinary occupation of all. So long as it exists the activity of everybody is restricted. There is nothing wrong with the present condition of this country except this: its affairs apparently cannot be freed from the nefarious meddling of cranks, politicians and lunatics. We have abundant harvests, boundless opportunities, brains and pluck. All we require to get along, as well as mortals are permitted to, is to be left alone. We need peace, peace from legislation, from nostrums for making wealth and from panaceas for our inevitable ills. Political and social activity is destroying the country. We are killing the body to cure pimples. It is getting that the industrious, the frugal, and the intelligent must be perpetually in a state of arms against "isms," lunacies and rascalities. They are like pioneers in a barbarous country, fearing hourly an assault of the savage. Facts, experience, expedience, the ten commandments, nothing is sufficient to prevent attack. The markets to-day are partly paralyzed, not because of a single serious adverse condition save the one—the business of the country is not left to take care of itself. If we could shut up all politicians for the next five years, muzzle the press, make it a crime to suggest any change in tariff or money, set all the jingoes to cutting each other's throats, we would soon emerge from our present stifled state and enjoy a vastly larger measure of prosperity than we have had for a decade.

"THE continued appreciation of the currency is causing some anxiety in the market, owing to its rapidity and the consequent wrench in values. * * * This makes a very serious difference to producers and those importers who have large stocks on hand, which they must now liquidate at a very serious loss. Home manufacturers of many articles will also be seriously prejudiced as the fall in the gold premium is equal to a reduction of import duties, which will enable foreign articles to compete with the home made." This is a quotation from the letter of a correspondent of a financial journal at Buenos Ayres and shows the evils of a variable currency. The value of gold in Argentine paper money being an uncertain quantity, everything else is made of uncertain value and avoidable difficulties of doing business are added to the unavoidable, which in themselves are plentiful and serious enough. Gold, having appreciated under demands for remittances, is falling with a slackening of that demand, bringing relief in some quarters but anxiety and dangers in others. In due course a reverse movement will set in reversing also these conditions. We see here one of the results which the success of the silver movement would bring about in this country. There would be no parity between gold and silver. It is not intended that the government should undertake the duty of keeping up the equation between their values, nor could the government do it under unlimited free coinage of silver if it tried to; we can see that by the difficulty it has experienced in the past three years in keeping a limited amount of silver on a parity with gold. Consequently with gold varying in value under a greater or lesser demand for exchange, the silver and other currency would vary also, but in contrary direction to the movements of gold. It does not take a professor in political economy to see that this would be very bad for business, by keeping everybody always on the ragged edge and doubtful as to whether he could sell his goods for what he paid for them, or whether the money he contracted to receive would be worth as much when he received it as when he made his contract. In the presumption bred of our natural endowments and the breadth and richness of our soil, many of us think that what applies to Argentina can never apply to the United States. Like cause will produce like results all the world over. Prior to 1890 the Argentines talked as we talk to-day. Their undeveloped mineral resources and rich soil were the justification for an inflated currency and a great debt. In that year the country became bankrupt and has been struggling with its redundant currency and partially repudiated debt ever since; enterprise is stifled and business is embarrassed by burdensome conditions. To-day in the United States the silverites tell us that we can take the whole silver holdings and product of the world turn it into money and use it in our affairs and be the better thereby, because our size and natural wealth and productiveness makes us superior to the influences that govern the trade and commerce of the whole world. This is sheer presumption and ignorance. With no artificial measures to keep silver on a parity with gold it will, whether in coin or in bullion, find its commercial level, which will undoubtedly be below that of gold. With a variable currency we shall eventually be out of credit and without the means to develop our resources; trade will languish because of its uncertainties and commerce decline for the same reason. If any one class will prosper it is that bete noir of the silverite and the populist, and every other ist for that matter, the usurer, because all others being embarrassed they will be always at his mercy.

BY an act of the last Legislature, Chapter 610, Laws of 1896, Section 471 of the Building Law has been added to by a declaration that any front or other exterior wall of any existing building which extends not more than four inches upon any street, avenue or public place, such walls shall not be removable, unless an action or proceeding shall be instituted by or in behalf of the city for the removal of such wall, within the period of one year from the passage of this act, that is to say, one year from May 13th. A further provision is also made that any existing bay or oriel window which does not extend more than 12 inches beyond the street line shall not be removable, unless a similar action be commenced by the city within the same period of time. The object of this amendment is to legalize walls that have been inadvertently or otherwise built beyond the proper building line, and bay windows that have been projected beyond the building line under an impression that such bay windows could be lawfully erected with a projection of one foot beyond the street line. The new provisions are all very well as far as they go, but a great number of buildings have portions of the front, such as piers, buttresses and other architectural features projecting more than four inches beyond the building line, and there are a great number of bay windows that project more than one foot, and even as much as three feet beyond the building line. For these latter cases the new legal provisions afford no remedy, and still leaves open the vexed question as to the rights of a continued occupancy of a portion of the public highway, although many of these existing encroachments have been existing for a long period of years. The subject matter of the new clause added to section 471 has no relevancy to the other matter in that section, nor does it seem to be a proper kind of matter to be included in any of the sections of the building law. It should be contained in the shape of a separate act, as it is a remedial statute for the benefit of those who have erected certain structures beyond the line of their lots. We make mention of this only for the purpose of warding off possible future criticism of this section of the building law when wonderment may arise of how such a matter should be found embodied in the building law that is in no way retroactive and relates to the operations of the future.

Work on the New Charter.

The Committee on Draft of the Greater New York Commission, now apparently reduced in its active portions to Mr. De Witt, has given out four more chapters of the preliminary draft of the Greater New York charter. They relate to the Fire, Building, Correction and Public Charities Departments. They propose to make these single-head departments with deputies appointed by the several heads to manage the affairs of the several departments in other great divisions of the consolidated city besides New York proper.

As stated last week, Chapter XII. is devoted wholly to the Department of Buildings. It proposes that the head of the department shall be called the Commissioner of Buildings, that he shall appoint deputy commissioners of buildings, inspectors and other necessary assistants. One of the deputy commissioners to be named by the Commissioner is to act in the absence from duty of the latter. A deputy commissioner is to be seated in the Municipal Building in the Borough of Brooklyn, in charge of a branch office of the Department of Buildings, who, under control and direction of the Commissioner of Buildings, shall there perform all the duties of the department pertaining to buildings in the Boroughs of Brooklyn, Williamsburgh and Queens. A deputy commissioner may, also, in the discretion of the Commissioner, be appointed for the Borough of Richmond. Having made this provision for the administration of the building law, the chapter copies bodily the present building law for New York City.

Late this week Chapter XVI., relating to the Department of Docks, was issued. It places this department also under one head, and extends his powers also to Brooklyn and Richmond Counties. A cursory reading gives the impression that the present laws, with all their imperfections relating to docks are continued in force.

28th st, No. 211 West.
8th av, Nos. 146, 148 and 150.

The failure of the City to sell its bonds is not unlikely to lead to a number of suits to recover amounts awarded for proposed new school house sites. The initiative was taken a day or two ago by the attorneys for an owner of a house in East 20th street, who in a letter to Mayor Strong, state that they intend bringing suit immediately to recover $19,000, the amount awarded for the property. The payment they claim is past due.

The Board of Aldermen on Thursday confirmed the tax rate of $2.14 on each $100, which was agreed upon early in the month. The city's tax books have passed into the hands of the Receiver of Taxes to whom all payments will be made. The tax rate last year was $1.91, and this year's rate is the highest levied since 1884.

Real Estate Market.

Traders are almost in control of the market, such as it is, and their transactions enable the presentation of $435,000 as the aggregate value of the property involved in the sales and exchanges reported. It would be interesting, however, to learn the exact amount of cash that is booked to change hands on the consummation of the limited number of deals of which we are able to give the details. Its smallness would probably start many a harassed property-owner of speculative tendencies to thinking harder than has heretofore been necessary. It must be said nevertheless, that the silver scare has yet to produce its first sacrifice of a real estate holding.

Another week has passed in which foreclosure sales exclusively constituted the daily attraction in the auction room. The property presented was, as a rule, of fair quality, but notwithstanding this the public competed to a moderate extent only with the respective plaintiffs in the various actions that led to the sales. D. P. Ingraham was the only auctioneer who succeeded in selling to a disinterested buyer, and it is worth noting that he enjoyed the same distinction the previous week. His announced sale of Nos. 614 and 616 Water street on Thursday did not take place, owing to a settlement of the suit having been effected. There were two postponements earlier in the week, both by William Kennelly. They involve the proposed sale of Nos. 230 to 234 East 96th street, adjourned to September 8, and that of No. 429 West 30th street to September 10.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. announce in our advertising pages that they will, on Thursday next, the 3d prox., sell at auction, in the Real Estate Exchange, No. 59 Liberty street, the lease of No, 740 3d avenue, running until May, 1909, with renewal to 1930. The auctioneer's offices are at Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street, where full particulars may be obtained.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

R. M. Montgomery & Co. have traded for Talbot Olyphant with Christopher R. Robert, the five-story brick business structure, 20.6x50.2x52x54.11, Nos. 90 and 92 Beaver street, southwest corner of Pearl street, for the four-story brick dwelling, with lot 25.4x105.10x25x101.8, No. 64 Riverside Drive.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have bought of the estate of Marion Osborn the lot 25x100.5, with frame dwelling, No. 146 East 44th street and resold same to Builder Michael F. Cusack, who will erect a five-story flat. James Kyle & Sons conducted the first sale and H. Rinaldo & Bro., the second one. The first-mentioned firm of brokers has also sold for Henry Falk the five-story brick tenement, 25x65x98.9, No. 326 East 39th street.

William Rosenzweig has sold for Joseph L. Buttenwieser the two six-story brick flats, 24x93x103.3 each, Nos. 239 and 241 West 15th street, to G. D. Hyman, who will give in exchange the five-story brick tenement and store, 25x70x100, No. 156 Attorney street. The amount involved is said to be $118,000, but it must be remembered that it covers a trade, a class of transaction that allows nowadays of very generous figures being quoted.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

George Heesemann, who recently purchased the two new five-story flats, 25x85x99.11 each, Nos. 310 and 312 West 142d street, has sold them to Mrs. C. E. Steers. The contract price reported by the seller is $66,000.

Mr. Heesemann and Mrs. W. C. Turner, wife of the builder, it is announced, have bought of Ottinger Bros., with a loan, the plot, 100.11x100, on the northeast corner of Morningside avenue and 120th street. The lots are to be improved without delay by the erection of flats. The sellers bought the block front of eight lots in October last for $90,000.

H. C. Senior & Co. have sold for Builder W. H. Picken the three-story stone front dwelling, 17 or 18x50x100.11, No. 223 West 112th street to a Mr. Turner.

LEASES.

John B. Smith has leased the former Grace Church chapel, Nos. 126 to 130 East 14th street, for ten years, from September 1, to David Kraus. The latter is a son of George J. Kraus, who up to a few months ago conducted the music hall and theatre on 29th street, near Broadway, then known as the "Imperial." The chapel will be extensively altered internally for use as a music hall and garden, to be managed by Mr. Kraus, Sr. The present church front will be removed, and one more in keeping with the future character of the building erected. The improvements will be made by the lessee and completed in time for opening about November 15.

Trade Notes.

CHAS. GRIMMER & SON REMOVE THEIR SHOP.

Chas. Grimmer & Son, the well-known polishers, enamelers, painters and decorators, have removed from No. 147 East 22d street to better fitted quarters at No. 230 East 37th street. Messrs. Grimmer are expert and conscientious workers who have satisfactorily executed innumerable contracts for some of the best firms throughout the country. Their new telephone number is 2225 38th street.

CONTRACTS FOR CONCRETE WORK.

The Wilson & Baillie Manufacturing Co., Brooklyn, have closed contracts for the concrete work on the sea wall at the Wallabout Market, some 1,600 feet in length. They are also under contract for all the concrete work for the Causeway at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, 522x44 feet.

THE CAFFALL SYSTEM.

The following important buildings are being treated by Messrs. Caffall Brothers, No. 41 Union square, New York, with their improved waterproofing and preserving processes: The Carnegie Music Hall, 56th street and 7th avenue, New York, by order of Mr. Henry J. Hardenberger, architect; the large new Manhattan Hotel Building, 42d street and Madison avenue, New York; the New York Club Building, 35th street and 5th avenue, New York; Mr. W. S. Pyle's residence, No. 3 East 53d street, New York; Mr. H. C. Fisher's residence, No. 111 West 86th street, New York; and other buildings and monuments in New York, Brooklyn, etc. Architects and owners of property are recognizing the value of the process for the protection of modern high buildings, now being so generally erected in large cities, not alone on account of its preservative properties against the destructive attacks of the weather, but also for the preservation of the delicate colors of the materials used, such as Indiana limestone, white brick and terra cotta, etc.

THE SALE OF GOODS

THIS is the problem of the moment. Not so much because there is little demand, (the plans filed at the Building Department show $1,790,950 of new work projected last week) but because competition is keen, buyers chary and selling requires unusual effort and push.

Some firms are doing a good business. They are the energetic ones; those who meet the buyer at every point. Their methods suit the times. They are fighters. They employ the best salesmen and equip them in the best manner possible. They experiment. They make use of every efficient agency they can command to secure their share of the market. The "old way," good enough yesterday, is supplemented by new ways adapted to different conditions.

The Daily Building News Service is one of the new agencies indispensible at this time for the sale of goods. It is a market report adapted specially to your business telling you where you may place your goods and when. A single order obtained by it in a year pays for the cost many times over.

THE NEW YORK BUILDING MATERIAL EXHIBIT is another such agency. Goods must be seen to be sold.

The Buyer's Eye is one of the best salesmen you can employ. Use it where ever you can. Your store is'nt sufficient. It's good, but people won't always go there. They prefer neutral ground where they can inspect at their ease. The New York Building Material Exhibit is a place of this character. It occupies 17,000 square feet in the Cammeyer Building, Sixth Avenue and Twentieth Street, in the center of the City, in the neighborhood of all the great architects' offices. It is for the display of all building materials, decorations, equipments. It is arranged to facilitate inspection. It is free, open to all. Architects, builders, contractors and the public use it. The purpose is to make it THE ENTIRE MARKET IN ONE HALL where the best and the newest can be seen. Saves the buyers time. Epitomises what the whole city has to offer within a stroll of a few hundred feet. Modern, this.

YOUR GOODS SHOULD BE THERE

It is at least worth investigating. A few minutes will fully post you. A postal card will bring you information. If it is of value to you, you need it; if you don't, no harm is done.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the Deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that is is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at the foot of this list.
